Syria Demands UN Sanctions Against Israel

Raps Support Of Palestine From 'Nations Abroad'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 16—UP — Syria Friday demanded that the UN impose economic sanctions against Israel for its attack on Syrian forces near the Sea of Galilee last Sunday and declared the issue in Palestine is "war or no war."

Syrian Ambassador Ahmed Shukairy told the UN Security Council that Israel's economic support from abroad — he mentioned no particular country — "is actually enabling Israel to commit these aggressions."

He reminded the council of Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser's notification to the UN Thursday that Egypt "is bound to deal with the situation herself, including the use of her armed forces, land, air and navy, with a view to insuring her safety and maintaining peace in the area."

Israeli Ambassador Abba S. Eban told the council that Nasser's threat "makes it necessary to declare from this Security Council table to the government of Egypt that if Israel is attacked, Israel will defend itself with every ounce of its strength."

Eban's statement echoed Jerusalem reports that Israeli Prime Minister David Ben Gurion had told a closed session of the Mapai party council.

"We shall not perish in 48 hours if we are attacked, nor will we be beaten in a matter of weeks. I doubt if we can be beaten."

Against this background of ominous statements, United States Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., and delegates of Russia, Britain, France, Turkey, Belgium, Nationalist China, Iran, New Zealand and Peru one-by-one "deplored" the Sunday attack on Syrian positions near the Biblical Sea of Galilee.

Most agreed that the council could reach no decision until a full report on the incident had been received from Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns chief of the UN Palestine truce supervision organization.

Shukairy, in a blistering attack on the "aggressive" policy of the Tel Aviv government, suggested that Israel was ripe for expulsion from the UN. He recalled previous decisions of the council censuring

NATO To Defend West Berlin From Seizure By Reds

PARIS Dec. 16—UP—The 15-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization announced Friday it will set up a new tactical NATO air force, with American planes and pilots, behind the Alps in northern Italy.

The NATO partners also accused Russia of flinging down a "new challenge to the free world" with "provocative" movies in the Middle East and Asia.

The NATO council ended a two-day meeting with a declaration stressing that "the security and welfare of Berlin should be considered as essential elements of the peace of the free world in the present international situation."

The western allies also served warning they would refuse to recognize the Communist East German government which is seeking to use its Soviet - granted "sover-

Good Fellows Fund Lags Behind Yuletide Demands

"Dear Good Fellows: I am a little boy of the age of eight. I have a sweet mother and a good daddy. My father has been ill and not able to work.

"If there is anything you can bring me, my mama and daddy, I would be very happy and my mama would be happy, too.

"Thank you."..... ..... ..... .....

Thus wrote the little boy as he strained to pen a few words to someone who might be able to afford him, his "sweet mother and good daddy" something to make them know that it is Christmas once again.

Although Good Fellows have received over $2,000, there is a long way to go before the fund will be large enough to spread around to all those who actually need help.

Christmas is only a few days away and many of our neighbors here in the Twin Cities are wondering if they will have any show at all of Yuletide spirit.

Navy Task Force Heads Southward To Polar Regions

CHRISTCHURCH, N.Z., Dec. 16—UP—A U.S. naval task force sailed for the Antarctic Friday, two days ahead of schedule because of reports the ice off the south Polar continent is breaking up earlier than expected.

Some 3,000 New Zealanders assembled on the waterfront to watch the ships sail, and the dominion naval command sent its best wishes for "the greatest success in your historic mission."

The force's first task will be to stand by for possible rescue duty during an unprecedented flight of eight U.S. planes from New Zealand to Antarctica. The planes are scheduled to take off at 4 a.m. Monday.

The ships sailed on such short notice that their tactical commander, Rear Adm. George J. Dufek, had to call off a planned fishing trip and sailors on shore leave had to be rounded up all over the Christchurch area.

An undetermined number of sailors were stranded.

A crewman of the Navy freighter Wyandot said just before departure that "37 of our boys missed the boat." It was believed that sailors from other ships also were stranded by the sudden departure.

"The ice is breaking up, and we must be on our way," Dufek said.

Partly Cloudy, Cooler Here Sat.

Partly cloudy and cooler today was the weatherman's forecast for northeast Louisiana.

Arkansas will be partly cloudy throughout Sunday, turning cooler Saturday night and Sunday.

Temperatures for the Monroe - West Monroe area Friday dipped to a low of 20 and rose as high as 47.

Westinghouse Offers $100 Loan To Striking Workers

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 16 (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. today offered to lend $100 cash to any striking or furloughed employe of the firm who needs money to provide "the essentials for a decent Christmas."

Production in 40 of the firm's biggest plants has been practically stalled by a strike of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers and the independent United Electrical Workers.

The UE called the loan offer a "nice gesture." The IUE said, "They (the company) have offered a bribe."

Neither union said specifically if it wanted its members to accept loans.

More than 50,000 workers are on strike and another 40,000 employes are furloughed or receiving only part-time work. The company says the strikers alone are losing $950,000 a day in wages.

A furloughed worker — or striker —must have lost 30 days consecutive work to qualify for the loan.

The big electric appliance firm did not comment on its own losses but other sources estimate production losses alone have passed 150 million dollars to date. That does not include maintenance costs.

Westinghouse also said it is unable to supply all of the home appliances that could be sold in the final weeks of the Christmas shopping season. Early supplies were pulled out of warehouses.

The loan offer was made by Gwilym A. Price, president and chairman of the board. He said: "Our employes have suffered

UN Assembly Kills Deal On Council Seat

Accord Between Yugoslavia And Philippines Fails

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 16—UP—The UN General Assembly, in a sharp rebuff to its president, failed Friday night to solve the deadlocked Security Council election despite a backstage agreement to decide the issue by drawing lots.

Assembly President Jose Maza of Chile announced that the Philippines and Yugoslavia, deadlocked through 34 earlier ballots, had drawn lots to see which should withdraw. The Philippines lost.

Under a "gentlemen's agreement," it was decided that the country winning the draw would serve only half the two-year term specified in the charter for non-permanent members of the council. The loser would then be elected to fill the "unexpired" term of the "resigned" candidate.

Maza, appealing to the assembly to approve the "coin-tossing deal," said he would personally assume "moral responsibility" for it.

Despite protests from many quarters, Maza ordered the assembly to proceed with the 35th ballot taken since the voting began last Oct. 14. He said the Philippines had requested it.

The delegates, in open revolt against the chair, refused to give any country the two-thirds majority required for election.

Result of the 35th ballot was: Yugoslavia 34; Philippines 19; Spain 2; Bulgaria, Italy, Sweden and Yemen, 1 each.

Maza suggested the assembly stay in session for 24 hours more. Turkey's Selim Sarper said it would be difficult to solve the issue in a single day and suggested an adjournment for 49 hours.

Maza then suggested that the as-

Cold Wave Rips Into South; Hard Freeze In Florida

By UNITED PRESS

The nation's third big cold wave plunged deep into the Southland Friday and brought frost warnings for northern Florida.

Temperatures in Dixie dived 20 degrees from Thursday's readings.

At mid-day the freezing line extended into southeastern Virginia, northern Alabama and northern Mississippi. Farther south temperatures were in the higher 30s or low 40s.

Scattered frost was forecast overnight for Florida with temperatures falling as low as 23 degrees in the Gainesville district. A chill 40 was forecast for the Everglades region.

Meanwhile southerly winds took the edge off the bitter cold in the Central Plains and Great Lakes areas, although to the north temperatures were still as low as 10 above zero at mid-day. Coldest was an even zero at Grand Forks, N. D.

A 'chinook" wind also swept down the east slopes of the central Rockies, skyrocketing the mercury to the 50s. Pueblo, Colo., had a 55, up 34 degrees from Thursday's cold.

Thurmond Would Impeach Members Of Supreme Court

FLORENCE, S. C., Dec. 16 (AP) — Sen. Thurmond (D-SC), the 1948 States Rights Democratic candidate for president, says he is ready to vote to impeach every member of the U. S. Supreme Court.

Addressing the prosegregation Citizens Councils of Florence County last night, Thurmond attacked the court for its ruling that racially segregated public schools are unconstitutional.

Public Service Chairman In Mississippi To Fight ICC Rail Desegregation

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 16 (AP)—The chairman-elect of the Mississippi Public Service Commission said today he would fight a federal order requiring de-segregation in railroad trains and depots.

Rubel Phillips told the Jackson Daily News in a telephone interview from his Corinth office he plans to confer Monday with Bucky Moore and Norman Johnson, the other two commissioners-elect, to formulate plans for the fight.

The new commission takes office Jan. 16.

The Interstate Commerce Commission called for de-segregation in railroad trains, depots, waiting rooms, restaurants, and rest rooms by Jan. 12. The order applies only to passengers in interstate travel.

When the order was issued, Gov. Hugh White said he would leave it to the next governor, J. P. Coleman, who takes office Jan. 17.

Yesterday, Vernon Johnson, general agent for the Illinois Central Railroad in Mississippi, said the IC would comply "as much as possible" with the ICC order.

He ordered removed signs marking "colored" and "white" facilities.

Philips said de-segregated passenger stations would conflict with Mississippi law.

Coleman said he believed the state has "every right in the world to regulate waiting rooms within its borders."

He plans to ask the 1956 Legislature for laws insuring segregation in depots.

Bricker To Run As 'Favorite Son' In Ohio Primary

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) said today he will run as a "favorite son" candidate in the May 8 Ohio primary with the hope that President Eisenhower will seek a second term.

Bricker, who supported the late Sen. Robert A. Taft in a losing battle with Eisenhower in the 1952 convention, said he joins "with other Ohio Republicans in restating our loyalty to President Eisenhower and our desire that he stand for re-election, if in his own good judgment, he should do so."

Bricker's action was interpreted as intended to give Eisenhower additional time to make up his

On some occasions one little detail "mars" what might have been a perfect setup.

This is what happened in the case of one of the thousands of contestants trying for a solution to this week's Morning World cross word puzzle which carried a jackpot of $575.

Mrs. R. N. Cochran, 1105 North 7th St., Monroe, missed the solution by one letter, and there were no other contestants able to work out the winning combination. Mrs. Cochran, in working number 26 across added an "A" and an "R" to spell out the word "MARS," when the correct solution could have arrived at by penciling-in an "A" and a "P," to form the word "MAPS."

The jackpot for next week's puzzle which will be published in the Monday and Tuesday editions of the World will be worth $600.

Bengals Come From Behind To Win, 27-14

Reeves And King Power Tigers To Second-Half Win

By TED HECKATHORN
Morning World Sports Writer

RESERVE, Dec. 16—Neville High School won its first state "AA" football championship in 44 years here tonight, following almost the same pattern as they did in the state semi - finals last week against DeRidder High School by overcoming a two-touchdown Reserve lead.

After an 85-yard pass play to end Wayne Bassett which accounted for the initial Neville TD, the Tigers roared back in the second half, scoring one in the third and two in the fourth with Terry Reeves setting each of them up, and Billy King scoring all three.

The stadium, which has a seating capacity of 3,600, was only two-thirds filled for this important tussle. At least one-third of the people on this chilly night made the trip from Monroe, and were rewarded by the sterling King-Reeves finish.

In the first half, it was all Reserve. The Wildcats piled up six first down to Neville's two, gained 140 yards from scrimmage and 77 yards passing to Neville's 25 and 100, and scored twice.

Quarterback Neymour Delaneuville was the big difference in the first half, completing three passes, one for a touchdown to speedy halfback George Terrio, and scoring one himself after setting it up with two more completions. He also scored an extra point on a pass from placement kicker, Farrol Weber, and Weber kicked the other from placement.

The Bengals first score in the opening half came midway in the second period after they seemingly were mired on their own 15-yard line. Elton Upshaw supposedly handed off to Spec Lewis, who was piled up in the line by a host of Reserve tacklers, while Elton kept the ball and fired a long pass to ends Glen Bassett who gathered it in on the 50 and outdistanced the Reserve defenders to pay dirt. King's kick for conversion was low, and the Tigers left the field trailing 14-6.

But they came out for the second half and scored seven points in less than a minute to come within one point of the Wildcats, and gave new hope to the Tiger faithful. Neville kicked off to open the half, but Reserve fumbled on the kickoff return and Jimmy Sparks recovered for Neville on the Wildcats' 30 after a 35-yard runback. In three plays the Tigers had scored, with Reeves counting for 16 yards of the distance to the three, and King bursting across.

Early in the fourth quarter, the Tigers drove 75 yards for the go-ahead tally, with Reeves accounting for three first downs to the Reserve nine, from where King again went over.

The insurance touchdown, with Reserve desperately trying for another TD with long, incomplete passes, was again set up by Reeves. After the Wildcats had gambled and lost on fourth down on the Neville 41, Reeves broke loose to the 27 from where King went all the way for the final marker. He kicked his third successive placement in the half to make the final score 27-14.

The chief defensive player for the Wildcats was Tom Reno, who was a constant thorn in the Neville running attack in the first half, and for the Tigers it was the entire forward wall, linebackers and safety men in the second half,

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 16 (AP)—The chairman-elect of the Mississippi Public Service Commission said today he would fight a federal order requiring de-segregation in railroad trains and depots.

Rubel Philips told the Jackson Daily News in a telephone interview from his Corinth office he plans to confer Monday with Bucky Moore and Norman Johnson, the other two commissioners-elect, to formulate plans for the fight.

The new commission takes office Jan. 16.

The Interstate Commerce Commission called for de-segregation in railroad trains, depots, waiting rooms, restaurants, and rest rooms by Jan. 12. The order applies only to passengers in interstate travel.

When the order was issued, Gov. Hugh White said he would leave it to the next governor, J. P. Coleman, who takes office Jan. 17.

Yesterday, Vernon Johnson, general agent for the Illinois Central Railroad in Mississippi, said the IC would comply "as much as possible" with the ICC order.

He ordered removed signs marking "colored" and "white" facilities.

Philips said de-segregated passenger stations would conflict with Mississippi law.

Coleman said he believed the state has "every right in the world to regulate waiting rooms within its borders."

He plans to ask the 1956 Legislature for laws insuring segregation in depots.

Bricker To Run As 'Favorite Son' In Ohio Primary

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) said today he will run as a "favorite son" candidate in the May 8 Ohio primary with the hope that President Eisenhower will seek a second term.

Bricker, who supported the late Sen. Robert A. Taft in a losing battle with Eisenhower in the 1952 convention, said he joins "with other Ohio Republicans in restating our loyalty to President Eisenhower and our desire that he stand for re-election, if in his own good judgment, he should do so."

Bricker's action was interpreted as intended to give Eisenhower additional time to make up his

Monroyan's Cross Word Puzzle Entry Misses Solution By Only One Letter

By BONANZA BILL

On some occasions one little detail "mars" what might have been a perfect setup.

This is what happened in the case of one of the thousands of contestants trying for a solution to this week's Morning World cross word puzzle which carried a jackpot of $575.

Mrs. R. N. Cochran, 1105 North 7th St., Monroe, missed the solution by one letter, and there were no other contestants able to work out the winning combination. Mrs. Cochran, in working number 26 across added an "A" and an "R" to spell out the word "MARS," when the correct solution could have arrived at by penciling-in an "A" and a "P," to form the word "MAPS."

The jackpot for next week's puzzle which will be published in the Monday and Tuesday editions of the World will be worth $600.

Here is an explanation of the more difficult clues to this week's puzzle:

Reeves And King Power Tigers To Second-Half Win

By TED HECKATHORN
Morning World Sports Writer

RESERVE, Dec. 16—Neville High School won its first state "AA" football championship in 44 years here tonight, following almost the same pattern as they did in the state semi - finals last week against DeRidder High School by overcoming a two-touchdown Reserve lead.

After an 85-yard pass play to end Wayne Bassett which accounted for the initial Neville TD, the Tigers roared back in the second half, scoring one in the third and two in the fourth with Terry Reeves setting each of them up, and Billy King scoring all three.

The stadium, which has a seating capacity of 3,600, was only two-thirds filled for this important tussle. At least one-third of the people on this chilly night made the trip from Monroe, and were rewarded by the sterling King-Reeves finish.

In the first half, it was all Reserve. The Wildcats piled up six first down to Neville's two, gained 140 yards from scrimmage and 77 yards passing to Neville's 25 and 100, and scored twice.

Quarterback Neymour Delaneuville was the big difference in the first half, completing three passes, one for a touchdown to speedy halfback George Terrio, and scoring one himself after setting it up with two more completions. He also scored an extra point on a pass from placement kicker, Farrol Weber, and Weber kicked the other from placement.

The Bengals first score in the opening half came midway in the second period after they seemingly were mired on their own 15-yard line. Elton Upshaw supposedly handed off to Spec Lewis, who was piled up in the line by a host of Reserve tacklers, while Elton kept the ball and fired a long pass to ends Glen Bassett who gathered it in on the 50 and outdistanced the Reserve defenders to pay dirt. King's kick for conversion was low, and the Tigers left the field trailing 14-6.

But they came out for the second half and scored seven points in less than a minute to come within one point of the Wildcats, and gave new hope to the Tiger faithful. Neville kicked off to open the half, but Reserve fumbled on the kickoff return and Jimmy Sparks recovered for Neville on the Wildcats' 30 after a 35-yard runback. In three plays the Tigers had scored, with Reeves counting for 16 yards of the distance to the three, and King bursting across.

Early in the fourth quarter, the Tigers drove 75 yards for the go-ahead tally, with Reeves accounting for three first downs to the Reserve nine, from where King again went over.

The insurance touchdown, with Reserve desperately trying for another TD with long, incomplete passes, was again set up by Reeves. After the Wildcats had gambled and lost on fourth down on the Neville 41, Reeves broke loose to the 27 from where King went all the way for the final marker. He kicked his third successive placement in the half to make the final score 27-14.

The chief defensive player for the Wildcats was Tom Reno, who was a constant thorn in the Neville running attack in the first half, and for the Tigers it was the entire forward wall, linebackers and safety men in the second half,

Barham Charges Kennon Pressing Banks For Aid To Preaus Campaign

HOUMA, Dec. 16, —(Special)—Lt. Gov. Capt Barham charged here today that Gov. Kennon is attempting to shakedown banks with state funds on deposit for campaign funds for his candidate for governor.

The lieutenant governor who is a candidate for re-election on the Morrison ticket said "Kennon is talking to every bank in this state with state deposits and telling them that they have to make contributions to the campaign of his candidate. "I am surprised and amazed that a man who ran on a good government program four years ago would try to go back to the same abuses that he criticized in the preceding administration."

Barham said that he had direct evidence of these attempts by the state administration to conduct such shakedown. Gov. Kennon a few nights ago publicly endorsed candidate Fred Preaus of Farmerville.

Chep Morrison who spoke following Barham made a plea for the independent voters "to get behind the only independent candidate, Chep Morrison, who has a chance of winning in this campaign. "The only sound course to pursue for the independent voters is to consolidate their great strength behind Chep and Cap," Morrison said. "We hate to see this great strength scattered among three other candidates who have no chance to win. It is up to the independent voters with no axe to grind to make certain that their vote counts and that they don't throw it away on one of the other three independent candidates. By uniting behind Chep and Cap they can assure the election of the ticket which can win and which has a constructive, sound program for the future of Louisiana.

"Certainly the newspaper poll made public yesterday is better evidence of the strength of the candidates than the daily mouthings of the three candidates who try to say they are going to win. The newspaper poll showed that 40 per cent of the people questioned personally favored me and my ticket as the best qualified. The other independent candidates combined received only a small per cent of the votes in the poll.

"We have a real challenge in this campaign not to go back to the er-grab, spoils dominated, promise-breaking, double-taxing administration which dominated Louisiana for his own personal benefit from 1948 to 1952."

Morrison said that he was surprised "at some of the rubbish my opponents are handing out."

"In the morning paper," he declared, "the former governor who is a candidate was quoted as having said in north Louisiana that I doubled the sales tax of New Orleans. This silly talk needs hardly any answer but it demonstrated clearly the irresponsibility of that candidate. The city sales tax was imposed by the Long-old regular machine back in 1940. It was put on a star session council meeting without notice and over the protest of the people."

Man Held Here Wanted In Ariz.

The Ouachita Parish sheriff's office said Friday that W. A. Powell, Jr., 30, who is wanted by Yuma, Ariz., authorities, has been picked up by the department and charged with having no driving license.

Officers here said Yuma police want Powell for grand theft and moving mortgaged property.

According to the sheriff's department, Powell will be released to the Yuma authorities.

Real Estate Board To Convene Monday

The Monroe-West Monroe Real Estate board will meet Monday night at the Lotus Club, according to A. J. Lester, president of the realtors' group.

Lester said the meeting Monday would mark the organization's final meeting of the year and urged all members to attend. Year end business will be discussed at the dinner meeting, according to Lester.

The Monroe-West Monroe Real Estate board is an organization of leading real estate dealers in the Twin Cities and is affiliated with the state and national organization.

Crude Stocks Down

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16—UP—Crude oil stocks totaled 256, 290,000 barrels on Dec. 10, a decrease of 773,000 barrels from the previous week, the Bureau of Mines reported Friday.

Texas had 121,356 barrels, a decrease of 697 barrels. Other stocks on hand: Kansas — 7,744 barrels, up 82; Louisiana — 16,355, down 439; Oklahoma — 21,245, down 181; California — 29,536, up 177.

Farm Federation Favors Flexible Props, Soil Bank

CHICAGO, Dec. 16 (AP)—The American Farm Bureau Federation is on record in favor of flexible government price supports and a proposal for a soil bank.

The soil bank proposal won approval without opposition at the group's final session of its annual convention yesterday. But Southern cotton growers raised a cry against the okay for flexible price supports.

The cotton growers sought yesterday to get delegates to the Federation's 37th annual meeting to back rigid 90 per cent of parity supports.

H. L. Wingate, president of the Georgia Farm Bureau, led the fight against flexible supports. He said he was backed by delegates from South Carolina, North Carolina, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Kentucky, Texas and Florida.

The Southern bloc tried four times to get delegates to exempt cotton from their recommendation for flexible supports. The bloc also represented growers of peanuts and tobacco.

Under the present flexible system, Wingate said, price supports on cotton may drop to 75 per cent of parity next year, This, he said, would force farmers to sell below actual costs.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to the prices they pay.

The soil bank recommendation is designed to cut present surpluses and avert future surpluses by cinverting a percentage of crop land to grasses and legumes.

Delegates reelected Charles B. Shuman of Sullivan, Ill., president.

The federation is the nation's biggest farm organization. It claims it represents 1,600,000 farm families.

Army Seizes Big U. S. Copper Mines In Chilean Strike

SANTIAGO, Chile, Dec. 16—UP—The three largest American-owned copper mines in Chile were placed under army rule Friday to end a strike of nearly 14,000 workers, now in its third day.

Military commanders took over control at Chuquicamata, world's largest open pit copper mine, as well as at Potrerillos and El Teniente mines. The former two are operated by local subsidiaries of the Anaconda Copper Co. and the latter by the Kennecott Copper Co.

An executive decree empowered the defense ministry to take any measures necessary to resume operation of the mines, including drafting the strikers into the Army or hiring new workers.

Strong detachments were assigned to back up any decisions made by military commanders at the mines.

Continued operation of the properties is vital to Chile's economic and fiscal welfare since copper exports are the country's chief source of dollar exchange and internal revenue.

Management of both companies affected stressed that there was no direct dispute between them and the workers, but between the government and the workers.

Korean War Bills Denied By Allies

SEOUL, Dec. 16 (AP)—The Allies tonight denied a report that South Korea yesterday presented bills for 684 million dollars for utilities and land used by Allied soldiers since the onset of the Korea war.

An official statement by the Allied command said no bills were presented and no specific sums of money discussed in a meeting between Finance Minister Kim Hun Chul and Maj. Gen. John W. Harmony, the Allied negotiator.

Korean finance ministry officials, major newspapers in Seoul, Korea's two nationwide wire services and the semiofficial government newspaper had said South Korea asked $684,600,000.

The Allied denial said the purpose of the meeting was "to restate the unified command's position that its contribution in services and supplies far exceeded that of the Republic of Korea during the conflict which started in 1950."

Coroner Reveals He Met Woman On Night Of Slaying

BLUE RIDGE, Ga., Dec. 16 (AP)—Coroner James Weldon Pack, Fannin County Republican chairman, admitted today that he drank liquor with Ida Lou York the night of her Hell's Hollow death but denied slaying the comely divorcee.

The tall, bespectacled 48-year-old county official and party boss testified at his trial for murder in superior court.

He said that shortly after taking "two or three little drinks" with the 38-year-old mother of three he lapsed into a diabetic coma. While he was unconscious, he suggested, somebody must have shot the woman in the abdomen and dumped her from his car to die in the darkness on a lonely Hell's Hollow road.

More men than women are hospitalized for mental disorders in the United States, says a report by statisticians of a life insurance company.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Smith Set For Saturday

MARION, Dec. 16 —(Special)—Funeral services will ;be held Saturday at 10 a.m. for Mrs. J. Duff Smith, 65, wife of a former Union parish state representative, who died at her home here early today of a heart attack.

Rev. John Cutreer will officiate at the services to be held in the Antioch Church. Interment will be in the Antioch Cemetery.

Mrs. Smith and her husband had returned to Marion about a year ago from Angola where Mr. Smith acted as chaplain.

She was a member of the Eastern Star and very active in Baptist circles.

She is survived by her husband; two sons, J. D. Smith, Dubach, James P. Smith, Farmerville; five daughters, Mrs. David Hollis, of Ferriday, Mrs. Clarence Brantley, Marion, Mrs. Garland Dasson, Bernice, Mrs. James Hicks, Farmerville, and Mrs. Arthur Parsons, Baton Rouge; 20 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be close friends of the family.

Holidays Start Saturday At Tech

RUSTON, Dec. 16 —(Special)—Christmas holidays at Louisiana Tech will begin at noon Saturday and will end January 3.

The Christmas season was ushered in at the college when Les Brown and his "Band of Renown" appeared here on Dec. 3 to play for the annual all - campus concert and dance under auspices of the Tech Student Union.

The next event for students was President and Mrs. R. L. Ropp's open house from 3-5 p. m., Sunday, Dec. 11, followed at 6 p. m. by the annual candlelighting service held in Howard auditorium.

At the conclusion of the service, lights on the campus Christmas tree, dormitory decorations and candles in the windows of Aswell and Adams hall were lighted.

On Wednesday morning, classes were dismissed for the annual carol service held in Howard auditorium. The Tech symphony orchestra and various other groups and individuals presented Yuletide songs.

Wednesday night, the dining hall staff treated Tech students to a special Christmas banquet. The menu for the semi - formal evening was highlighted by turkey and dressing.

In addition to these all - campus activities, Christmas parties were given by fraternities, sororities, religious organizations and various other groups at the college.

New Line Goes Into Gilbert

WINNSBORO, Dec. 16—(Special)—Construction got underway Thursday by workmen on a new line into the Gilbert community to provide residents with telephone service.

Preliminary planning and engineering were completed recently. The new line, to be built of the latest-type "long span" steel telephone wire developed by Southern Bell especially for the most effective rural telephone service, is expected to serve approximately eighty subscribers. The subscribers will be connected with the Winnsboro exchange, Southern Bell Manager A. B. Kessler said.

Dewey Cottingham, Southern Bell man especially trained and experienced in developing this type of telephone line, is supervising the construction. They have recently been calling on farmers to work out details, and found them very enthusiastic about the new line to be furnished as a part of Southern Bell's activity to bring the convenience of the telephone to families in rural areas.

Presidential Hats In The Ring

The old saying that "time and tide wait for no man" is well illustrated by developments of the last several days in the confused presidential race involving both Democratic and Republican aspirants.

According to "time and tide," the hour approaches for ambitious leaders to make their decisions. They must do this, if they plan active participation in the primary campaigns that will get under way early next year.

Three avowed Democratic presidential candidates have emerged—Former Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, the 1952 Democratic nominee who was overwhelmingly defeated by Gen. Eisenhower as the GOP standard-bearer; Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who led the field on the first ballot at the 1952 Democratic National Convention; and Gov. Frank Lausche, serving his fifth term as chief executive of the State of Ohio, whose candidacy as yet is restricted to a favorite son basis but easily may blossom out.

In addition, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York is a potential candidate, who in all likehood will at least have the solid instructions of the nation's largest voting delegation at next summer's Democratic conclave in Chicago.

Stevenson has decided to put his fortunes to the test by entering crucial Democratic primaries in California, Florida, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Minnesota.

He lost all of these commonwealths to Ike in the 1952 general election.

Kefauver in 1952 had the California delegation along with others, and is still rated as a strong contender up and down the West Coast. Should he score a resounding victory there in next June's Democratic primary, the results might be fatal to Adlai's hopes.

Meanwhile, Republican pressure in favor of an early declaration by President Eisenhower whether he will seek re-election is piling up hourly.

It is being spearheaded at present by Senate Minority Leader Knowland of California; but the West Coast solon has wide support from many quarters in his blunt insistence that Ike should make his intentions known next month.

This mounting pressure should not be regarded as disrespectful to Ike, but merely as a recognition that politics is a realistic game, where deadlines and time limits are involved and cannot be bypassed.

Knowland's reasoning, backed by other highly influential Republicans, is as follows:

If Ike wants to run for a second term, he will of course have no Republican opposition worthy of the name; but if he should decline for personal reasons and those of health to run, then the Republican Party would need desperately a long period in which to realign its campaign and decide on the best available candidate.

The argument advanced by Sen. Knowland publicly and hundreds of other party leaders privately is that the present uncertainty concerning Ike's plans is a demoralizing influence on Republican party efforts.

Every practical politician familiar with the American two-party system and its operations should realize the grains of truth in this presentation, as advanced by Sen. Knowland.

The Republicans, particularly those who are up for re-election to the national Congress, complain that their party is drifting like a rudderless ship, and they are losing political ground to the point where Democratic boasts of a 1956 election sweep are assuming the ominous thunder of prophecy.

Alarm and unrest among Republicans in the Farm Belt, which in effect controls Republican destinies, is particularly manifested; and even the rock-ribbed veteran Congressmen from these districts are speaking blunt warnings in party councils. Demands for the early resignation of Agriculture Secretary Benson are being heard throughout Washington.

Through a turn of fate—President Eisenhower's heart attack—a political situation has been neutralized if not reversed; and what appeared to be certain Republican victory in next year's presidential election now is a matter open to grave doubt, with GOP hopes depending upon many uncertain factors.

16 New United Nations Members

The United Nations, which recently observed its tenth anniversary, has admitted 16 new members, breaking a deadlock lasting for a decade between the Communist bloc and the Western powers.

Twelve of the new members are classed, for convenience, as anti-Communist. Four are Red satellites.

On the non-Communist side are Ireland, Portugal, Italy, Austria, Finland and Spain, in Europe; and Libya, Jordan, Ceylon, Nepal, Cambodia and Laos, of the fast-growing Asian-Arab bloc.

The Red satellites admitted are Albania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Romania.

The theoretical grouping of the United Nations General Assembly, with 76 members in all, now is 65 anti-Communist to nine Communist members. Yet this is merely on the basis of professed ideology. In practice, the distinction between these ideologies often breaks down when a vote is cast; and the tendency is to align into power blocs, of which the Arab-Asian group now is perhaps the most vocal and aggressive.

How easily these blocs may be swayed is well illustrated by Soviet Russia's successful wooing of Egypt through large-scale sale of arms wnich the United States refused to make available.

Viewing the situation from a power bloc standpoint the Western allies gained six new Assembly votes, the Arab-Asian group an equal number, and the Communist four.

Percentage wise, the biggest gain went to the Reds, the next biggest to the Arab-Asians, and the smallest to the Western allies.

Nationalist China, despite bullying by the United States, vetoed Outer Mongolia, a Soviet Russian puppet state, and Russia, casting its seventy-sixth veto, thwarted the entry of Japan—this of course, in the Security Council where both Nationalist China and Russia hold permanent seats.

The United States, which has never used the veto in the Security Council, politely abstained from voting where the Red satellites were involved; and there were other such gestures by other nations.

Many patriotic Americans are opposed solidly to the United Nations, and even more opposed to various of its progeny such as the meddling UNESCO. But others, including such conservative spokesmen as former President Herbert Hoover and the American Legion, urge continued American participation in the hope the agency some day may become an effective force for world peace.

If it is to become effective, certainly its membership should be widened from time to time and made representative of world opinion.

A Matter Of Opinion

Immigration has been, throughout our history, precisely what is meant by the word, the migration of individuals to the United States from other countries. When we needed people to populate our country, immigration was encouraged. That is how the ancestors of all of us came here from somewhere in Europe, Asia, or Africa.

Now along comes Senator Clifford Case of New Jersey with a new theory. He said:

"We no longer are able to think of our immigration policies as an isolated question of internal concern alone. What we do is watched by the world. It is still another arm of our foreign policy."

Let us analyze what this means. According to Senator Case's notion, the needs and welfare of the United States have ceased to be important. What we Americans believe to be true about the United States does not matter but what Krishna Menon, who bedevils us, thinks is of paramount importance. Shall we admit a million or two Hindus to the United States just to prove to Nehru that we do not suffer from race prejudice as Dr. Malan does in South Africa? Or, shall we admit a million Italians every year because Italy is overcrowded and needs to get rid of part of its population?

Senator Case has obviously not thought out the ultimate consequences of his statement. Immigration cannot possibly be an arm of our foreign policy because it is essentially domestic—a question of the size and nature of our population, the need for workers in agriculture or industry. True, Italy would like to export tailors or chefs to improve our appearance and our digestion, but do we need more tailors and chefs?

What do we require to improve the productivity of our population? At present, shortages are in unexpected areas. We are short of engineers, chemists, mathematicians, policemen, teachers. From what countries are we to import such persons?

The Russians, with rare foresight, got hold of engineers and scientists, immediately after World War II, principally from Germany. They did remarkably well by themselves with these highly-trained, experienced Germans whom we rejected because they had been Nazis or were associated with Nazis.

We let some of the best minds in Europe fall into the hands of our enemies when we might have found them useful to us.

I should imagine that Senator Case and such will view this with horror and alarm, but is it not worse for us that the Russians have been able to develop the H-bomb, the schnorkel submarine, the guided missile, because of these German scientists? The country needs brains; we can supply our own machinery. The proof that we need trained brains is obvious in the fact that we have such a shortage of engineers; there is no shortage of politicians.

No law is immutable in the United States. We are neither Persians nor Medes. It is obvious that some day the McCarran-Walter Act will be revised, amended, rewritten, as every law is, from time to time. For years, labor leaders and A.D.A'ers have demanded the amendment or even repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act but whenever they have controlled Congress, as, for instance, its most recent session, they have avoided the subject.

If Senator Case wishes to establish his sincerity, why does he not bring in a revision of the McCarran-Walter Act? Senators Ives and Saltonstall and Case brought up some kind of measure but it was inadequate and nothing was done about it. What Case urges is that 1950 instead of 1920 be used as a base for the national origins quota. This does not meet our problem. It may get the senators a few additional votes on Election Day.

But this question of immigration is too important, too complex to be settled either to please emotionally excited groups in this country or the need of politicians to gather batches of votes. It is part of our problem of national survival as a free people. It is part of our problem of maintaining our civilization.

To some, many of them Americans of old lineage, it is not important to save the distinctive American civilization; what does seem important is that we should kowtow to every currently neutralist country so that some of them might turn their smirking countenances toward us. It is this conflict of view that may be resolved in the election of 1956.

Federal Aid To Schools

WASHINGTON — One of the thorniest issues awaiting members of Congress when they return to the Hill in January is federal aid to school construction legislation.

Shortly before Congress recessed last summer, the House Education and Labor committee reported out a bill that would give Uncle Sam the responsibility of providing funds to help build needed classrooms for the nation's school children.

The bill clearly stipulates, however, that the federal government shall exercise no "direction, supervision, or control over the personnel, curriculum, or program of instruction of any school or school system."

Introduced by Rep. Augustine B. Kelley, Dem. of Pa., the measure now reposes in the House Rules Committee, but is expected to be called up for action in the House early next year. No real effort was made to bring it out during the last hectic days of the past session for fear it would be lost in the shuffle.

The House bill, as finally reported, culminated weeks of public hearings during which some 65 witnesses testified, not to mention untold hours spent in executive session and the consideration of more than 50 separate measures.

The Senate has not reported a school construction bill but apparently is awaiting the fate of the House bill.

Much has happened since that hot July 28, when the House Education and Labor Committee submitted its bill to the Rules Committee. All 48 states, as well as the outlying territories, have held state conferences on education, preceded by local meetings, and climaxed by the huge, nation-wide White House Conference on Education held here earlier this month.

Congress appropriated the sum of $1,320,000 to finance the state and national conferences, in keeping with the desire expressed by President Eisenhower in his State of the Union message last January, that these conferences be held to explore such "serious" problems as teacher and classroom shortages.

Regardless of what the conferences contribute toward the solution of these problems, one concrete result already discernible is the mass awakening of citizens to school needs and education problems in general.

Because of this mass awakening, practically every member of Congress, upon returning to the Capitol in January, may expect a barrage of letters from his or her constituents on the issue of federal aid to school construction, particularly from parents of school-age children who, naturally, are vitally concerne adbout education trends in this country.

Delegates to the White House Conference, by a ratio of about two to one, approved federal aid for school construction. In his filmed opening address to the conferees, President Eisenhower suggested that the federal government should step in with "credit and funds, where necessary" to meet the acute shortage of school buildings. Even stronger backing for federal aid for school construction was voiced by Marion B. Folsom, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, on the closing night of the conference.

Some of the biggest stumbling blocks in the path of enactment of federal aid to school construction legislation are: (1) Attempts to make federal aid contingent on compliance with the Supreme Court's decision outlawing racial segregation in public schools; (2) variance over a formula for distribution of the federal funds; and (3) controversies over the amount of federal supervision necessary in the allocation and spending of the money.

Some opponents to federal aid to schools in any form contend that even with a construction aid program will come insidious federal controls that will weaken the autonomy in the field of education that the states have guarded zealously through the years. Some of the delegates to the White House Conference suggested that this could be circumvented by having Congress authorize the return to the states of funds necessary to bring the school buildings up to par.

One of the hottest controversies is expected to arise over the segregation issue. An effort was made to attach an amendment to the Kelley bill stipulating that federal funds not be made available to states failing to comply with the Supreme Court's edict barring segregation.

Although the amendment was defeated in committee, the printed report on the bill carries a minority opinion, signed by four Democrats and two Republicans, stating that failure to include the amendment "will place the National Government in the immoral and illegal position of granting funds to states and political subdivisions that have already warned that they will spend his money illegally."

The Kelley bill would provide 400 million dollars a year for four years, the funds to be divided among the states in accordance with the number of school-age children in each state. It calls for a flat $11.30 per school-age child between the ages of 5 and 7, inclusive.

Based on this formula, Louisiana's annual share of the federal money would be $8,234,496.

Senator Lister Hill, Dem. of Ala., chairman of the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare, favors federal aid in accordance with the ability of the states to finance construction of their schools. He is backing a bill that would give the poorer states a greater share of the funds per pupil, ranging from $22.14 for five southern states down to $7.23 for Delaware.

Sham Education

Sincerity is the essential element in any human action, and education is no exception. There are a few new ways of teaching being introduced that lack that essential quality and should be quietly dropped. This because they are likely to give the children a wrong impression of their ability and therefore of their place in the adult world.

Why, for example, have a second-year grade in elementary school to read a story and then write a "Book Report," a critique as it were? The children assume an attitude of wisdom and authority when they are given a task with this high-sounding name. It is known as "the buildup," "strengthening of the personality, of dignity." It is sham and unworthy of sound educational principles.

An important civic group sitting in deliberation of juvenile delinquency invites two high-school students, 15 years of age, to sit in with them and give their ideas on the subject. That is a sort of nonsense that we should not approve. What those children say will not modify what those responsible adults think and do to the extent of a single comma. Why the show and the sham? What effect will it have on the children?

Children, and please understand that boys and girls in their early teens are children, should not be allowed to believe that they have ability, comprehension or skill in fields that are beyond their experiences. They should not be made to feel a load of responsibility that they have no way to carry out. That sort of thing does not strengthen, does not add power nor dignity to the children.

Our young people need guidance, fine leadership and a job to do. To share in a civic project, to do a good piece of work in school routine, this guidance and leadership must be evident and it must be authoritative. If children did not need these, the schools, the teachers and the leaders of youth would be unnecessary. The children could be on their own.

To be sure, social problems can be discussed in the schools with profit to the students — provided always that the discussions are guided and led by understanding people who are sincere in their dealings with their classes. There can be trips to the various departments of government. There can be studies made and reports written to the great gain of the students. But that is not to be made a matter of public notice, given apparenly grave consideration by the city fathers. It must be a sincere study by students who are not to be placed in the light of an advisory body to the responsible authorities. That is unfair to the children.

GOP Faces Uphill Fight For Senate In 1956

WASHINGTON, — With or without President Eisenhower, Republicans face an uphill battle to regain control of the senate in 1956, with the odds against their success.

Democrats currently hold a 49-47 edge and must defend only 16 seats next year, against 17 for the Republicans. Moreover, a Congressional Quarterly survey indicates 12 of the Republican seats could switch, while only five of the Democratic seats are in danger.

Republican leaders say their best chances for gains are in Nevada, New York, Oregon, and Washington. They also entertain hopes for Kentucky. Democratic strategists list Ohio, Maryland, Connecticut, Colorado, Pennsylvania, and Indiana as the states where they could pick up seats. They see some hope for Democratic candidates in California, Idaho, Illinois, Wisconsin, Utah, and Iowa.

If Ike Runs

Republican chances will improve, of course, if the president seeks re-election. In Washington and Oregon, for instance, the incumbent governors, who also are the top vote-getters in their party, have said they will run for the senate only if Mr. Eisenhower heads the ticket.

Intra - party fending is sure to be a factor in several races. Republicans smile as Democrats bicker in Kentucky, California, and Maryland. But in Maryland there are rifts in the GOP. Republicans also are snarling at each other in Indiana, Pennsylvania, Utah, Wisconsin, and Missouri.

Democrats will be exploiting farm discontent in the midwest and hoping their recent victories in Pennsylvania, and Connecticut municipal elections have set the pattern for 1956.

Most Will Try Again

Sen. Alan Bible (D. Nev.) has announced his retirement, but only two other incumbents are considered doubtful starters. Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D N. Y.), 77, says he is still undecided. Sen. Eugene D. Millikin (R. Colo.), 64, says the "assumption is" that he will be a candidate, but his health is poor.

The hottest races may turn up in Ohio, if Gov. Frank J. Lausche (D.) decides to run for the seat held by Sen. George H. Bender (R.); in Pennsylvania, if Joseph F. Clark (D., reform mayor of Philadelphia, tackles Sen. James H. Duff (R.); in Oregon, if Gov. Paul Patterson (R.) is pitted against ex-Republican Sen. Wayne Morse (D.); and in Washington, if Gov. Arthur P. Langlie (R) takes on Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D.).

Two tough primary battles are in prospect. In Kentucky Sen. Earle C. Clements (D.) faces a challenge from an ally of his old political enemy, Gov.-elect A. B. (Happy) Chandler. In Georgia, a race may develop between Sen. Walter F. George (D.), dean of the senate, and ex-Gov. Herman Talmadge (D.).

RIPLEY'S—Believe It Or Not!

Worry Clinic

By Dr. George W. Crane

Shakespeare used music as a psychological test of criminality. And David employed it to ward off attacks of insanity on the part of King Saul. Modern psychologists are also using it for mental patients. But it is likewise, a continuing bulwark for the soul of mankind, so urge your teen-agers to get all the musical experience they can.

Case Q-324: Marcia B., aged 28, is a very popular music teacher.

"Dr. Crane, don't you think music is an essential course in the school system?" she asked.

"I find, however, that many parents have the idea that music is a 'frill' or non-essential in the curriculum.

"But don't psychologists recommend music for mental patients."

Shakespeare employed music as a yardstick for evaluating personality when he said:

"The man that hath no music in himself,

"Nor is not moved with concord of sweet sounds,

"Is fit for treason, stratagems and spoils."

In my college textbook "Psychology Applied", I have devoted an entire chapter to the "Psychology of Music and Morale", and I opened that chapter with Shakespeare's discerning quotation.

"Music is the only language," said John Erskine, "in which you cannot say a mean or sarcastic thing."

Music is also an international language, understood by Russians and French, Germans and English, even though we may not converse in the same tongue.

Last Easter when our daughter Judy was in Italy, she reported that she couldn't understand the Italian church service, but she felt at home because the hymns were familiar.

Music is also the melodic Pegasus on which our spirits may soar above this mundane earth as we become exhilarated with lofty emotions of love and unselfishness.

But music can also inflame and produce warlike moods, so the Marseillaisse has actually been forbidden to the French soldiery at times to prevent untoward incidents in time of crisis.

King Saul depended on David's playing at the harp to soothe his tortured spirit and prevent an attack of madness.

And in modern times we have found a similar great value in music. A few months ago, Drs. Raymond B. Cattell and Jean C. Anderson thus reported their use of music with the patients at Manteno State Hospital in Illinois.

This excellent research by these University of Illinois psychologists, holds tremendous promise.

In general, it was found that the mentally ill preferred slow, simple and sad music.

Incidentally, that's my favorite, too, though I am not mentally ill.

The manics, however, preferred brightly colored music of the fast, exhilarating type.

In childhood, youngsters seem to have no inherited tastes for music and can't even keep step for marching purposes.

Kindergarten teachers thus are forced to accent the stressed beat and drill youngsters for months to get them to appreciate such a simple characteristic of music as its accented beat.

And the emotions that attach to music are learned reactions. If you feel tears come to your eyes and a lump in your throat, it is not the rhythm or tempo, but the "halo" of emotions which you have subconsciously attached to that specific melody because of some childhood situation.

Music is actually one of the most profitable inclusions in the curriculum. It excels many supposedly more essential courses, of which we often recall but isolated fragments in later years.

But we employ music all our lives, so the training in chorus and glee clubs, orchestras or high school bands, is a continuing bulwark for the soul of man throughout our entire journey here on earth.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Presidential Hats In The Ring

The old saying that "time and tide wait for no man" is well illustrated by developments of the last several days in the confused presidential race involving both Democratic and Republican aspirants.

According to "time and tide," the hour approaches for ambitious leaders to make their decisions. They must do this, if they plan active participation in the primary campaigns that will get under way early next year.

Three avowed Democratic presidential candidates have emerged—Former Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, the 1952 Democratic nominee who was overwhelmingly defeated by Gen. Eisenhower as the GOP standard-bearer; Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who led the field on the first ballot at the 1952 Democratic National Convention; and Gov. Frank Lausche, serving his fifth term as chief executive of the State of Ohio, whose candidacy as yet is restricted to a favorite son basis but easily may blossom out.

In addition, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York is a potential candidate, who in all likehood will at least have the solid instructions of the nation's largest voting delegation at next summer's Democratic conclave in Chicago.

Stevenson has decided to put his fortunes to the test by entering crucial Democratic primaries in California, Florida, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Minnesota.

He lost all of these commonwealths to Ike in the 1952 general election.

Kefauver in 1952 had the California delegation along with others, and is still rated as a strong contender up and down the West Coast. Should he score a resounding victory there in next June's Democratic primary, the results might be fatal to Adlai's hopes.

Meanwhile, Republican pressure in favor of an early declaration by President Eisenhower whether he will seek re-election is piling up hourly.

It is being spearheaded at present by Senate Minority Leader Knowland of California; but the West Coast solon has wide support from many quarters in his blunt insistence that Ike should make his intentions known next month.

This mounting pressure should not be regarded as disrespectful to Ike, but merely as a recognition that politics is a realistic game, where deadlines and time limits are involved and cannot be bypassed.

Knowland's reasoning, backed by other highly influential Republicans, is as follows:

If Ike wants to run for a second term, he will of course have no Republican opposition worthy of the name; but if he should decline for personal reasons and those of health to run, then the Republican Party would need desperately a long period in which to realign its campaign and decide on the best available candidate.

The argument advanced by Sen. Knowland publicly and hundreds of other party leaders privately is that the present uncertainty concerning Ike's plans is a demoralizing influence on Republican party efforts.

Every practical politician familiar with the American two-party system and its operations should realize the grains of truth in this presentation, as advanced by Sen. Knowland.

The Republicans, particularly those who are up for re-election to the national Congress, complain that their party is drifting like a rudderless ship, and they are losing political ground to the point where Democratic boasts of a 1956 election sweep are assuming the ominous thunder of prophecy.

Alarm and unrest among Republicans in the Farm Belt, which in effect controls Republican destinies, is particularly manifested; and even the rock-ribbed veteran Congressmen from these districts are speaking blunt warnings in party councils. Demands for the early resignation of Agriculture Secretary Benson are being heard throughout Washington.

Through a turn of fate—President Eisenhower's heart attack—a political situation has been neutralized if not reversed; and what appeared to be certain Republican victory in next year's presidential election now is a matter open to grave doubt, with GOP hopes depending upon many uncertain factors.

16 New United Nations Members

The United Nations, which recently observed its tenth anniversary, has admitted 16 new members, breaking a deadlock lasting for a decade between the Communist bloc and the Western powers.

Twelve of the new members are classed, for convenience, as anti-Communist. Four are Red satellites.

On the non-Communist side are Ireland, Portugal, Italy, Austria, Finland and Spain, in Europe; and Libya, Jordan, Ceylon, Nepal, Cambodia and Laos, of the fast-growing Asian-Arab bloc.

The Red satellites admitted are Albania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Romania.

The theoretical grouping of the United Nations General Assembly, with 76 members in all, now is 65 anti-Communist to nine Communist members. Yet this is merely on the basis of professed ideology. In practice, the distinction between these ideologies often breaks down when a vote is cast; and the tendency is to align into power blocs, of which the Arab-Asian group now is perhaps the most vocal and aggressive.

How easily these blocs may be swayed is well illustrated by Soviet Russia's successful wooing of Egypt through large-scale sale of arms which the United States refused to make available.

Viewing the situation from a power bloc standpoint the Western allies gained six new Assembly votes, the Arab-Asian group an equal number, and the Communist four.

Percentage wise, the biggest gain went to the Reds, the next biggest to the Arab-Asians, and the smallest to the Western allies.

Nationalist China, despite bullying by the United States, vetoed Outer Mongolia, a Soviet Russian puppet state, and Russia, casting its seventy-sixth veto, thwarted the entry of Japan—this of course, in the Security Council where both Nationalist China and Russia hold permanent seats.

The United States, which has never used the veto in the Security Council, politely abstained from voting where the Red satellites were involved; and there were other such gestures by other nations.

Many patriotic Americans are opposed solidly to the United Nations, and even more opposed to various of its progeny such as the meddling UNESCO. But others, including such conservative spokesmen as former President Herbert Hoover and the American Legion, urge continued American participation in the hope the agency some day may become an effective force for world peace.

If it is to become effective, certainly its membership should be widened from time to time and made representative of world opinion.

A Matter Of Opinion

Immigration has been, throughout our history, precisely what is meant by the word, the migration of individuals to the United States from other countries. When we needed people to populate our country, immigration was encouraged. That is how the ancestors of all of us came here from somewhere in Europe, Asia, or Africa.

Now along comes Senator Clifford Case of New Jersey with a new theory. He said:

"We no longer are able to think of our immigration policies as an isolated question of internal concern alone. What we do is watched by the world. It is still another arm of our foreign policy."

Let us analyze what this means. According to Senator Case's notion, the needs and welfare of the United States have ceased to be important. What we Americans believe to be true about the United States does not matter but what Krishna Menon, who bedevils us, thinks is of paramount importance. Shall we admit a million or two Hindus to the United States just to prove to Nehru that we do not suffer from race prejudice as Dr. Malan does in South Africa? Or, shall we admit a million Italians every year because Italy is overcrowded and needs to get rid of part of its population?

Senator Case has obviously not thought out the ultimate consequences of his statement. Immigration cannot possibly be an arm of our foreign policy because it is essentially domestic—a question of the size and nature of our population, the need for workers in agriculture or industry. True, Italy would like to export tailors or chefs to improve our appearance and our digestion, but do we need more tailors and chefs?

What do we require to improve the productivity of our population? At present, shortages are in unexpected areas. We are short of engineers, chemists, mathematicians, policemen, teachers. From what countries are we to import such persons?

The Russians, with rare foresight, got hold of engineers and scientists, immediately after World War II, principally from Germany. They did remarkably well by themselves with these highly-trained, experienced Germans whom we rejected because they had been Nazis or were associated with Nazis.

We let some of the best minds in Europe fall into the hands of our enemies when we might have found them useful to us.

I should imagine that Senator Case and such will view this with horror and alarm, but is it not worse for us that the Russians have been able to develop the H-bomb, the schnorkel submarine, the guided missile, because of these German scientists? The country needs brains; we can supply our own machinery. The proof that we need trained brains is obvious in the fact that we have such a shortage of engineers; there is no shortage of politicians.

No law is immutable in the United States. We are neither Persians nor Medes. It is obvious that some day the McCarran-Walter Act will be revised, amended, rewritten, as every law is, from time to time. For years, labor leaders and A.D.A'ers have demanded the amendment or even repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act but whenever they have controlled Congress, as, for instance, its most recent session, they have avoided the subject.

If Senator Case wishes to establish his sincerity, why does he not bring in a revision of the McCarran-Walter Act? Senators Ives and Saltonstall and Case brought up some kind of measure but it was inadequate and nothing was done about it. What Case urges is that 1950 instead of 1920 be used as a base for the national origins quota. This does not meet our problem. It may get the senators a few additional votes on Election Day.

But this question of immigration is too important, too complex to be settled either to please emotionally excited groups in this country or the need of politicians to gather batches of votes. It is part of our problem of national survival as a free people. It is part of our problem of maintaining our civilization.

To some, many of them Americans of old lineage, it is not important to save the distinctive American civilization; what does seem important is that we should kowtow to every currently neutralist country so that some of them might turn their smirking countenances toward us. It is this conflict of view that may be resolved in the election of 1956.

Federal Aid To Schools

WASHINGTON — One of the thorniest issues awaiting members of Congress when they return to the Hill in January is federal aid to school construction legislation.

Shortly before Congress recessed last summer, the House Education and Labor committee reported out a bill that would give Uncle Sam the responsibility of providing funds to help build needed classrooms for the nation's school children.

The bill clearly stipulates, however, that the federal government shall exercise no "direction, supervision, or control over the personnel, curriculum, or program of instruction of any school or school system."

Introduced by Rep. Augustine B. Kelley, Dem. of Pa., the measure now reposes in the House Rules Committee, but is expected to be called up for action in the House early next year. No real effort was made to bring it out during the last hectic days of the past session for fear it would be lost in the shuffle.

The House bill, as finally reported, culminated weeks of public hearings during which some 65 witnesses testified, not to mention untold hours spent in executive session and the consideration of more than 50 separate measures.

The Senate has not reported a school construction bill but apparently is awaiting the fate of the House bill.

Much has happened since that hot July 28, when the House Education and Labor Committee submitted its bill to the Rules Committee. All 48 states, as well as the outlying territories, have held state conferences on education, preceded by local meetings, and climaxed by the huge, nation-wide White House Conference on Education held here earlier this month.

Congress appropriated the sum of $1,320,000 to finance the state and national conferences, in keeping with the desire expressed by President Eisenhower in his State of the Union message last January, that these conferences be held to explore such "serious" problems as teacher and classroom shortages.

Regardless of what the conferences contribute toward the solution of these problems, one concrete result already discernible is the mass awakening of citizens to school needs and education problems in general.

Because of this mass awakening, practically every member of Congress, upon returning to the Capitol in January, may expect a barrage of letters from his or her constituents on the issue of federal aid to school construction, particularly from parents of schoolage children who, naturally, are vitally concerne adbout education trends in this country.

Delegates to the White House Conference, by a ratio of about two to one, approved federal aid for school construction. In his filmed opening address to the conferees, President Eisenhower suggested that the federal government should step in with "credit and funds, where necessary" to meet the acute shortage of school buildings. Even stronger backing for federal aid for school construction was voiced by Marion B. Folsom, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, on the closing night of the conference.

Some of the biggest stumbling blocks in the path of enactment of federal aid to school construction legislation are: (1) Attempts to make federal aid contingent on compliance with the Supreme Court's decision outlawing racial segregation in public schools; (2) variance over a formula for distribution of the federal funds; and (3) controversies over the amount of federal supervision necessary in the allocation and spending of the money.

Some opponents to federal aid to schools in any form contend that even with a construction aid program will come insidious federal controls that will weaken the autonomy in the field of education that the states have guarded zealously through the years. Some of the delegates to the White House Conference suggested that this could be circumvented by having Congress authorize the return to the states of funds necessary to bring the school buildings up to par.

One of the hottest controversies is expected to arise over the segregation issue. An effort was made to attach an amendment to the Kelley bill stipulating that federal funds not be made available to states failing to comply with the Supreme Court's edict barring segregation.

Music is also the melodic Pegasus on which our spirits may soar above this mundane earth as we become exhilarated with lofty emotions of love and unselfishness.

But music can also inflame and produce warlike moods, so the Marseillaisse has actually been forbidden to the French soldiery at times to prevent untoward incidents in time of crisis.

King Saul depended on David's playing at the harp to soothe his tortured spirit and prevent an attack of madness.

And in modern times we have found a similar great value in music. A few months ago, Drs. Raymond B. Cattell and Jean C. Anderson thus reported their use of music with the patients at Manteno State Hospital in Illinois.

This excellent research by these University of Illinois psychologists, holds tremendous promise.

In general, it was found that the mentally ill preferred slow, simple and sad music.

Incidentally, that's my favorite, too, though I am not mentally ill.

The manics, however, preferred brightly colored music of the fast, exhilarating type.

In childhood, youngsters seem to have no inherited tastes for music and can't even keep step for marching purposes.

Kindergarten teachers thus are forced to accent the stressed beat and drill youngsters for months to get them to appreciate such a simple characteristic of music as its accented beat.

And the emotions that attach to music are learned reactions. If you feel tears come to your eyes and a lump in your throat, it is not the rhythm or tempo, but the "halo" of emotions which you have subconsciously attached to that specific melody because of some childhood situation.

Music is actually one of the most profitable inclusions in the curriculum. It excels many supposedly more essential courses, of which we often recall but isolated fragments in later years.

But we employ music all our lives, so the training in chorus and glee clubs, orchestras or high school bands, is a continuing bulwark for the soul of man throughout our entire journey here on earth.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

New, More Potent Insecticides Are Needed In Cotton

MEMPHIS, Dec. 16 (AP)—New and more potent insecticides are urgently needed to control insects that damage cotton, Dr. F. S. Arant of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute (Auburn) said today.

Reporting on recent insecticide research to the first annual Belt-wide Production Conference, Dr. Arant said the boll worm, boll weevil, and some other major pests still must be controlled with non-systemic insecticides.

Systemic insecticides are those that are absorbed by the plant into its circulatory system and poison insects when they bite into foliage or suck sap from stalks and leaves.

Dr. Arant said a chemical known simply by its experimental code name of Bayer 17147 is one of the most promising insecticides developed for control of the boll weevil, and most other major cotton pests. Dosage rate, he added, is a quarter of a pound an acre.

Bayer 17147 is a stable compound and it remains effective for long periods of time after being applied to cotton plants, thus reducing the need for frequent applications.

It probably will be available to the farmer in small quantities next season. Its trade name has not been announced.

Also appearing on the panel on insect control was Dr. Charles Lincoln of the University of Arkansas who praised Bayer 17147.

He said it has proved outstanding in control of the boll weevil and "appears adequate" on boll worm, aphid, and spider mites.

Dr. Lincoln added that boll weevils got out of control in 1955 in large areas of the mid-South.

Farmers who were successful in control of the weevil used heavy applications of insecticides at close intervals, he said.

Court Awards New Name To 'Playboy'

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 16—UP—Salesman John D. Smith went to work Friday just like hundreds of other Smiths in Seattle.

But Smith wasn't always a salesman. He wasn't even always a Smith.

Until Thrusday he was John Dolf Spreckels III, heir to a sugar fortune.

In debt to the government for back income taxes and working for a custom cabinet shop operated by his brother, Adolph, Spreckles — oops, Smith told Superior Court Judge Lloyd Shorett he wanted to change his name because employers associated it "with the wealth the family once possessed."

Fellow workers took him for a "financier and playboy," he said.

The sympathetic judge signed the order making Spreckles a Smith.

Blind Man Held In Extortion Plot

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 16 —UP— William Clarence Peddicord, 38, a blind man who once won the nation's sympathy years after losing his eyesight in an explosion, has confessed touching off a dynamite bomb in a large department store here in a $50,000 extortion plot that didn't pay off.

Detective Capt. William Browne said Peddicord, the father of five children, admitted late Thursday night setting off 12 sticks of dynamite in a third - floor washroom of the Meier and Frank department store last April 15.

Peddicord implicated his sister-in-law, Joyce Keller, 28, and said he used her as his "eyes." He told police he engineered the plan. They were held under $75,000 bond on a charge of injury to persons and properties by explosives.

The bomb explosion, which miraculously injured no one in the store, crowded with "Friday surprise" sale shoppers, touched off one of the biggest manhunts in Portland's history. The hunt ended with Peddicord's arrest after samples from a typewriter he had used in a chemical laboratory matched those on the extortion note.

MacRae Fined For Drunk Driving

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 16—UP—Singer Gordon MacRae took a favorite Hollywood "escape route" from publicity Friday by sneaking into court in advance of his scheduled trial and allowing himself to be convicted on a drunk driving charge on the basis of a police arrest report.

The singer originally had asked for a jury trial which was set for Jan. 9 in municipal court. When he came before Judge Julian Beck early Friday he asked the judge to rule on the basis of the arrest record.

Judge Beck found him guilty and fined him $300.

The 34-year-old actor was booked when he failed to pass a sobriety test although he denied he was drunk, claiming he had "just two drinks."

MacRae's car had smashed into the rear of another automobile at a stop signal last Wednesday and caused a chain reaction series of crashes involving four automobiles in all.

More than 11 million people live in South Viet Nam.

National Hunting, Fishing Poll Due

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 UP—The first scientific survey of hunting and fishing as an industry will be begun Jan. 7, the National Wildlife Federation has announced.

The study is designed to find out how many hunters and fishermen there are in the nation, how much time they devote to the sports, and how much money they spend in the activities.

Supervised by the Fish and Wildlife Service of the U. S. Department of Interior, the survey will be conducted by Crossley, S-D Surveys, Inc., of New York City. Crossley will take a nationwide sampling of outdoor sportsmen and calculate national estimates from these figures.

In announcing the proposed study, the federation said the results are expected to be of "great strategic importance in defending wildlife resources against competing pressures for the use of lands and waters."

Conservation groups have waged and off-and-on battle with the armed forces over use of wildlife refuge areas for military purposes.

The most publicized dispute was over Air Force plans to use the Aransas range in Texas, wintering ground of the almost extinct whooping crane, as a practice bombing area. The Air Force dropped the idea last October after heated protests from conservationists.

Other advantages from the survey will be a clearing up of questions confronting legislators and conservation agencies for years and information for future programs in game and fish management, the federation said.

It is now known that more than 30,000,000 hunting and fishing licenses are sold in the nation each year. Many persons, however, are allowed to hunt or fish without licenses because of age or special exemptions that vary in the states. The annual contribution to the nation's business by hunting and fishing has been estimated at from $5,000,000,000 to $11,000,000,000, the federation said.

Some Entitled To Korean Vet Bonus

A Korean bonus is being paid by several different states to Korean veterans of those states, according to H. B. McClendon, Ouachita parish service officer of the Louisiana department of veterans affairs.

The states which are paying a Korean bonus to their veterans are: Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, South Dakota, Vermont, and Washington.

The service officer believes that there are some Korean veterans living in this area who were residents of those states when they entered the Korean service and who possibly are entitled to the bonuses from their respective states. Any Korean veteran from any one of those states who now lives in this vicinity is urged to contact the parish service officer to determine possible eligibility to the bonus from his native state.

The service officer's name and address are: H. B. McClendon, Ouachita Parish Service Officer, 204 Parish Court House, Monroe, La.

Some Entitled To Korean Vet Bonus

A Korean bonus is being paid by several different states to Korean veterans of those states, according to H. B. McClendon, Ouachita parish service officer of the Louisiana department of veterans affairs.

The states which are paying a Korean bonus to their veterans are: Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, South Dakota, Vermont, and Washington.

The service officer believes that there are some Korean veterans living in this area who were residents of those states when they entered the Korean service and who possibly are entitled to the bonuses from their respective states. Any Korean veteran from any one of those states who now lives in this vicinity is urged to contact the parish service officer to determine possible eligibility to the bonus from his native state.

The service officer's name and address are: H. B. McClendon, Ouachita Parish Service Officer, 204 Parish Court House, Monroe, La.

Four In This Area Become Engineers

Four northeast Louisiana residents have been granted registration by the Louisiana state board of registration for professional engineers and land surveyors recently, it was announced Friday.

The four include Marion Louise Guerriero, 307 Glenmar, Monroe; Charles J. Phifer, 406 Erin, Monroe; Tony Gray Williams, Bastrop and Jack T. Painter, Ruston.

Four Young Hostesses Give Dance

Misses Linda Kay Butler, Arlynne Winn, Sylvia Hayden and Glenda Goyne entertained with a Christmas dance Wednesday night at the Recreation Center.

Attractive holiday decorations were featured in the ballroom. A large Christmas tree, holly wreaths and Santa Claus with his reindeer added merriment to the festive occasion.

Large red candles, pine cones and red berries formed a seasonal centerpiece for the refreshment table. Punch services were placed at each end of the table.

Alternating at pouring and assisting with courtesies were Mrs. D. A. Shell, Mrs. Alec Winn, Mrs. Jean Butler, Mrs. Bennie Goyne and Mrs. J. L. Hayden.

Music for the dance was provided by Larry Nolan and his band.

More than one hundred and twenty members of the younger set attended the Christmas party.

Christmas Is Theme At Cultura Book Club Meeting

Cultura Book Club members were entertained at a Christmas meeting in the home of Mrs. Bob Castleberry with Mrs. Gene Williams and Mrs. Jeff Hennessey as co-hostesses.

Mrs. E. N. Camp, Jr., president, presided over a short business session.

Members answered the roll with a Christmas custom and the country in which it originated.

Later members voted to make a donation to the YWCA.

Mrs. R. B. Henry gave an interesting version of the Christmas story followed by a reading of "My Red Apple Granny" by Ralph Hammond.

After the program, members exchanged gifts. Each also brought gifts for Mrs. Harry Liner's nursery class at the cerebral palsy school.

Christmas decorations and music created a festive atmosphere during the party.

Those enjoying the occasion were: Mrs. Kenneth Adams, Mrs. Kenneth Aswell, Mrs. Bob Branch, Mrs. E. N. Camp, Jr., Mrs. Bob Castleberry, Mrs. Jeff Hennessey, Mrs. Ralph Reed, Mrs. Harry Liner, Mrs. Don Logan, Mrs. K. D. Norris, Mrs. Lake Oxford, Mrs. G. L. Shepard, Mrs. Gene Williams and Mrs. R. B. Henry who was a guest of the club.

Moment Musicale Coterie Meets

The Moment Musicale Coterie met in the home of Doll Burgoyne, 1311 Milton.

During the social hour, the co-hostesses, Jody Biedenharn and Beverly Blackmon, assisted in serving refreshments.

The counselors, Mrs. B. A. Trousdale, Jr. and Mrs. Eloise Stanhope assisted at the business meeting, at which Judy Cobb presided. The magazine report was given by Kay Thompson, vice-president.

Afterwards the members were entertained by the following delightful program.

"Silent Night", Beverly Blackmon; "Knight Rupert", Betty Ann Bettis: "The Hop Toad", Sally Barham; "The Twins Dance", Joyce Mullins; "Evening Prayer", Helen Touchstone; "Romance", Linda Crow; "The Watchman's Song", Anne Hemphill; "Rustic Song", Rilla Ekholm; "Sonatina, op. 88, No. 1", Cynthia Leigh.

Urania HDC Has Yule Party

Members of the Urania Home Demonstration Club opened the Yuletide festivities with a party Friday evening at the home of Mrs. J. H. Glidden.

The welcoming door held a swag of juniper cedar, green pine cones, red bells and a large, red ribbon bow. Placed on a table in the foyer was a large white candle, sprinkled with glitter and banked with bronze magnolia leaves, pine cones and golded baubles.

On the buffet, an arrangement of white magnolia leaves, white cones and silver baubles, centered by a Madonna and flanked by tall white candles in silver holders, was placed before a standing silver tray.

The round dining table was centered with a white Christmas tree, glittering with silver icicles and colored baubles. Throughout the house were Christmas symbols, even to Santa peering through the kitchen window.

Mrs. Harry Nichols and Mrs. Walton Hixson received the guests. Mrs. W. S. Higgins had charge of the small gifts and Mrs. C. E. Tannehill assisted the hostess with the refreshments.

After all were assembled, Christmas carols were sung led by Mrs. O. M. Corley.

Mrs. Maxine Reeves, home demonstration agent was in charge of the games and contests. Small gifts were exchanged with Mrs. Otto Kees acting as Santa. Mrs. O. M. HOSTESSES AT CHRISTMAS DANCE—On Wednesday night four young hostesses (seated, from left) Misses Arlyne Winn, Sylvia Hayden, Glenda Goyne, and Linda Kay Butler, entertained their friends at a Christmas formal at the Recreation Center. Their escorts with them, from left, are Ronny Farmer, Dwain Johnston, Larry Cash, and Jake Taylor. (Staff photo by Robert Hines)

Four Young Hostesses Give Dance

Misses Linda Kay Butler, Arlynne Winn, Sylvia Hayden and Glenda Goyne entertained with a Christmas dance Wednesday night at the Recreation Center.

Attractive holiday decorations were featured in the ballroom. A large Christmas tree, holly wreaths and Santa Claus with his reindeer added merriment to the festive occasion.

Large red candles, pine cones and red berries formed a seasonal centerpiece for the refreshment table. Punch services were placed at each end of the table.

Alternating at pouring and assisting with courtesies were Mrs. D. A. Shell, Mrs. Alec Winn, Mrs. Jean Butler, Mrs. Bennie Goyne and Mrs. J. L. Hayden.

Music for the dance was provided by Larry Nolan and his band.

More than one hundred and twenty members of the younger set attended the Christmas party.

Christmas Is Theme At Cultura Book Club Meeting

Cultura Book Club members were entertained at a Christmas meeting in the home of Mrs. Bob Castleberry with Mrs. Gene Williams and Mrs. Jeff Hennessey as cohostesses.

Mrs. E. N. Camp, Jr., president, presided over a short business session.

Members answered the roll with a Christmas custom and the country in which it originated.

Later members voted to make a donation to the YWCA.

Mrs. R. B. Henry gave an interesting version of the Christmas story followed by a reading of "My Red Apple Granny" by Ralph Hammond.

After the program, members exchanged gifts. Each also brought gifts for Mrs. Harry Liner's nursery class at the cerebral palsy school.

Christmas decorations and music created a festive atmosphere during the party.

Those enjoying the occasion were: Mrs. Kenneth Adams, Mrs. Kenneth Aswell, Mrs. Bob Branch, Mrs. E. N. Camp, Jr., Mrs. Bob Castleberry, Mrs. Jeff Hennessey, Mrs. Ralph Reed, Mrs. Harry Liner, Mrs. Don Logan, Mrs. K. D. Norris, Mrs. Lake Oxford, Mrs. G. L. Shepard, Mrs. Gene Williams and Mrs. R. B. Henry who was a guest of the club.

Urania HDC Has Yule Party

Members of the Urania Home Demonstration Club opened the Yuletide festivities with a party Friday evening at the home of Mrs. J. H. Glidden.

The welcoming door held a swag of juniper cedar, green pine cones, red bells and a large, red ribbon bow. Placed on a table in the foyer was a large white candle, sprinkled with glitter and banked with bronze magnolia leaves, pine cones and golded baubles.

On the buffet, an arrangement of white magnolia leaves, white cones and silver baubles, centered by a Madonna and flanked by tall white candles in silver holders, was placed before a standing silver tray.

The round dining table was centered with a white Christmas tree, glittering with silver icicles and colored baubles. Throughout the house were Christmas symbols, even to Santa peering through the kitchen window.

Mrs. Harry Nichols and Mrs. Walton Hixson received the guests. Mrs. W. S. Higgins had charge of the small gifts and Mrs. C. E. Tannehill assisted the hostess with the refreshments.

After all were assembled, Christmas carols were sung led by Mrs. O. M. Corley.

Mrs. Maxine Reeves, home demonstration agent was in charge of the games and contests. Small gifts were exchanged with Mrs. Otto Kees acting as Santa. Mrs. O. M. Corley returned thanks and a complete Christmas dinner was served buffet style to the above mentioned and Mrs. Damon Bradford, Mrs. S. J. McCartney, Mrs. O. F. Matthews, Mrs. Q. E. Cornwell, Mrs. R. ## Lamkin HDC Meets With Mrs. C. T. Baird

The Lamkin Home Demonstration Club held its monthly meeting on December 13th in the home of Mrs. C. T. Baird.

During the business session, the treasurer's report, read by Mrs F. H. Holdeman, was followed by the reading and adoption of the budget for the new year. Plans were made to make a Christmas contribution to a worthy cause.

During the program, Mrs. W. H. Pogue, vice - president, read a Christmas poem. Mrs. W. T. Strickland, safety leader, Mrs. C. T. Baird, home management leader, and Mrs. J. D. Collier, family life leader, presented their reports, after which Mrs. Baird rendered a vocal solo.

After the meeting adjourned, the traditional Christmas dinner was served to the following: Mrs. C. C. Beadles, Mrs. R. E. Brookings, Mrs. C. Chandler, Mrs. J. D. Collier, Mrs. F. H. Holdeman, Mrs. P. H. Mercer, Sr., Mrs. W. H. Pogue, Mrs W. T. Strickland, Mrs. T. C. Williams, Mrs Euna Spielman, and to two guests, Mrs. J. B Garrett and Mrs. Pat Martin. Exchange of gifts followed, and Mrs Spielman was presented a special gift of appreciation from the club.

The January meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. F. H. Holdeman.

WMHS Health Program Adds To School's Progress

West Monroe High School, now in its third year of operation, continues to add to its list of accomplishments.

In its second year, the high school inaugurated a health program for determining students' physical defects and recommending corrective measures. So far, only boys are included in the program, which is administered by the physical education and athletic departments under the guidance of Coach Howard Barker, with the aid of nurses from the Ouachita Parish Health Unit, which is directed by Dr. Carroll Summer.

The six-week program, now ending its second week for this year, aims "to promote good health; to enlist the cooperation of parents in maintaining good health in their boys; to improve initiative in good health habits; to improve health to the extent that one uses his full capabilities; and to check on those students who were found to be deficient in health from the previous year's examinations."

Tests are given for hookworm, also of eyes, mouth, throat and ear.

Interesting and informative talks are given by such health authorities as Mrs. Allyne Rogers, nurse of the Ouachita Parish Health Unit, and Mrs. Verna L. Dodd, regional nutritionist with the state health department. Their subjects range from hookworms and remedies to food and its value in building better bodies and health.

A physical fitness test is administered with a battery of three testing categories: push ups, 50-yard dash and vertical jump.

Given annually, the tests are designed to compare actual progress and personal improvement and to stimulate interest in all-around physical development.

All high school boys in Louisiana are required to enroll in physical education classes and, in the West Monroe High School, they are all required to participate in the health program. It has proved valuable to both the boys and to their instructors.

When physical defects, such as dental disorders, are found, Barker, who is assisted by Bobby Wilson and Jeff Hennessy, mails recommendations for corrective measures to the students' parents. The recommendations, Barker said, stress that he and his staff are not physicians but laymen and can only make recommendations to parents for the betterment of their children's health.

Coach Barker, who attacks his health program with enthusiasm and interest for the pupils, observed, "The children in grammar schools really should have such a health program. It seems that is where correction in health problems should be made."

He said that "most of the children here (at West Monroe High) who have been examined for dental defects both years of the program, have had their defects corrected between our annual examinations."

Case histories are compiled and index cards showing progress from year to year are kept on file. The student's classroom instructors are notified if defects appear to impair his eyesight, hearing, etc.

In the case of eye testing, Barker said use is made of the Snellen test, which is recognized by authorities as one of the most effective types.

The December, 1955, issue of the magazine "Journal of Health-Physical Education-Recreation," published by the American Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation, carries this assertion: "Teacher observation should be supplemented by some kind of screening test conducted annually. The Snellen test, plus teacher observation, found nearly as many students (in a Massachusetts test battery) who required ophthalmic (eye) care as did the most complicated and costly binocular, stereoscopic testing instruments, and the over-referral rate was markedly less for the more simple procedure."

Barker explained that the boys participating in the school's health program are divided into groups according to age, height and weight. The coach added that recognition is given to the outstanding boys in each classification, or group, in a general assembly in the spring.

The physical education instructors emphasize that cooperation of parents is not only welcome but encouraged, in order that the program may be more effective in benefiting the students.

Youth Injured In Crash Better

OAKDALE, La., Dec. 16 (AP) — James Henry Pettit, 16-year-old South Carolina Youth injured in the car-truck collision in which his companion was killed, was reported in good condition today, and probably will be released from the hospital tomorrow.

Attending physicians at the Oakdale hospital said Pettit suffered a mild concussion and bruises in the accident last night. William Flinch, 16, died early today of injuries suffered in the crash. Both were from Pauline, S. C.

Columbian Carbon Opens Figures For Proposed Plant

Bids were opened in the offices of Architect H. H. Land Thursday for the construction of an office building and two laboratory buildings for the Columbian Carbon Company. The bids were taken under advisement.

The construction planned is for Elizabeth street and Louisville avenue in a fast growing part of the city.

The two low bidders were extremely close together in their figures. J. A. Harper of West Monroe submitted figures of $345,345, while Jesse F. Heard & Son, West Monroe, gave figures as $345,550.

There were also long lists of subcontract figures.

It was stated Friday that the figures are to be given careful study before the contract is awarded.

Hardy's Liquor Permit Appeal Denied By Board

The state board of tax appeals has upheld a decision of the fourth district court in refusing to issue a beer permit of James P. Hardy, operator of Hardy's Little Club here, Ouachita parish district attorney Albin P. Lassiter said Friday.

In upholding the fourth district court's ruling, the tax board based their opinion on a Louisiana law which states that the "applicant must not have had his alcoholic beverage licene revoked for five years prior to application or been convicted or had judgment against him involving alcoholic beverages by this or any other state or by the United States for five years prior to the application."

Basis of turning down the appeal, Lassister said, was a guilty plea by Hardy of druken driving, in a case in which he was fined $300.

The tax board held that this was sufficient grounds for turning down Hardy's application for the beer permit, Lassiter said.

Hardy first made his application for the permit to the Ouachita parish police jury, which denied it. He appealed to the fourth district court and, when it upheld the jury's ruling, he appealed to the tax board.

Hearing in the case was held before the tax board here on November 8, and the decision was received here Thursday.

Members of the appeal board were Lee C. Grevemberg, Sargent Pitcher, Jr., and Gordon Y. Millet.

New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP) —Cotton futures closed 85 cents a bale higher to 15 cents lower today.

Strength in nearby deliveries was the feature, with commission house buying and short covering attributed primarily to loan considerations. The market dipped at times on profit taking and small hedging, but met a good trade demand on the decline.

Based on the heavy flow of cotton into government hands, some analysts predicted a record or near record loan movement this season. The largest movement for a single crop loan program was in 1953 when 6,832,000 bales were placed in the loan.

The Census Bureau reported November cotton consumption of 741,447 running bales. Consumption for approximately the first four months of the current season, August-November, was 3,070,567 bales, compared with 2,895,524 bales in the similar period a year earlier, an increase of 175,043 bales.

Services Today For J. E. Watson, Accident Victim

OAK GROVE, Dec. 16 (Special) —Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. for James Edwin Watson, of Oak Grove, who was killed in a motorcycle accident Thursday night on state Highway 17, between Oak Grove and Forest.

Rev. H. G. Hammond will conduct the services in the chapel of Catron-Gay Funeral Home. Interment will be in the Kilbourne cemetery.

Stanley McEachern, Jr., 17, of Delhi, driver of the automobile which struck the motorcycle, was charged with negligent homicide, the sheriff's office said, and released under $2,500.

A West Carroll deputy said that the motorcycle was hit as McEachern attempted to pass a car following the motorcycle. The official source said that Watson was attempting to turn onto a side road as McEachern was passing the car, which was immediately in back of the motorcycle.

McEachern was reported en route to his home in Delhi from Ole Miss at the time of the accident. He is a college student.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Watson, of Oak Grove; one brother, Staff Sgt. Kenneth Watson; four sisters, Mrs. Marie Wilborn and Mrs. Opal Broadway, both of Wichita Falls, Tex.; Miss Peggy Ann Watson and Miss Tessie Watson, both of Oak Grove.

Irregularity Hits Stocks, But Final Trend Is Higher

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—Irregularity was the keynote of today's stock market, but the final trend was higher.

The upturn in the market was far from unanimous, but the move was enough to break a string of five straight declines.

The aircrafts and steels provided most of the strength for the longest time. Some oils shot ahead near the close. Many individual stocks were in the demand.

Motors were backward throughout the session, and the railroads never did very much.

Tax selling and switching was credited with creating the irregularity. Brokers professed to be pleased with the manner in which the market has been absorbing this type of offering.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks edged up 40 cents at $178.60. It was down 20 cents yesterday. The industrial component of the average was up 80 cents, railroads gained 20 cents, while utilities remained unchanged.

Volume came to 2,310,000 shares as compared with yesterday's 2,260,000 shares.

Corporate bonds were lower while U.S. government issues traded over the counter were higher.

CAR RATE HEARING

BATON ROUGE —UP— George Menefee, chairman of the surety division, today was to explain why recent automobile insurance rate adjustments are fair to the whole state at a hearing here. Menefee called the hearing after two Baton Rouge legislators, Sen. Charles Duchein and Rep. Rolfe McCollister, questioned why rates were higher in Baton Rouge than in the rest of the state.

Services Today For J. E. Watson, Accident Victim

OAK GROVE, Dec. 16 (Special) —Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. for James Edwin Watson, of Oak Grove, who was killed in a motorcycle accident Thursday night on state Highway 17, between Oak Grove and Forest.

Rev. H. G. Hammond will conduct the services in the chapel of Catron-Gay Funeral Home. Interment will be in the Kilbourne cemetery.

Stanley McEachern, Jr., 17, of Delhi, driver of the automobile which struck the motorcycle, was charged with negligent homicide, the sheriff's office said, and released under $2,500.

A West Carroll deputy said that the motorcycle was hit as McEachern attempted to pass a car following the motorcycle. The official source said that Watson was attempting to turn onto a side road as McEachern was passing the car, which was immediately in back of the motorcycle.

McEachern was reported en route to his home in Delhi from Ole Miss at the time of the accident. He is a college student.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Watson, of Oak Grove; one brother, Staff Sgt. Kenneth Watson; four sisters, Mrs. Marie Wilborn and Mrs. Opal Broadway, both of Wichita Falls, Tex.; Miss Peggy Ann Watson and Miss Tessie Watson, both of Oak Grove.

Irregularity Hits Stocks, But Final Trend Is Higher

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—Irregularity was the keynote of today's stock market, but the final trend was higher.

The upturn in the market was far from unanimous, but the move was enough to break a string of five straight declines.

The aircrafts and steels provided most of the strength for the longest time. Some oils shot ahead near the close. Many individual stocks were in the demand.

Motors were backward throughout the session, and the railroads never did very much.

Tax selling and switching was credited with creating the irregularity. Brokers professed to be pleased with the manner in which the market has been absorbing this type of offering.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks edged up 40 cents at $178.60. It was down 20 cents yesterday. The industrial component of the average was up 80 cents, railroads gained 20 cents, while utilities remained unchanged.

Volume came to 2,310,000 shares as compared with yesterday's 2,260,000 shares.

Corporate bonds were lower while U.S. government issues traded over the counter were higher.

CAR RATE HEARING

BATON ROUGE —UP— George Menefee, chairman of the surety division, today was to explain why recent automobile insurance rate adjustments are fair to the whole state at a hearing here. Menefee called the hearing after two Baton Rouge legislators, Sen. Charles Duchein and Rep. Rolfe McCollister, questioned why rates were higher in Baton Rouge than in the rest of the state.

Negro Youth Is Given Two Years In Assault Case

Everett Merritt, a 17-year-old Negro, was sentenced to two years in the Ouachita parish jail on two charges of aggravated assault, Friday morning, by Judge David I. Garrett, Sr., in fourth district court.

Merritt was given one year each on the two counts, not to be served concurrently, for his part in a recent near-riot at the Sterlington colored school in which some students were injured by thrown bottles and other missiles. He entered pleas of guilty.

Judge Garrett advised the youth to change his conduct, as he was headed for bad trouble and reminded him that, "the court cannot keep you from doing it, but it can certainly take care of you when you do."

Among other sentences was that of V. B. Greenlee, who pleaded guilty to issuing a worthless check for $18, a misdemeanor, and was fined $100 and costs, or 30 days in default.

The following persons were included among those who pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated, and were fined the usual $300 and costs, or 60 days default, assessed first offenders: Myrtle McNamara, Johnnie Lee Patrick, Luther Smart, Mansfield Patterson, Negro, and W. A. Powell, Jr.

Smart also pleaded guilty to driving without a license and was fined $50 and costs, or 10 days default. A second charge against Powell, charging him with driving without a license, was dismissed when it was learned that he had applied for one before the arrest.

Holly T. Day and Robert Parker, both of West Monroe, who were charged jointly with forging a check for $49.95 and signing the name of Bailey Landrum, pleaded not guilty at arraignment. An attorney was appointed by the court to represent them and their trial was set for February 15, before a jury.

Albert Viola was represented by his attorney who entered a plea of not guilty to four charges, that of driving with defective brakes, disturbing the peace, simple criminal damage to property and resisting an officer. He waived arraignment and did not appear. Trial of all of the charges was set for January 13.

F. A. Jones pleaded not guilty to theft of $25 by check, a felony. Trial, which will be before a jury, has not been set.

Arthur Humble and Mrs. Ida Humble, both charged with simple battery, entered pleas of not guilty and trial on both cases was set for December 23.

Trial dates and names of those who pleaded not guilty to driving while intoxicated include: Emmett E. Elkins, January 6, and James V. Jones, Negro, January 13.

Among those who pleaded guilty to reckless driving and their sentences were Robert B. Adams, Negro, $100 and costs or 60 days; Ed Coonce Sr., $25 and costs or 30 days and George Washington, Negro, $25 and costs or 30 days; Larry Winston Oliver, Negro, and Robert F. Winberry, two others charged with reckless driving, pleaded not guilty, and trial of both cases was set for January 13.

Armour H. Turner and Grant Morehead, Negro, two charged with disturbing the peace, entered pleas of guilty, and were fined $25 and costs or 10 days.

James Lawrence Clark and Newton Peterson, Negro, also charged with disturbing the peace, pleaded not guilty and trial on the two cases were set for January 6 and 13, respectively.

Willie Spears and Charlie Green, both pleaded guilty to charges of speeding. Spears was fined $25 and costs, default 10 days and Green was fined $10 and costs.

Among the others were Peerless Andrews, Negro, given a fine of $25 and costs, or 10 days default, for simple obstruction of the highway; J. L. Johnson, not guilty to driving with defective brakes, set for January 13; Lincoln McCarter, Negro, not guilty to unauthorized use of movable property, set for December 23; and Other M. Crawford, driving without a license.

Preaus Pledges More Assistance To Small Towns

NEW ROADS, Dec. 16 (Special)—Fred Preaus said today that he will do all he can to see that Louisiana communities get greater share of tax dollars.

The gubernatorial candidate said many cities and towns are finding themselves hard-pressed to keep up with increasing demands for more and better services for their residents. He asserted that it is up to the state government to lend a helping hand.

Preaus said Louisiana firemen particularly are adversely affected by this lack of funds in some municipalities. Many fire departments, particularly volunteer groups, need better additional equipment, he said.

"I would be in favor of legislation which would provide more revenue to the cities and towns of Louisiana in order that they can better provide for their citizens. I specifically mention the small town fire departments with their volunteer firemen because I believe they have the most pressing needs."

Commenting on a poll of chances of gubernatorial candidates in the January Democratic primary election, Preaus said it has disclosed nothing that was not already known.

A. Brown Moore, candidate for lieutenant governor on the Preaus ticket, pointed out that the poll shows only the Chep Morrison cannot beat Earl Long. He said this is a fact which is already well known.

Moore added that it must be remembered that the poll is some three to four weeks old, although results were not announced until yesterday. He pointed out that there has been considerable "changes of heart" since the poll was taken and that he doubts if the results would be the same today.

"I hope that Earl Long does not go home today to pack his bag and buy a ticket to Baton Rouge on the strength of that poll. You know, Tom Dewey made that mistake in 1948 when running for president and we all know that Mr. Dewey has never lived in the White House in Washington."

Preaus devoted most of his time to discussing parts of his platform, including law enforcement, segregation and teacher pay raises.

Preaus said he after traveling over the state at least twice during the past month he is more convinced than ever that the teachers of the state need more money.

The Preaus-Moore ticket has endorsed the pay-raise proposal of the Louisiana Teacher Association which calls for annual salaries of $2400 to $4000 a year for teachers with two years of college, and $2800 to $4400 for those with three years of college, and at least a maximum of $5600 for BA degrees and $6400 for MA degrees.

Preaus said segregation is still very much an issue in this campaign despite the attempts by at least one candidate to minimize the problem.

He said "The Preaus-Moore team has never skirted this issue and has no intention of doing it. We are 100 per cent for segregation and 100 per cent against integration. I think the majority of our Negro people in Louisiana feel the same way and since we have Democratic rule in this country I believe the will of the majority should prevail in this case as well as in any other."

Monroyan's Cross

course, but there might be a case where he WOULD delibertely let the novice win.

9. DECENT is more apt. Before now men have struck BECAUSE OF a RECENT raise when it wasn't DECENT enough!

10. DUPE is the answer. A man is not a DUPE until after he gets into the wrong hands, that is, until he is made a DUPE by some wrongdoing person or persons. Only after that would he make the newspapers. DOPE is often featured prominently in the news columns, when in legitimate hands—that is, without being in the hands of wrongdoers.

26. MAPS are sometimes closely studied for the purpose mentioned. All those millions of miles away, MARS can hardly be CLOSELY studied.

27. FOUR is best. An HOUR, or a TOUR, in an open car could apply to one person, which does not necessarily ensure good fun. FOUR means the companionship of FOUR, which seems a surer answer to something which generally ensures "good fun".

28. Lots of people didn't come across the SEA due to the restrictions on travel. Even those who could not get TEA couldn't say they didn't "come across it".

CLUES DOWN:

4. GREEN is often associated with envy. GREED may accompany envy but is not necessarily associated with it in any way.

5. Conflicting NATIONS can certainly arouse a great deal of bitterness. Conflicting NOTIONS are simply conflicting ideas and may cause argument but it would be intolerance, rather than NOTIONS, that would arouse bitterness.

13. SHIP is best since the clue refers to something a slaver used in plying his trade. In plying his trade a SHIP was a necessity. The WHIP was used, but not "to ply his trade".

14. LAST is preferred. "DOPES" do not all have the same action. They could make a horse run faster or slower, but since often a comparatively unknown horse finishes very fast it would be more likely to be the popular horse that finished surprisingly at the tail end—LAST. That would arouse suspicion.

18. LADS is more apt than LIDS. The expression "they turn out to be" implies something that "develops" over a period of time. If LIDS are misfits they always were misfits. LADS could develop into misfits over a period of time.

19. A SNARE always carries with it an element of danger. Its purpose is dangerous—to trap or ensnare. This is not necessarily true of a SNAKE; it might well be one of the many harmless varieties.

22. BEAR is a more comprehensive answer. Why should they FEAR criticism. They will, of course, HEAR criticism but BEAR covers what they HEAR, read about and FEAR, thus a more all-embracing answer.

stings. At another time a playful monkey took a few sharp swipes at him from a low hanging limb of a tree. . .

The United Gas in Houston has twenty-five men who read meters on an average 350 meters a day. They state that the real big hazard is a dog on the loose. Meter readers are told never to carry a club and never to strike at the dogs.

A mean looking old ram with his tribe of sheep dashed at a meter reader and he still carries some scars on his body as a result.

Fences, dogs and foul weather are listed in Houston as the big problems encountered.

The experiences of another Houston meter reader were explained thus: "I was reading a meter in a fenced in yard when I had to jump a fence to escape the canine, and on the other side of the fence I faced a second one still more ferocious so I jumped another fence and there faced a third dog. I took chances with him and came out with only a few scratches."

All meter readers are said to agree with our own Eugene Moore, it is a highly exciting calling, this reading of meters.

Tallulah and West Monroe friends of the C. M. Ritchie family, formerly of Madison parish, will be interested to learn of the recognition given the oldest sin, the Rev. Cliun ton McKay Ritchie, Jr., who, as youth pastor of the Community church in Glenview, Ill., was pictured in Life magazine the other day.

Mr. Ritchie was at one time assistant pastor of a West Monroe Methodist church.

A delightful and instructive session was held when the annual banquet of the West Monroe - Monroe Chamber of Commerce was conducted. The outgoing president, Shelby Cage, gave a comprehensive report of the past year's progress which achieved substantial results.

The election of J. Grayson Guthrie, local banker, was greeted with general approval. Other officers are H. H. Hudson, vice-president; J. W. Roberson, West Monroe bank president, secretary and James Williams, executive secretary.

The address of the evening was by Tom Collins, of Kansas City, whose original humor kept his hearers amused as well as instructed.

Charles Rodriguez, formerly of Monroe, now insurance section manager, division of administration, state of Louisiana, was featured as speaker to members of the Blue Goose Fire Insurance organization in New Orleans this week. He discussed "Insurance Problems of the State Government."

Mr. Rodriguez seems to be doing a good job down state. He is brother of former City Commissioner W. D. H. Rodriguez.

City Court

MONROE

The following cases were heard in Monroe city court Friday by Judge W. M. Harper.

Catherine C. Michie, was charged with driving while intoxicated and she was fined $400.00.

Two persons were charged with speeding, James L. Richardson, and Gene G. Brucato were fined total of $32.50.

John H. Thompson was charged with vagrancy and he was given a 30-day compulsory jail sentence.

Eight persons were charged with public drunkenness and were fined $25 or seven days in default. They are, Jack Haney, Fred Stoker, Murphy Tannehill, Rufus Patrick, Edward Massinghill, Andrew J. Hearn and Mrs. D. P. Wilder.

(No count in West Monroe today.)

Two Boys Held After Fire Destroys House

Monroe juvenile officers Thursday were investigating the burning of a house after taking into custody two small Negro boys who were later turned over to their parents.

Sgt. James Kelly, of the city juvenile department, said the two boys had skipped school and were playing with matches in the small house which was owned by Mrs. Josephine Falletto. The house, which was partially destroyed, was located at 703 North 19th Street.

Kelly explained that a match fell into hay stored in the house and started the fire.

The boys, whom Kelly said had admitted a series of minor pilferings recently, fled the burning house and stayed away from home until late Wednesday night.

Preaus Pledges More Assistance To Small Towns

NEW ROADS, Dec. 16 (Special)—Fred Preaus said today that he will do all he can to see that Louisiana communities get greater share of tax dollars.

The gubernatorial candidate said many cities and towns are finding themselves hard-pressed to keep up with increasing demands for more and better services for their residents. He asserted that it is up to the state government to lend a helping hand.

Preaus said Louisiana firemen particularly are adversely affected by this lack of funds in some municipalities. Many fire departments, particularly volunteer groups, need better additional equipment, he said.

"I would be in favor of legislation which would provide more revenue to the cities and towns of Louisiana in order that they can better provide for their citizens. I specifically mention the small town fire departments with their volunteer firemen because I believe they have the most pressing needs."

Commenting on a poll of chances of gubernatorial candidates in the January Democratic primary election, Preaus said it has disclosed nothing that was not already known.

A. Brown Moore, candidate for lieutenant governor on the Preaus ticket, pointed out that the poll shows only the Chep Morrison cannot beat Earl Long. He said this is a fact which is already well known.

Moore added that it must be remembered that the poll is some three to four weeks old, although results were not announced until yesterday. He pointed out that there has been considerable "changes of heart" since the poll was taken and that he doubts if the results would be the same today.

"I hope that Earl Long does not go home today to pack his bag and buy a ticket to Baton Rouge on the strength of that poll. You know, Tom Dewey made that mistake in 1948 when running for president and we all know that Mr. Dewey has never lived in the White House in Washington."

Preaus devoted most of his time to discussing parts of his platform, including law enforcement, segregation and teacher pay raises.

Preaus said he after traveling over the state at least twice during the past month he is more convinced than ever that the teachers of the state need more money.

The Preaus-Moore ticket has endorsed the pay-raise proposal of the Louisiana Teacher Association which calls for annual salaries of $2400 to $4000 a year for teachers with two years of college, and $2800 to $4400 for those with three years of college, and at least a maximum of $5600 for BA degrees and $6400 for MA degrees.

Preaus said segregation is still very much an issue in this campaign despite the attempts by at least one candidate to minimize the problem.

He said "The Preaus-Moore team has never skirted this issue and has no intention of doing it. We are 100 per cent for segregation and 100 per cent against integration. I think the majority of our Negro people in Louisiana feel the same way and since we have Democratic rule in this country I believe the will of the majority should prevail in this case as well as in any other."

Monroyan's Cross

course, but there might be a case where he WOULD delibertely let the novice win.

9. DECENT is more apt. Before now men have struck BECAUSE OF a RECENT raise when it wasn't DECENT enough!

10. DUPE is the answer. A man is not a DUPE until after he gets into the wrong hands, that is, until he is made a DUPE by some wrongdoing person or persons. Only after that would he make the newspapers. DOPE is often featured prominently in the news columns, when in legitimate hands—that is, without being in the hands of wrongdoers.

26. MAPS are sometimes closely studied for the purpose mentioned. All those millions of miles away, MARS can hardly be CLOSELY studied.

27. FOUR is best. An HOUR, or a TOUR, in an open car could apply to one person, which does not necessarily ensure good fun. FOUR means the companionship of FOUR, which seems a surer answer to something which generally ensures "good fun".

28. Lots of people didn't come across the SEA due to the restrictions on travel. Even those who could not get TEA couldn't say they didn't "come across it".

CLUES DOWN:

4. GREEN is often associated with envy. GREED may accompany envy but is not necessarily associated with it in any way.

5. Conflicting NATIONS can certainly arouse a great deal of bitterness. Conflicting NOTIONS are simply conflicting ideas and may cause argument but it would be intolerance, rather than NOTIONS, that would arouse bitterness.

13. SHIP is best since the clue refers to something a slaver used in plying his trade. In plying his trade a SHIP was a necessity. The WHIP was used, but not "to ply his trade".

14. LAST is preferred. "DOPES" do not all have the same action. They could make a horse run faster or slower, but since often a comparatively unknown horse finishes very fast it would be more likely to be the popular horse that finished surprisingly at the tail end—LAST. That would arouse suspicion.

18. LADS is more apt than LIDS. The expression "they turn out to be" implies something that "develops" over a period of time. If LIDS are misfits they always were misfits. LADS could develop into misfits over a period of time.

19. A SNARE always carries with it an element of danger. Its purpose is dangerous—to trap or ensnare. This is not necessarily true of a SNAKE; it might well be one of the many harmless varieties.

22. BEAR is a more comprehensive answer. Why should they FEAR criticism. They will, of course, HEAR criticism but BEAR covers what they HEAR, read about and FEAR, thus a more all-embracing answer.

The United Gas in Houston has twenty-five men who read meters on an average 350 meters a day. They state that the real big hazard is a dog on the loose. Meter readers are told never to carry a club and never to strike at the dogs.

A mean looking old ram with his tribe of sheep dashed at a meter reader and he still carries some scars on his body as a result.

Fences, dogs and foul weather are listed in Houston as the big problems encountered.

The experiences of another Houston meter reader were explained thus: "I was reading a meter in a fenced in yard when I had to jump a fence to escape the canine, and on the other side of the fence I faced a second one still more ferocious so I jumped another fence and there faced a third dog. I took chances with him and came out with only a few scratches."

All meter readers are said to agree with our own Eugene Moore, it is a highly exciting calling, this reading of meters.

A delightful and instructive session was held when the annual banquet of the West Monroe - Monroe Chamber of Commerce was conducted. The outgoing president, Shelby Cage, gave a comprehensive report of the past year's progress which achieved substantial results.

The election of J. Grayson Guthrie, local banker, was greeted with general approval. Other officers are H. H. Hudson, vice-president; J. W. Roberson, West Monroe bank president, secretary and James Williams, executive secretary.

The address of the evening was by Tom Collins, of Kansas City, whose original humor kept his hearers amused as well as instructed.

Two Boys Held After Fire Destroys House

Monroe juvenile officers Thursday were investigating the burning of a house after taking into custody two small Negro boys who were later turned over to their parents.

Sgt. James Kelly, of the city juvenile department, said the two boys had skipped school and were playing with matches in the small house which was owned by Mrs. Josephine Falletto. The house, which was partially destroyed, was located at 703 North 19th Street.

Kelly explained that a match fell into hay stored in the house and started the fire.

The boys, whom Kelly said had admitted a series of minor pilferings recently, fled the burning house and stayed away from home until late Wednesday night.

Northeast Edges Out Midwestern University 72-70

Balanced Scoring Sparks Victory Over Invaders

The Northeast State College Indians defeated the highly-rated Midwestern University Indians 72-70 here last night in a thrill-packed game that saw the lead change several times during the fracas.

Midwestern was leading at halftime by 38-32 but the Northeast defense tightened up and held the high scoring machine from Wichita Falls to 32 points in the last half.

The Indians victory was due largely to methodic scoring distributed over the line-up. Four Indians hit in the double figures to help keep the Midwestern defense off-balance.

W. M. GYM TONIGHT

The Northeast quintet will play at home again tonight, taking on Emporia State five at the West Monroe gymnasium. The game, which starts at 8 p.m., marks the third in a row for the Indians on a Twin Cities court.

Ray Schuman, who scored 39 points against Northeast in Wichita Falls was slowed somewhat but still led the visitors with 22 points.

Lloyd Crocker really sparked the Indians both offensively and defensively, scoring 17 points and holding Weaver, the big 6-6 center of Midwestern, to ten points. Bill Bradley tied Crocker with 19 markers for the evening.

Northeast's record now stands at five victories and two defeats in the infant season.

Luddie Lightburn Decisions Dupas In Ten-Rounder

NEW YORK, Dec. 26—UP "Lightnin' Luddie" Lightburn of British Honduras scrambled the lightweight ratings Friday night with a body attack that gained him a unanimous 10-round decision over third-ranking Ralph Dupas of New Orleans in their ultra-fast TV-radio fight at Madison Square Garden.

Unranked Lightburn, 21, unable to reach his switch-hitting and side-stepping opponent's head in the first round, began concentrating on the mid-section to put the brakes on Dupas' speed and bring down his protecting arms.

Lightburn forced the fighting in every round but at times was given a boxing lesson by the 20-year-old "wonder boy" from Louisiana, who baffled him with his will-o-the-wisp tactics.

Lightburn weighed 137¾ pounds to Dupas' 138½.

It was young Ralph's first defeat in 10 fights and the seventh loss in his career of 69 bouts. It was not an upset, however. Although Lightburn is unranked in the 135-pound division, he went into the ring favored at 7-5 because of his combined skill, speed and punch.

Throughout the bout his punches were more effective than those of his rapidly moving opponent.

The three ring officials favored Lightburn on rounds as follows: Referee Harry Kessler, 5-4-1; Judge Bert Grant, 6-4, and Judge Jack Gordon, 6-3-1. The United Press had it even on rounds but favored Lightburn on points, 6-5.

Ted Atkinson will be after his fifth Hialeah jockey title when he rides during the 40-day meeting opening Jan. 17.

L.T.I. Cagers Defeat Arkansas Quint In Tourney

MARIANA, Fla., Dec. 16—(Special)—Louisiana Training Institute of Monroe defeated Arkansas' Institute for boys 53-21 today before bowing out 50-39 to the Florida Institute.

Tonight the L.T.I. cagers will play Alabama Training Institute for second place in the four-state round robin tournament.

Ferriday Wins 'A' Crown

BATON ROUGE, Dec. 16 (Special)—Ferriday High School's rampaging Bulldogs rolled to the Louisiana Class A football championship and their thirty-ninth straight victory tonight by blanking Redemptorist 14-0 in a game that featured two long touchdown runs.

Ferriday scored first in the second period when fullback Tommy Purvis went over left tackle for 55 yards and a touchdown. Good blocking by Tony Brocato made Purvis' touchdown possible. Manson Nelson booted between the uprights to put the Bulldogs out front 7-0 at the half.

Halfback Guy Hill delivered Ferriday's second marker, traveling 61 yards over left guard in the third quarter. Nelson again kicked the point.

Redemptorist crossed the double stripe in the fourth period but the touchdown was nullified by a penalty for illegal procedure. The team had gotten into Ferriday territory after fumbling a punt.

All-America center Max Fugler stood out offensively and defensively in the Ferriday line.

Penny Lucas rolled a 299 game at Gossett's New York Riveria alleys. After 11 straight strikes the 5 pin wiggled but failed to fall. Her three-game series was 630.

Stops Delhi 34-7

Holy Name Cops 'B' Title

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 16 (AP)—All-state back Huey O'Connor and Ronnie Smith scored two touchdowns each tonight as Holy Name overpowered Delhi 34-7 to win the Louisiana class B football championship.

The victorious Knights played alert ball, recovering four fumbles and turning three of them into touchdowns. One of O'Connor's touchdowns was on a 70-yard pass interception return.

Holy Name wasted no time in moving ahead. Delhi took the opening kickoff and fumbled on the first play, with Roy Blanchard recovering for Holy Name on the Delhi 35. Eddie Robichaux went 17 yards on the first play and Smith scored on the next.

Delhi fumbled again after the second kickoff and Holy Name recovered but was stopped at the 28 after taking a 15-yard penalty. But Delhi fumbled again and O'Connor recovered at the 33. O'Connor scored from the two several plays later. All-State center Camille Bourg got the first of three conversions.

In the second period, Delhi lost the ball on a fumble at its 1 yd. line, and Smith added the touchdown.

Delhi scored just before the half with All-State Tommy Mathieu passing 21 yards to George Brown. Bobby Leach converted and the half ended with Holy Name ahead 20-7.

Holy Name scored twice in the final period, with quarterback Don Wattigny pushing across one and O'Connor getting the other on his interception return. Larry Giambulluca converted.

Kluszewski Most Feared Batter In National League

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—Know who's the most feared batter in the National League?

He's Ted Kluszewski, hard-hitting first baseman of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

This was revealed today with the release of the official 1955 national league averages which, for the first time, listed intentional bases on balls. Kluszewski drew 25 intentional walks, the most in the league. Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee was next with 20 and Duke Snider of Brooklyn had 19.

The circuit's slugging title went to Willie Mays of the New York Giants. He wound up with a .659 mark on 382 total bases in 580 at bats. Willie also made off with the slugging crown in 1954.

Snider finished in the runnerup spot behind Mays with a .628 average. Then came Mathews with .601, Ernie Banks of Chicago with .596 and Kluszewski with .585.

It was young Ralph's first defeat in 10 fights and the seventh loss in his career of 69 bouts. It was not an upset, however. Although Lightburn is unranked in the 135-pound division, he went into the ring favored at 7-5 because of his combined skill, speed and punch.

Throughout the bout his punches were more effective than those of his rapidly moving opponent.

The three ring officials favored Lightburn on rounds as follows: Referee Harry Kessler, 5-4-1; Judge Bert Grant, 6-4, and Judge Jack Gordon, 6-3-1. The United Press had it even on rounds but favored Lightburn on points, 6-5.

Ted Atkinson will be after his fifth Hialeah jockey title when he rides during the 40-day meeting opening Jan. 17.

L.T.I. Cagers Defeat Arkansas Quint In Tourney

MARIANA, Fla., Dec. 16—(Special)—Louisiana Training Institute of Monroe defeated Arkansas' Institute for boys 53-21 today before bowing out 50-39 to the Florida Institute.

Tonight the L.T.I. cagers will play Alabama Training Institute for second place in the four-state round robin tournament.

BATON ROUGE, Dec. 16 (Special)—Ferriday High School's rampaging Bulldogs rolled to the Louisiana Class A football championship and their thirty-ninth straight victory tonight by blanking Redemptorist 14-0 in a game that featured two long touchdown runs.

Ferriday scored first in the second period when fullback Tommy Purvis went over left tackle for 55 yards and a touchdown. Good blocking by Tony Brocato made Purvis' touchdown possible. Manson Nelson booted between the uprights to put the Bulldogs out front 7-0 at the half.

Halfback Guy Hill delivered Ferriday's second marker, traveling 61 yards over left guard in the third quarter. Nelson again kicked the point.

Redemptorist crossed the double stripe in the fourth period but the touchdown was nullified by a penalty for illegal procedure. The team had gotten into Ferriday territory after fumbling a punt.

All-America center Max Fugler stood out offensively and defensively in the Ferriday line.

Penny Lucas rolled a 299 game at Gossett's New York Riveria alleys. After 11 straight strikes the 5 pin wiggled but failed to fall. Her three-game series was 630.

Bengals Come

led by guards Pat Anderson and Jerry Torrans, tackle Bob Johnson, end Tom Causey and linebacker Gene Howard.

The longest run of the game from scrimmage was a 40-yard jaunt by King in the third quarter, but it came to naught when the Bengals fumbled and lost the ball on the next play on the Reserve 43.

The Reserve fans were much impressed by the colorful Neville band and Tigerettes who performed at intermission, and rushed in en masse along with the Neville fans onto the field after the game to jubilantly boost Coach Bill Ruple to their shoulders and "tote" him off the field.

Holy Name Cops 'B' Title

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 16 (AP)—All-state back Huey O'Connor and Ronnie Smith scored two touchdowns each tonight as Holy Name overpowered Delhi 34-7 to win the Louisiana class B football championship.

The victorious Knights played alert ball, recovering four fumbles and turning three of them into touchdowns. One of O'Connor's touchdowns was on a 70-yard pass interception return.

Holy Name wasted no time in moving ahead. Delhi took the opening kickoff and fumbled on the first play, with Roy Blanchard recovering for Holy Name on the Delhi 35. Eddie Robichaux went 17 yards on the first play and Smith scored on the next.

Delhi fumbled again after the second kickoff and Holy Name recovered but was stopped at the 28 after taking a 15-yard penalty. But Delhi fumbled again and O'Connor recovered at the 33. O'Connor scored from the two several plays later. All-State center Camille Bourg got the first of three conversions.

In the second period, Delhi lost the ball on a fumble at its 1 yd. line, and Smith added the touchdown.

Delhi scored just before the half with All-State Tommy Mathieu passing 21 yards to George Brown. Bobby Leach converted and the half ended with Holy Name ahead 20-7.

Holy Name scored twice in the final period, with quarterback Don Wattigny pushing across one and O'Connor getting the other on his interception return. Larry Giambulluca converted.

Leading scorers in the girls event were Alice Butts of Epps, with 22, and Mary Montgomery, of Mer Rouge, with 19.

BASKIN WINS TWO

BASKIN, Dec. 16 (Special)—The Baskin High School cagers edged out the Crowville boys 50-44 here tonight after the Baskin girls, state Class B champions for eight consecutive years, had posted a 39-31 victory over the Crowville sextet.

High scorers in the boys game were Baskin's Hollis Shirley, with 17 points, and Crowville's Mack Franklin, with 16. Linda Lord was pace setter for the Baskin forwards with 18 points and Betty Jo Ford led the losers' offensive with 21 points.

Kluszewski Most Feared Batter In National League

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—Know who's the most feared batter in the National League?

He's Ted Kluszewski, hard-hitting first baseman of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

This was revealed today with the release of the official 1955 national league averages which, for the first time, listed intentional bases on balls. Kluszewski drew 25 intentional walks, the most in the league. Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee was next with 20 and Duke Snider of Brooklyn had 19.

The circuit's slugging title went to Willie Mays of the New York Giants. He wound up with a .659 mark on 382 total bases in 580 at bats. Willie also made off with the slugging crown in 1954.

Snider finished in the runnerup spot behind Mays with a .628 average. Then came Mathews with .601, Ernie Banks of Chicago with .596 and Kluszewski with .585.

3 Delhi, 2 Island On All-State

Sicily Island Due; Newellton's Head On For 2nd Year

By JAMES SAGGUS
The Associated Press

Three linemen and two backs landed spots on The Associated Press' 1955 class B all-state football team today for the second straight year.

The five were end Jerry Don Head of Newellton, guard Albert Dampier of Sicily Island, center Camille Bourg of New Orleans Holy Name, and backs Huey O'Connor of Holy Name and B. K. Miller of Sicily Island.

Holy Name took four berths on the 22-man team and Delhi, its opponent in last night's battle for the class B state title, got three places. Logansport and Sicily Island placed two players each and 11 other schools one player each.

Besides Bourg and O'Connor, Holy Name placed tackle Roy Blanchard and guard Jimmy France. From Delhi were end Eugene Gilley, tackle Jimmy Britt and Tommy Mathieu.

The All-state line features rangy ends and beef from tackle to tackle.

With Head and Gilley at ends are Milton Hansen of Logansport and Bob Tassin of St. Charles, all performers capable of good double duty play. Hansen scored 49 points on passes and Head collected three touchdowns and one conversion. Tassin and Gilley also were top-notch receivers.

With Britt and Blanchard at tackles were Don Brady of Clinton and Doug Fowler of Coushatta. At guards with Dampier and France were Hulen Tullier of St. Amant and Douglas Droddy of Merryville. Leon Estates of Basile and Bourg held down center.

Bourg is the heavyweight at 220 pounds, while the four tackles and France scale 200 or better. Tullier and Estes are the fiery lightweights.

The backfield is a high-powered combination of hard runners, good passers and broken field aces.

O'Connor scored 138 points as a power runner and returned nine kicks for touchdowns. Mathieu, a breakaway threat, scored 78 points for Delhi, while Miller got 126 points on runs ranging up to 98 yards. Spears, another hard runner, scored 49 points and averaged nine yards per carry.

The other four backs all broke the 1,000-yard mark rushing. Ste. Marie had 1,075 yards and 101 points and Theriot 1,503 yards and 170 points.

Ste. Marie and Juneau are good passers. Juneau completed 16 of 30 tosses and averaged 36.9 yards per punt.

The team was selected by members of the Louisiana Associated Press Sports Writers Assn. It includes 18 seniors, three juniors and one sophomore. The juniors are Blanchard, Ste. Marie and O'Connor and the soph is France.

Honorable mention:

Ends—Dempsey Theriot, Dutchtown; Leon Guidry, St. Amant; Lou Guccione, Holy Name (New Orleans); Jimmy Horne, Logansport; Donald Smith, Mangham; Don Chapman, Wisner; Sam Duchesne, Newellton; Wiley Rabb, Waterproof; Boyce McGuffee, Columbia; Cleveland Beard, Oberlin; Glenn Goudeau, Cottonport; Dick Averill, Hanson (Franklin); Naomi Landry, Erath; Max Crochet, St. Francis (Houma) and Jerry Woods, Coushatta.

Snead's 70 Good For One-Stroke Lead At Sanford

By MERCER BAILEY

SANFORD, Fla., Dec. 16 (AP)—The weather turned cold today and so did Sam Snead's putter, but the slammer's even par 70 was good enough to give him a one-stroke lead at the halfway mark in the $15,000 Sanford open golf tournament.

"I missed putts all over the course," Sam moaned as he walked off the windswept, chilly course. His record six-under par 64 in the opening round gave Snead a 36-hole total of 134.

Bunched in second place just one stroke back of Snead were Al Balding of Ontario, Canada, Walker Inman Jr., of Augusta, Ga., Leo Biagetti of Willoughby, Ohio, Jim Ferree of Winston-Salem, N.C., and Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill.

Inman and Balding shot 66s—low score for the day. Biagetti had a 67 and Furgol and Ferree fired 68s.

The field of 125 was reduced to the 60 low scoring pros, plus ties, and 10 amateurs for the final two rounds. Pros shooting 144 or under qualified.

Low scorers after the second round:

Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., 64-70—134.
Jim Ferree, Winston-Salem, N. C., 67-68—135.

Grambling Ace Surpasses Hemric, Selvy In Points

GRAMBLING, La., Dec. 16 (AP)—Ramblin' Bob Hopkins keeps collegiate basketball statisticians scurrying because he changes the national record every time he drops in a point for Grambling College.

The 6-9 senior scored 42 points in Grambling's 103-62 victory over Tuskegee (Ala.) Institute Tuesday night to bring his collegiate total to 3,104 points. Hopkins established a new bracket for collegiate players last week when he became the first ever to hit the 3,000-point figure.

Grambling is a Negro college of 1,815 students, located in the north central section of the state.

Players such as Dickie Hemric of Wake Forest and Frank Selvy of Furman dominated the collegiate scoring scene in the past few years, yet neither approached the almost fantastic total produced by Hopkins.

In 104 college games, Hemric scored 2,587 points for a 24.9 per game average. Selvy hit for 2,583 in 78 games for a 32.5 average.

Hopkins has played in 106 games and shows an average of 29.6 points per game. He's hitting for a lot better than his career average this season since he has 210 points in six games, a 30-point average.

Another comparative unknown, Carl Hartman of Alderson-Broaddus, was the NCAA record holder before Hopkins smashed the standard last week. Hartman had 2,959 points in his four years of competition.

While Hopkins is keenly aware of his point-producing proficiencies he hesitates at times for fear of being labeled a ball hog. He connected for 62 points for his one-game high last December, but called time an apologized to his teammates for shooting too much.

Hopkins started his assault on the baskets while in high school at Jonesboro, about 30 miles from Grambling. He scored 941 points in his senior year and was flooded with scholarship offers, but chose Grambling because it was close to his home.

In his first season at Grambling, he scored 856 points and followed with 1,002 in his sophomore year. He upper the tempo to 1,036 last season and looks like a good bet to his the 1,000-point mark again this season with 26 games left on the schedule.

Grambling coach Eddie Robinson is, quite naturally, one of Hopkins' biggest boosters. Hopkins has devoted three years to hastening the aging process of Robinson's opponents in the coaching business.

Robinson contends Hopkins has few shot-making weaknesses. And the Grambling pilot is also quick to cite Hopkins' ability to pass to teammates for a talent often overlooked in the flamour of his scoring.

Hopkins, who carried 205 pounds on his muscular frame, would like to play professional basketball after graduation and then move into the coaching ranks. The Harlem Globetrotters are on his trail, but big Bob has his sights set on playing in the National Basketball Assn. And it's a good bet several NBA teams would like to have him on the roster.

"The team doesn't matter," he says, "as long as I'm playing."

Nashua To Begin Training Dec. 26 At Hialeah Park

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 16 —UP—Nashua will be placed in training Dec. 26 at Hialeah Park for a campaign designed to make him the world's leading money winner in keeping with his new distinction as the most expensive piece of horseflesh in history, trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons said Friday.

"We will have the tack on him and start galloping Dec. 26," said the 81-year-old turf veteran as he outlined Nashua's work schedule for the 1956 season.

Under Fitzsimmons's guidance Nashua already has won $945,415 to stand second on the all-time list behind Citation who won $1,085,760. Thursday the colt became the only "horse of the year" ever to change ownership at the height of his career, when he was sold to Leslie B. Combs II for a record $1,251,200 by the executors of the William Woodward Jr. estate.

Nashua is scheduled to arrive from Claiborne Farm near Lexington, Ky., where he has been since shortly after Woodward was accidentally shot by his wife, on Dec. 24. The former Belair Stud champion will have Christmas Day off and then resume training.

Meanwhile, turf circles buzzed with speculation as to whether Nashua was worth the fabulous price paid for him. Pickings are slim in the handicap division for success in one rich race only leads to higher weight in the next.

Cook Will Face Pittsburgh Foe At Arena Tuesday

Clarence Cook of Bastrop will face Ted (Baby) Calento Atapiou, Pittsburgh, Penn. threat who fought a losing battle with Bobby Dykes, in the main event at Gus Kallio's arena here Tuesday night.

Atapiou is expected to be one of the most formidable foes ever to face the Bastrop boxer by virtue of victories in both the middleweight and welterweight classes.

The ten-round main event will be preceded by four 4-round preliminaries.

Cook has lost only one fight during his long series of appearances at the local arena, that one to Norris Ray at the outset of his performances here.

Flyweight Champion Bout Is Postponed

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 16 (AP)—A scheduled title bout between flyweight champion Pascual Perez of Argentina and Leo Espinosa of Manila has been postponed from Dec. 30 to Jan. 7.

3 Delhi, 2 Island On All-State

Sicily Island Due; Newellton's Head On For 2nd Year

By JAMES SAGGUS
The Associated Press

Three linemen and two backs landed spots on The Associated Press' 1955 class B all-state football team today for the second straight year.

The five were end Jerry Don Head of Newellton, guard Albert Dampier of Sicily Island, center Camille Bourg of New Orleans Holy Name, and backs Huey O'Connor of Holy Name and B. K. Miller of Sicily Island.

Holy Name took four berths on the 22-man team and Delhi, its opponent in last night's battle for the class B state title, got three places. Logansport and Sicily Island placed two players each and 11 other schools one player each.

Besides Bourg and O'Connor, Holy Name placed tackle Roy Blanchard and guard Jimmy France. From Delhi were end Eugene Gilley, tackle Jimmy Britt and Tommy Mathieu.

The All-state line features rangy ends and beef from tackle to tackle.

With Head and Gilley at ends are Milton Hansen of Logansport and Bob Tassin of St. Charles, all performers capable of good double duty play. Hansen scored 49 points on passes and Head collected three touchdowns and one conversion. Tassin and Gilley also were top-notch receivers.

With Britt and Blanchard at tackles were Don Brady of Clinton and Doug Fowler of Coushatta. At guards with Dampier and France were Hulen Tullier of St. Amant and Douglas Droddy of Merryville. Leon Estates of Basile and Bourg held down center.

Bourg is the heavyweight at 220 pounds, while the four tackles and France scale 200 or better. Tullier and Estes are the fiery lightweights.

The backfield is a high-powered combination of hard runners, good passers and broken field aces.

O'Connor scored 138 points as a power runner and returned nine kicks for touchdowns. Mathieu, a breakaway threat, scored 78 points for Delhi, while Miller got 126 points on runs ranging up to 98 yards. Spears, another hard runner, scored 49 points and averaged nine yards per carry.

The other four backs all broke the 1,000-yard mark rushing. Ste. Marie had 1,075 yards and 101 points and Theriot 1,503 yards and 170 points.

Ste. Marie and Juneau are good passers. Juneau completed 16 of 30 tosses and averaged 36.9 yards per punt.

The team was selected by members of the Louisiana Associated Press Sports Writers Assn. It includes 18 seniors, three juniors and one sophomore. The juniors are Blanchard, Ste. Marie and O'Connor and the soph is France.

Honorable mention:

Ends—Dempsey Theriot, Dutchtown; Leon Guidry, St. Amant; Lou Guccione, Holy Name (New Orleans); Jimmy Horne, Logansport; Donald Smith, Mangham; Don Chapman, Wisner; Sam Duchesne, Newellton; Wiley Rabb, Waterproof; Bovce McGuffee, Columbia; Cleveland Beard, Oberlin; Glenn Goudeau, Cottonport; Dick Averill, Hanson (Franklin); Naomi Landry, Erath; Max Crochet, St. Francis (Houma) and Jerry Woods, Coushatta.

Grambling Ace Surpasses Hemric, Selvy In Points

GRAMBLING, La., Dec. 16 (AP)—Ramblin' Bob Hopkins keeps collegiate basketball statisticians scurrying because he changes the national record every time he drops in a point for Grambling College.

The 6-9 senior scored 42 points in Grambling's 103-62 victory over Tuskegee (Ala.) Institute Tuesday night to bring his collegiate total to 3,104 points. Hopkins established a new bracket for collegiate players last week when he became the first ever to hit the 3,000-point figure.

Grambling is a Negro college of 1,815 students, located in the north central section of the state.

Players such as Dickie Hemric of Wake Forest and Frank Selvy of Furman dominated the collegiate scoring scene in the past few years, yet neither approached the almost fantastic total produced by Hopkins.

In 104 college games, Hemric scored 2,587 points for a 24.9 per game average. Selvy hit for 2,583 in 78 games for a 32.5 average.

Hopkins has played in 106 games and shows an average of 29.6 points per game. He's hitting for a lot better than his career average this season since he has 210 points in six games, a 30-point average.

Another comparative unknown, Carl Hartman of Alderson-Broaddus, was the NCAA record holder before Hopkins smashed the standard last week. Hartman had 2,959 points in his four years of competition.

While Hopkins is keenly aware of his point-producing proficiencies he hesitates at times for fear of being labeled a ball hog. He connected for 62 points for his one-game high last December, but called time an apologized to his teammates for shooting too much.

Hopkins started his assault on the baskets while in high school at Jonesboro, about 30 miles from Grambling. He scored 941 points in his senior year and was flooded with scholarship offers, but chose Grambling because it was close to his home.

In his first season at Grambling, he scored 856 points and followed with 1,002 in his sophomore year. He upper the tempo to 1,036 last season and looks like a good bet to his the 1,000-point mark again this season with 26 games left on the schedule.

Grambling coach Eddie Robinson is, quite naturally, one of Hopkins' biggest boosters. Hopkins has devoted three years to hastening the aging process of Robinson's opponents in the coaching business.

Robinson contends Hopkins has few shot-making weaknesses. And the Grambling pilot is also quick to cite Hopkins' ability to pass to teammates for a talent often overlooked in the flamour of his scoring.

Hopkins, who carried 205 pounds on his muscular frame, would like to play professional basketball after graduation and then move into the coaching ranks. The Harlem Globetrotters are on his trail, but big Bob has his sights set on playing in the National Basketball Assn. And it's a good bet several NBA teams would like to have him on the roster.

"The team doesn't matter," he says, "as long as I'm playing."

Nashua To Begin Training Dec. 26 At Hialeah Park

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 16 —UP—Nashua will be placed in training Dec. 26 at Hialeah Park for a campaign designed to make him the world's leading money winner in keeping with his new distinction as the most expensive piece of horseflesh in history, trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons said Friday.

"We will have the tack on him and start galloping Dec. 26," said the 81-year-old turf veteran as he outlined Nashua's work schedule for the 1956 season.

Under Fitzsimmons's guidance Nashua already has won $945,415 to stand second on the all-time list behind Citation who won $1,085,760. Thursday the colt became the only "horse of the year" ever to change ownership at the height of his career, when he was sold to Leslie B. Combs II for a record $1,251,200 by the executors of the William Woodward Jr. estate.

Nashua is scheduled to arrive from Claiborne Farm near Lexington, Ky., where he has been since shortly after Woodward was accidentally shot by his wife, on Dec. 24. The former Belair Stud champion will have Christmas Day off and then resume training.

Meanwhile, turf circles buzzed with speculation as to whether Nashua was worth the fabulous price paid for him. Pickings are slim in the handicap division for success in one rich race only leads to higher weight in the next.

Snead's 70 Good For One-Stroke Lead At Sanford

By MERCER BAILEY

SANFORD, Fla., Dec. 16 (AP)—The weather turned cold today and so did Sam Snead's putter, but the slammer's even par 70 was good enough to give him a one-stroke lead at the halfway mark in the $15,000 Sanford open golf tournament.

"I missed putts all over the course," Sam moaned as he walked off the windswept, chilly course. His record six-under par 64 in the opening round gave Snead a 36-hole total of 134.

Bunched in second place just one stroke back of Snead were Al Balding of Ontario, Canada, Walker Inman Jr., of Augusta, Ga., Leo Biagetti of Willoughby, Ohio, Jim Ferree of Winston-Salem, N.C., and Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill.

Inman and Balding shot 66s—low score for the day. Biagetti had a 67 and Furgol and Ferree fired 68s.

The field of 125 was reduced to the 60 low scoring pros, plus ties, and 10 amateurs for the final two rounds. Pros shooting 144 or under qualified.

Low scorers after the second round:

Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., 64-70—134.
Jim Ferree, Winston-Salem, N. C., 67-68—135.

Cook Will Face Pittsburgh Foe At Arena Tuesday

Clarence Cook of Bastrop will face Ted (Baby) Calento Atapiou, Pittsburgh, Penn. threat who fought a losing battle with Bobby Dykes, in the main event at Gus Kallio's arena here Tuesday night.

Atapiou is expected to be one of the most formidable foes ever to face the Bastrop boxer by virtue of victories in both the middleweight and welterweight classes.

The ten-round main event will be preceded by four 4-round preliminaries.

Cook has lost only one fight during his long series of appearances at the local arena, that one to Norris Ray at the outset of his performances here.

Flyweight Champion Bout Is Postponed

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 16 (AP)—A scheduled title bout between flyweight champion Pascual Perez of Argentina and Leo Espinosa of Manila has been postponed from Dec. 30 to Jan. 7.

Russian Leaders Begin Conference In Afghanistan

KABUL, Afghanistan, Dec. 16 (AP) — Russia's traveling salesmen, Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev, sat down around the bargaining table today with apparently receptive Afghan leaders.

Afghan Premier Mohammed Daud already has received economic aid from the Soviet Union and is counting on more, plus political support for Afghanistan's demand that a new state for Pathan tribesmen be carved out of neighboring Pakistan.

But Afghan officials are reluctant to appear too eager and are playing the Soviet leaders' visit down for fear of making the West think country may turn into a Communist satellite.

Afghanistan especially wants to remain friendly with the United States, from which it has received much economic aid. In addition, overtures have been made to President Eisenhower for his influence in the dispute with Pakistan.

On the other hand, the Russians are after close links with this mountainous nation so they can extend Soviet influence right to Pakistan's borders on historic Khyber Pass.

More than a year ago the Russians sent the Afghans economic aid in the form of road paving teams, bakery equipment, busses, taxis and an asphalt plant. This aid based on a long-term credit barter, gave Kabul, capital of this country of 12 million people, its first paved roads, taxis and modern buses.

The United States had advanced millions of dollars to improve Afghanistan's economy. But while the Russians have paved the roads where Afghan officials and foreign visitors can easily see them, American projects such as the Helmand Valley reclamation scheme are in the remote hinterlands.

The Russian projects were quickly followed by invitations to the Afghan soccer team to visit the Soviet Union.

Then the smoldering Afghan-Pakistan dispute over Pushtoonistan burst last spring. Pushtoonistan is a state which Kabul say should be carved out of West Pakistan as a home for Pathan tribesmen who roam back and forth over borders.

Pakistan refuses to talk about Pushtoonistan and as a climax to a series of incidents, has all but closed its borders to the transit of good for landlocked Afghanistan. Kabul turned to Moscow and easily obtained agreement to receive goods via Russia.

THE GRASS FIRE MENACE—Two Monroe firemen extinguish a grass fire that threatened a north Monroe home before it was brought under control. The abundance of dead grass makes this time of year particularly dangerous with the possibility of grass fires. Chief H. L. Hales yesterday warned local residents to take extreme caution that grass fires don't endanger their homes. The two firemen above are, left to right, James Richards and Benny White, from No. four station. (Staff Photo by John Oldenburg)

Grevemberg Lashes Out At Ewing, Morrison In Monroe Campaign Talk

Francis C. Grevemberg, candidate for governor in the forthcoming January Democratic primary last night carried his campaign to the Monroe area, outlining the Grevemberg-Clanton platform to fifth Congressional district audiences and unleashing a new barrage against the associate editor of the Shreveport Times, charging that Don Ewing and his "captive candidate," New Orleans mayor de-Lesseps S. Morrison were conspiring to "return this state to wide open gambling."

Grevemberg and members of the Grevemberg - Clanton ticket appeared over television in Monroe, in a half hour question and answer program, where listeners were invited to submit questions to the candidates for their replies. Appearing with Grevemberg were candidates: Wesley H. Clanton, lieutenant governor; Ben C. Bennett Jr., attorney general and Robert Lindsey, auditor.

Television time for the candidates was devoted primarily to outlining platform points in answer to questions telephoned by listeners. A spokesman for the ticket asserted that telephone operators were "swamped" by questions, and that all could not be answered in the time allowed. Another telecast is scheduled for Saturday to answer more of the questions.

Following the television show, Grevemberg issued a statement charging north Louisiana newspaperman Ewing with calculating to return the state to wide open bambling. The statement follows:

"I had expected that all the facts were in, and that all the evidence had been presented on my connection, during 1948-1949, with the Miramar Hotel on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. I had further expected that it was up to the voters of the state to decide whether or not this incident in my life had been blown up out of proportion by the Associate Editor of the Shreveport Times, Mister Don Ewing.

"Today, however, an interesting sidelight to Mister Ewing's editorial, in which he tried to paint me as a racketeer and unsavory character, has come to light. It is contained on the front page of the Weekly News of Marksville, Louisiana, which bears the publication date of December 17, 1955.

"In a front page editorial in this newspaper is reproduced a letter from Don Ewing, the author of the editorial I referred to, who has since endorsed the candidacy of Mayor Morrison for governor. In his letter, besides glibly low-rating every candidate in the governor's race, including me, Mister Ewing gives his views on gambling.

"Mister Ewing sums up his position this way: 'Don't put me down as a moralist. I love slots—now and then and properly conducted as to the payoff. I prefer either Scotch or bourbon to be mixed only with good old branch water. I'll never forget the Sunday I was driving up to Alex (Alexandria) and drove down to your city and hit $15 with one quarter in a one-armed bandit. A glorious day, Papa Bear.'

"Maybe the Bear Party should come out for wide open slots?"

"I believe that Mister Ewing has convinced everyone that he will do everything to elect Mayor Morrison, and apparently that includes character assassination of me and my family. Many people have asked why?

"I believe now Mister Ewing has answered that question, and has effectively and dramatically closed his case. I said earlier that I felt that Mister Ewing, and others like him, who had become unable to determine the harm that gambling does to a community and its citizens, were the unwitting tools of those who would allow gambling and vice to run rampant in our state.

"Now I am wondering whether Mister Ewing and his candidate are unwitting tools after all, and whether or not Mister Ewing's actions are now shrewdly calculated to help return this state to wide open gambling. This most recent expression, coupled with Mister Ewing's advice to me to get out of the governor's race, expresses his views on gambling more eloquently than any combination of editorials he might write. For my part, I am still opposed to gambling, whether it be illegal, such as Mister Ewing has suggested, or the legalized variety which the captive candidate of the Shreveport Times has advocated on several occasions in the past."

Grevemberg, during his television show, stated that he was "emphatically in favor" of continued segregation, stating that integration would work a hardship on Louisiana's colored population, especially school children, who would have to "endure the jeers and insults" of other children. He also covered his agricultural program and his plans for an expanded highway network.

Daniel Called As Witness In Case Of Man's Threats

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 16—UP—Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex.) was subpenaed Friday as a witness at a justice of the peace hearing in the case of a witness who allegedly made threats against the subcommittee.

Daniel and his chief investigator, Lee Speers, were ordered to appear as witnesses in the abusive language case against Clarence Cecil Flint, 24, by Justice John F. Onion.

Flint was alleged to have made telephone threats to the subcommittee during its two-day hearing into narcotics traffic that ended Thursday. Daniel and Speers were served wih subpenas at the request of Flint's attorney, Herman G. Naml.

Flint, who appeared as a witness at the hearing Thursday, was reported to have said, "I'll kill that ——— who issued that subpena" for his girl friend, Shirley Orlawski Reese, 18, who also appeared as a witness before the subcommittee.

NATO To Defend

eignty" to upset four-power control of Berlin.

The closing communique also announced that NATO nations have tied their alliance more firmly together with provisions for stronger political and economic co-operation to back up their growing military strength.

The NATO nations backed up their warnings to the Soviets by disclosing they have decided to set up a new tactical NATO airforce behind the Alps in northern Italy to counter any Soviet aggression. The air guard is co-ordinated with a Europe-wide radar network.

The move, strengthening the West's air shield against Soviet aggression, will widen the spread of Allied air forces, now headquartered in Germany — well back from the Iron Curtain.

It also will strengthen the West's guard over southern Europe and the Balkans now that Austria has sealed off Germany from Italy by embracing neutrality.

A NATO spokesman said the NATO foreign ministers, now meeting here, had agreed to form the new defensive air unit to be known as the Fifth Allied Tactical Air Force.

It will include both U.S. and Italian units and probably will have its headquarters at Verona, the spokesman said. He said U.S. air units would fly in to join some U.S. units already in northern Italy.

NATO's two other tactical air forces — the Second and Fourth — are based in Germany, near the Luxembourg and Dutch frontiers, respectively.

Such tactical air forces are primarily equipped with fast jets for fighter - bomber, interceptor and pursuit combat missions.

The announcement followed warnings by U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles that Russia is attempting a cold war penetration of the Middle East and Asia.

In other developments:

1. The NATO Treaty Council decided unanimously that none of its member nations will set up any relations with Communist East Germany.

2. Secretary of State Dulles met with Greek Foreign Minister Spyros Theotokis. It was reported Theotokis urged Dulles to aid in trying to patch up the strained relations between Greece and Turkey over the Cyprus issue and the recent anti-Greek riots in Turkish cities.

3. Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett conferred with French Foreign Minister Pinay for a half-hour at the Quai D'Orsay on the issue of "war and peace in the Middle East." Sharett said afterward that he and Pinay decided on no concrete move.

Long Promises Government To Benefit Masses

VIDALIA, December 16 (Special)—The prime issue in the current campaign is whether the people of Louisiana want government for the benefit of all the people or government for the benefit of the few, Earl K. Long said Friday.

Long and members of his ticket spoke in Crowville, Gilbert, and St. Joseph before a meeting at Vidalia. They were scheduled later at Wisner and Mangham.

"That is the basic issue, and I believe the people of Louisiana know when I am their governor we will have government for all the people of this state," Long said.

The former Louisiana governor said numerous other issues have been raised: Segregation, the right to work, and gambling.

"I have expressed my position on these three matters freely, in my platform and on the stump," Long said.

"I am one hundred per cent for segregation. I think it is to the benefit of both the white and the colored races to maintain it. I was born in a segregated state and I expect to live all my life in one." he added, that he believed all the candidates are agreed on that issue.

"My opponents haven't always agreed on gambling, or the right to work clause, however," Long said. "One of the present candidates, Mr. Barham, has been on, not just two sides, but all four sides of both gambling and right to work. Right now he is trying to knife the very man whose ticket he is trying to be elected on."

Long said he believed the right to work should be given a trial, "Lets see if it does what it is planned to do. If it doesn't or if it hurts anyone, then is the time to reconsider."

Long said he is opposed to gambling and was confident that organized gambling was a "thing of the past."

Long said the real issue at stake is whether the government will be returned to the people and administered for the people.

"Its not government for the people or by the people now," he said, "you are not getting the things you should be getting, education, highways, humanitarian benefits, for the amount of money that is rolling into the state treasure, Louisiana is one of the richest and most blessed states in the nation."

Long and members of his ticket will speak Saturday at Dubach at 9:30 a.m., Homer at 11:15 a.m., Farmerville at 10 p.m., West Monroe at 2:45 p.m., Bastrop at 3:30 p.m., Oak Grove at 4:15 p.m., Delhi at 5:45 p.m., and Monroe at 7:30 p.m. The Monroe meeting will be held at Five Point.

W. M. To Have Lighting Contest

A Christmas home lighting contest in West Monroe offering four valuable prizes is expected to attract many entries, according to Kelly Thompson, chairman of the sponsoring West Monroe Businessmen's Association Christmas lighting committee.

Thompon said Friday that the deadline for entering the contest is 12 noon on Tuesday, December 20. He added, "Any citizen of West Monroe and vicinity may enter the contest by calling the Farmer's Feed and Seed store in West Monroe before 12 noon Tuesday."

Judging for selection of winners is set for the night of Wednesday, December 21, Thompson said.

Prizes to be given the top four winners are: first, a portable barbecue outfit valued at $80; second, an electric rotisserie broiler valued at $60; third, an R.C.A. clock radio valued at $35; and fourth, a General Electric frying pan valued at $26.

and as many others as his Senate duties and campaign funds will permit.

Stevenson, who captured the 1952 nomination from Kefauver, has announced he will enter the California primary as well as those in Minnesota March 20, Illinois April 10, Pennsylvania April 24 and Florida May 29.

The Kefauver - Stevenson showdown may come before California. The Minneapolis Tribune in a copyrighted story, quoted a high official of Minnesota's Democratic Farmer Labor party as saying that Kefauver will enter that state's primary.

At his news conference, Kefauver agreed with a questioner that the Democratic high - command in Minnesota appears to be "stacked" for Stevenson. But he said he is not "scared" to enter there and has evidence of grass roots support.

Kefauver, who was opposed by most Democratic leaders in his 1952 bid, said he has been assured by influential Democrats, including former President Truman, that there will be no "stop Kefauver movement" this time.

Commenting on Kefauver's announcement, Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said the senator is "an outstanding American" and a loyal Democrat who has done a "great job in Congress." He said he is sure Kefauver will conduct a vigorous campaign.

The tall, soft - spoken senator coupled his announcement with a blast at the Republicans. He called President Eisenhower "an outstanding world citizen" but said the GOP is "an awful load for him to pull along" despite his "personal attractiveness."

Negro Man Who Attacked Doctor's Wife Executed

PARCHMAN, Miss., Dec. 16 (AP)—Mose Robinson, 21-year-old Negro farm hand, died in the gas chamber today for the rape of a white woman.

An unidentified Negro preacher, who accompanied Robinson to the gas chamber, said the condemned man told him he had "made my peace with the Lord and I'm ready to go."

Sheriff Ike Shelton said the man went smiling to his death at 2 p.m. He died in six minutes.

Robinson was sentenced to die for raping the wife of a New Orleans physician last year.

The woman became lost while driving from Clarksdale to New Orleans and stopped Robinson to ask directions. He raped her in a cotton field while another Negro stood by.

Turncoat Rejoins Mother, Gets Home-Cooked Meal

ALDEN, Minn., Dec. 16 —UP— Turncoat GI Richard Tenneson, who turned his back on love of mother and country, came home Friday to her arms and a turkey dinner she cooked for him.

Tenneson, one of 23 American soldiers who refused repatriation after the Korean war, rejoined his family at Minneapolis after a flight from Seattle and then came to his farm home here.

The turkey dinner was his first home-cooked meal in nearly five years.

But the joyous homecoming was in marked contrast to the end of another flight two years ago when his mother, Mrs. Portia Howe, flew to Tokyo in an effort to persuade her son to return home.

All she got was a coldly impersonal letter from the former private telling her he would cast his lot with communism and she could not change his mind.

Life in Communist China changed his mind and he said in 'Seattle Thursday night that "I have come home as an American and not as a Communist."

Mrs. Howe, a deeply religious woman, rushed tearfully up the ramp of Tenneson's plane at Minneapolis to embrace him.

Mrs. Howe's greatest wish was that her son would not come home an atheist. He promised her he will go to church Sunday, despite earlier statements in Hong Kong that he no longer is religious.

Asked if he will pray to God in church, he replied:

"I'll be in church and that's what you go to church for."

However, he said he will "wait until I've been around here for awhile" before deciding whether he still believes in God. He said right now he feels uncertain.

mind whether he will seek a second term. Under Ohio law delegate slates must be filed before Feb. 8. The consent of the candidate is required for the filing of a slate pledged to him.

"It is my expectation that, should the President decide not to be a candidate, the Ohio delegation will meet as often as is necessary to determine to whom and in what measure to give its support," Bricker said in a statement issued through his office here.

As a favorite son candidate Bricker could hold the Ohio votes until they could be switched to Eisenhower, if he becomes a candidate.

Bricker said the Ohio Republican State Committee had asked him to serve as a candidate.

Both unions took a dim view of the loan offer. UE said it would be better if a settlement were made. The IUE said, "It would be more in keeping with the Christmas spirit if Westinghouse were to sit down and bargain in good faith."

Negotiations with both unions are in recess until next week.

Both unions are pressing for wage increases under reopening clauses in present contracts. The company has offered a five-year pact which it said contains a total minimum wage increase of 23½ cents an hour.

Mexican Charged In Wife's Slaying

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16—UP—Federal authorities Friday held Count Jean Gaston Bourdillon DeQueylar, 46, on a Mexican warrant charging him with the murder of his wealthy 62-year-old wife.

The count, a French-Swiss citizen, was arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Theodore Hocke on charges of flight to avoid prosecution for the slaying of Mrs. Marguerite DeQueylar.

Mrs. DeQueylar was found drowned in her bathtub at Cuernevaca, Mex., last July 24. She had written a will four days earlier leaving her $340,000 estate to the count, whom she married in Las Vegas, Nev., Nov. 30, 1950.

Attorney Samuel DeGroot declared the count was arrested on a "baseless murder complaint" instigated by California Institute of Technology which had been named beneficiary to the estate under an earlier will.

Northeast State Student Killed In Automobile Wreck

A Newellton youth at Northeast Louisiana State College died at 12:45 a.m. Friday, less than two hours after he received injuries in an automobile accident 15 miles west of West Monroe on Highway 80.

Burton Alva Lynch, 20, suffered head injuries, multiple contusions and abrasions, a fractured right knee and a dislocated right wrist in the accident, according to Dr. J. T. French, Ouachita parish coroner.

Dr. French returned the verdict of accidental death.

Lynch was a sophomore at Northeast State here, where he majored in agriculture.

Investigating state police said Lynch was apparently traveling to Ruston. A Ruston youth's address was found in the accident victim's clothing.

The police said Lynch's car was going west, apparently at a high rate of speed when it went into a spin, whirled end-around for about 450 feet and crashed into a tree on the side opposite from the driver. Lynch was not thrown from the car.

Lynch's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Lynch of Ruston, is a school teacher in Newellton. The father died about two and a half years ago. Lynch was unmarried and an only child.

Lynch was taken by Mulhearn Funeral Home ambulance to the St. Francis Hospital but the body was removed later to Crothers Funeral Home at Tallulah.

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Saturday at Union Church in Newellton, with the Rev. C. E. Pickens officiating. Interment will follow in the Legion Memorial Cemetery at Newellton.

Pallbearers will be Larry LaPlue, Charles Netterdille, Johnny Barnes, John Ensminger, Tate Hargrove and Dennis Hansbough, Allen West and Hugh Oglesby.

UN Assembly

sembly be extended until next Tuesday at midnight.

Russia was the first country to object the legality of the "cointossing deal." New Zealand's Sir Leslie Knox Munro, council president for this month, said he could not accept it either at a New Zealand delegatre or a chief executive of the council.

A parade of delegates followed these two to voice their objections. Many made no protest against the withdrawal of the Philippines — or Yugoslavia — under terms of the deal. But they refused to commit their vote for any candidate in the future.

The Security Council election and disarmament were the top problems in the final sessions which also were devoted to cleaning up odds and ends.

After prolonged debate on disarmament, repeating much that has already been said in political committee and disarmament commission meetings, the assembly voted overwhelmingly in favor to give priority to President Eisenhower's "open sky" arms inspection plan.

The General Assembly, with some of the new members and South Africa absent, voted 56 to 7 for a four-power western resolution calling for quick action on Mr. Eisenhower's proposal for an exchange of military blue-prints and aerial reconnaissance by the Soviet Union and United States.

The resolution also called for Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin's plan for the stationing of inspection teams at strategic control points, such as airfields and railroad junctions, to assure against either the U.S. or Soviet Union making a surprise attack on the other.

Several Soviet proposed amendments to the resolutions were defeated in a paragraph by paragraph vote by the assembly. U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., objected to the Russian amendments on the grounds that they changed the meaning and intention of the resolution, previously approved by the UN main political committee.

The resolution — sponsored by the U.S., Britain, France and Canada — urged the "states concerned" to take "all such measure of adequately safeguarded disarmaments as are now feasible."

The funeral will be held in the residence in Archibald Saturday at 2 p.m. Interment in the Little Creek cemetery.

He is survived by two brothers, Thomas and Robert Garrison; his parents and the following grandparents: Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Walters and Mrs. George Slaton, all of Archibald.

Russian Leaders Begin Conference In Afghanistan

KABUL, Afghanistan, Dec. 16 (AP) — Russia's traveling salesmen, Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev, sat down around the bargaining table today with apparently receptive Afghan leaders.

Afghan Premier Mohammed Daud already has received econimic aid from the Soviet Union and is counting on more, plus political support for Afghanistan's demand that a new state for Pathan tribesmen be carved out of neighboring Pakistan.

But Afghan officials are reluctant to appear too eager and are playing the Soviet leaders' visit down for fear of making the West think country may turn into a Communist satellite.

Afghanistan especially wants to remain friendly with the United States, from which it has received much economic aid. In addition, overtures have been made to President Eisenhower for his influence in the dispute with Pakistan.

On the other hand, the Russians are after close links with this mountainous nation so they can extend Soviet influence right to Pakistan's borders on historic Khyber Pass.

More than a year ago the Russians sent the Afghans economic aid in the form of road paving teams, bakery equipment, busses, taxis and an asphalt plant. This aid based on a long-term credit barter, gave Kabul, capital of this country of 12 million people, its first paved roads, taxis and modern buses.

The United States had advanced millions of dollars to improve Afghanistan's economy. But while the Russians have paved the roads where Afghan officials and foreign visitors can easily see them, American projects such as the Helmand Valley reclamation scheme are in the remote hinterlands.

The Russian projects were quickly followed by invitations to the Afghan soccer team to visit the Soviet Union.

Then the smoldering Afghan-Pakistan dispute over Pushtoonistan burst last spring. Pushtoonistan is a state which Kabul say should be carved out of West Pakistan as a home for Pathan tribesmen who roam back and forth over borders.

Pakistan refuses to talk about Pushtoonistan and as a climax to a series of incidents, has all but closed its borders to the transit of good for landlocked Afghanistan. Kabul turned to Moscow and easily obtained agreement to receive goods via Russia.

Grevemberg Lashes Out At Ewing, Morrison In Monroe Campaign Talk

Francis C. Grevemberg, candidate for governor in the forthcoming January Democratic primary last night carried his campaign to the Monroe area, outlining the Grevemberg-Clanton platform to fifth Congressional district audiences and unleashing a new barrage against the associate editor of the Shreveport Times, charging that Don Ewing and his "captive candidate," New Orleans mayor deLesseps S. Morrison were conspiring to "return this state to wide open gambling."

Grevemberg and members of the Grevemberg - Clanton ticket appeared over television in Monroe, in a half hour question and answer program, where listeners were invited to submit questions to the candidates for their replies. Appearing with Grevemberg were candidates: Wesley H. Clanton, lieutenant governor; Ben C. Bennett Jr., attorney general and Robert Lindsey, auditor.

Television time for the candidates was devoted primarily to outlining platform points in answer to questions telephoned by listeners. A spokesman for the ticket asserted that telephone operators were "swamped" by questions, and that all could not be answered in the time allowed. Another telecast is scheduled for Saturday to answer more of the questions.

Following the television show, Grevemberg issued a statement charging north Louisiana newspaperman Ewing with calculating to return the state to wide open bambling. The statement follows:

"I had expected that all the facts were in, and that all the evidence had been presented on my connection, during 1948-1949, with the Miramar Hotel on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. I had further expected that it was up to the voters of the state to decide whether or not this incident in my life had been blown up out of proportion by the Associate Editor of the Shreveport Times, Mister Don Ewing.

"Today, however, an interesting sidelight to Mister Ewing's editorial, in which he tried to paint me as a racketeer and unsavory character, has come to light. It is contained on the front page of the Weekly News of Marksville, Louisiana, which bears the publication date of December 17, 1955.

"In a front page editorial in this newspaper is reproduced a letter from Don Ewing, the author of the editorial I referred to, who has since endorsed the candidacy of Mayor Morrison for governor. In his letter, besides glibly low-rating every candidate in the governor's race, including me, Mister Ewing gives his views on gambling.

"Mister Ewing sums up his position this way: 'Don't put me down as a moralist. I love slots—now and then and properly conducted as to the payoff. I prefer either Scotch or bourbon to be mixed only with good old branch water. I'll never forget the Sunday I was driving up to Alex (Alexandria) and drove down to your city and hit $15 with one quarter in a one-armed bandit. A glorious day, Papa Bear.'

"Maybe the Bear Party should come out for wide open slots?"

"I believe that Mister Ewing has convinced everyone that he will do everything to elect Mayor Morrison, and apparently that includes character assassination of me and my family. Many people have asked why?

"I believe now Mister Ewing has answered that question, and has effectively and dramatically closed his case. I said earlier that I felt that Mister Ewing, and others like him, who had become unable to determine the harm that gambling does to a community and its citizens, were the unwitting tools of those who would allow gambling and vice to run rampant in our state.

"Now I am wondering whether Mister Ewing and his candidate are unwitting tools after all, and whether or not Mister Ewing's actions are now shrewdly calculated to help return this state to wide open gambling. This most recent expression, coupled with Mister Ewing's advice to me to get out of the governor's race, expresses his views on gambling more eloquently than any combination of editorials he might write. For my part, I am still opposed to gambling, whether it be illegal, such as Mister Ewing has suggested, or the legalized variety which the captive candidate of the Shreveport Times has advocated on several occasions in the past."

Grevemberg, during his television show, stated that he was "emphatically in favor" of continued segregation, stating that integration would work a hardship on Louisiana's colored population, especially school children, who would have to "endure the jeers and insults" of other children. He also covered his agricultural program and his plans for an expanded highway network.

Daniel Called As Witness In Case Of Man's Threats

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 16—UP—Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex.) was subpenaed Friday as a witness at a justice of the peace hearing in the case of a witness who allegedly made threats against the subcommittee.

Daniel and his chief investigator, Lee Speers, were ordered to appear as witnesses in the abusive language case against Clarence Cecil Flint, 24, by Justice John F. Onion.

Flint was alleged to have made telephone threats to the subcommittee during its two-day hearing into narcotics traffic that ended Thursday. Daniel and Speers were served wih subpenas at the request of Flint's attorney, Herman G. Nami.

Flint, who appeared as a witness at the hearing Thursday, was reported to have said, "I'll kill that ——— who issued that subpena" for his girl friend, Shirley Orlawski Reese, 18, who also appeared as a witness before the subcommittee.

eignty" to upset four-power control of Berlin.

The closing communique also announced that NATO nations have tied their alliance more firmly together with provisions for stronger political and economic co-operation to back up their growing military strength.

The NATO nations backed up their warnings to the Soviets by disclosing they have decided to set up a new tactical NATO airforce behind the Alps in northern Italy to counter any Soviet aggression. The air guard is co-ordinated with a Europe-wide radar network.

The move, strengthening the West's air shield against Soviet aggression, will widen the spread of Allied air forces, now headquartered in Germany — well back from the Iron Curtain.

It also will strengthen the West's guard over southern Europe and the Balkans now that Austria has sealed off Germany from Italy by embracing neutrality.

A NATO spokesman said the NATO foreign ministers, now meeting here, had agreed to form the new defensive air unit to be known as the Fifth Allied Tactical Air Force.

It will include both U.S. and Italian units and probably will have its headquarters at Verona, the spokesman said. He said U.S. air units would fly in to join some U.S. units already in northern Italy.

NATO's two other tactical air forces — the Second and Fourth — are based in Germany, near the Luxembourg and Dutch frontiers, respectively.

Such tactical air forces are primarily equipped with fast jets for fighter-bomber, interceptor and pursuit combat missions.

The announcement followed warnings by U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles that Russia is attempting a cold war penetration of the Middle East and Asia.

In other developments:

1. The NATO Treaty Council decided unanimously that none of its member nations will set up any relations with Communist East Germany.

2. Secretary of State Dulles met with Greek Foreign Minister Spyros Theotokis. It was reported Theotokis urged Dulles to aid in trying to patch up the strained relations between Greece and Turkey over the Cyprus issue and the recent anti-Greek riots in Turkish cities.

3. Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett conferred with French Foreign Minister Pinay for a half-hour at the Quai D'Orsay on the issue of "war and peace in the Middle East." Sharett said afterward that he and Pinay decided on no concrete move.

VIDALIA, December 16 (Special)—The prime issue in the current campaign is whether the people of Louisiana want government for the benefit of all the people or government for the benefit of the few, Earl K. Long said Friday.

Long and members of his ticket spoke in Crowville, Gilbert, and St. Joseph before a meeting at Vidalia. They were scheduled later at Wisner and Mangham.

"That is the basic issue, and I believe the people of Louisiana know when I am their governor we will have government for all the people of this state," Long said.

The former Louisiana governor said numerous other issues have been raised: Segregation, the right to work, and gambling.

"I have expressed my position on these three matters freely, in my platform and on the stump," Long said.

"I am one hundred per cent for segregation. I think it is to the benefit of both the white and the colored races to maintain it. I was born in a segregated state and I expect to live all my life in one." he added, that he believed all the candidates are agreed on that issue.

"My opponents haven't always agreed on gambling, or the right to work clause, however," Long said. "One of the present candidates, Mr. Barham, has been on, not just two sides, but all four sides of both gambling and right to work. Right now he is trying to knife the very man whose ticket he is trying to be elected on."

Long said he believed the right to work should be given a trial, "Lets see if it does what it is planned to do. If it doesn't or if it hurts anyone, then is the time to reconsider."

Long said he is opposed to gambling and was confident that organized gambling was a "thing of the past."

Long said the real issue at stake is whether the government will be returned to the people and administered for the people.

"Its not government for the people or by the people now," he said, "you are not getting the things you should be getting, education, highways, humanitarian benefits, for the amount of money that is rolling into the state treasure, Louisiana is one of the richest and most blessed states in the nation."

Long and members of his ticket will speak Saturday at Dubach at 9:30 a.m., Homer at 11:15 a.m., Farmerville at 10 p.m., West Monroe at 2:45 p.m., Bastrop at 3:30 p.m., Oak Grove at 4:15 p.m., Delhi at 5:45 p.m., and Monroe at 7:30 p.m. The Monroe meeting will be held at Five Point.

W. M. To Have Lighting Contest

A Christmas home lighting contest in West Monroe offering four valuable prizes is expected to attract many entries, according to Kelly Thompson, chairman of the sponsoring West Monroe Businessmen's Association Christmas lighting committee.

Thompon said Friday that the deadline for entering the contest is 12 noon on Tuesday, December 20. He added, "Any citizen of West Monroe and vicinity may enter the contest by calling the Farmer's Feed and Seed store in West Monroe before 12 noon Tuesday."

Judging for selection of winners is set for the night of Wednesday, December 21, Thompson said.

ROY B. COLE

LAKE PROVIDENCE, Dec. 16 (Special)—Roy B. Cole, 49, died unexpectedly at his residence in the Monticello community here at about 5 a.m. today.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete pending arrival of a son who is with the U. S. Marine Corps in California.

A native of Aikens, Okla., Cole moved to the Monticello community about seven years ago. He was a farmer by occupation.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Fabrice Cole; a daughter, Recie Cole; two sons, Roy D. Cole, Monroe, and Cpl. John C. Cole, with the U. S. Marine Corps; his mother, Mrs. Tempie Lane, Sallisaw, Okla.; two sisters, Mrs. Recie Fleming, Tulsa, Okla., and Mrs. Opal Reeder, of Sallisaw, Okla.; and five brothers, Robert Cole, Sondheimer, Johnny Cole, Tulsa, Okla., O. D. Lane, Sulpha, Okla., A. J. Lane, Whilehata, Kans.; and Dempsey Lane, Sallisaw, Okla.

INFANT GARRISON

Jerry Eugene Garrison, four-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert T. Garrison of Archibald, died in a Rayville clinic Friday morning.

The funeral will be held in the residence in Archibald Saturday at 2 p.m. Interment in the Little Creek cemetery.

He is survived by two brothers, Thomas and Robert Garrison; his parents and the following grandparents: Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Walters and Mrs. George Slaton, all of Archibald.

and as many others as his Senate duties and campaign funds will permit.

Stevenson, who captured the 1952 nomination from Kefauver, has announced he will enter the California primary as well as those in Minnesota March 20, Illinois April 10, Pennsylvania April 24 and Florida May 29.

The Kefauver - Stevenson showdown may come before California. The Minneapolis Tribune in a copyrighted story, quoted a high official of Minnesota's Democratic Farmer Labor party as saying that Kefauver will enter that state's primary.

At his news conference, Kefauver agreed with a questioner that the Democratic high - command in Minnesota appears to be "stacked" for Stevenson. But he said he is not "scared" to enter there and has evidence of grass roots support.

Kefauver, who was opposed by most Democratic leaders in his 1952 bid, said he has been assured by influential Democrats, including former President Truman, that there will be no "stop Kefauver movement" this time.

Commenting on Kefauver's announcement, Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said the senator is "an outstanding American" and a loyal Democrat who has done a "great job in Congress." He said he is sure Kefauver will conduct a vigorous campaign.

The tall, soft - spoken senator coupled his announcement with a blast at the Republicans. He called President Eisenhower "an outstanding world citizen" but said the GOP is "an awful load for him to pull along" despite his "personal attractiveness."

Negro Man Who Attacked Doctor's Wife Executed

PARCHMAN, Miss., Dec. 16 (AP)—Mose Robinson, 21-year-old Negro farm hand, died in the gas chamber today for the rape of a white woman.

An unidentified Negro preacher, who accompanied Robinson to the gas chamber, said the condemned man told him he had "made my peace with the Lord and I'm ready to go."

Sheriff Ike Shelton said the man went smiling to his death at 2 p.m. He died in six minutes.

Robinson was sentenced to die for raping the wife of a New Orleans physician last year.

The woman became lost while driving from Clarksdale to New Orleans and stopped Robinson to ask directions. He raped her in a cotton field while another Negro stood by.

Turncoat Rejoins Mother, Gets Home-Cooked Meal

ALDEN, Minn., Dec. 16 —UP—Turncoat GI Richard Tenneson, who turned his back on love of mother and country, came home Friday to her arms and a turkey dinner she cooked for him.

Tenneson, one of 23 American soldiers who refused repatriation after the Korean war, rejoined his family at Minneapolis after a flight from Seattle and then came to his farm home here.

The turkey dinner was his first home-cooked meal in nearly five years.

But the joyous homecoming was in marked contrast to the end of another flight two years ago when his mother, Mrs. Portia Howe, flew to Tokyo in an effort to persuade her son to return home.

All she got was a coldly impersonal letter from the former private telling her he would cast his lot with communism and she could not change his mind.

Life in Communist China changed his mind and he said in 'Seattle Thursday night that "I have come home as an American and not as a Communist."

Mrs. Howe, a deeply religious woman, rushed tearfully up the ramp of Tenneson's plane at Minneapolis to embrace him.

Mrs. Howe's greatest wish was that her son would not come home an atheist. He promised her he will go to church Sunday, despite earlier statements in Hong Kong that he no longer is religious.

Asked if he will pray to God in church, he replied:

"I'll be in church and that's what you go to church for."

However, he said he will "wait until I've been around here for awhile" before deciding whether he still believes in God. He said right now he feels uncertain.

mind whether he will seek a second term. Under Ohio law delegate slates must be filed before Feb. 8. The consent of the candidate is required for the filing of a slate pledged to him.

"It is my expectation that, should the President decide not to be a candidate, the Ohio delegation will meet as often as is necessary to determine to whom and in what measure to give its support," Bricker said in a statement issued through his office here.

As a favorite son candidate Bricker could hold the Ohio votes until they could be switched to Eisenhower, if he becomes a candidate.

Bricker said the Ohio Republican State Committee had asked him to serve as a candidate.

enough hardship from the strike called by the IUE and UE without having to face a completely cheerless Christmas."

Both unions took a dim view of the loan offer. UE said it would be better if a settlement were made. The IUE said, "It would be more in keeping with the Christmas spirit if Westinghouse were to sit down and bargain in good faith."

Negotiations with both unions are in recess until next week.

Both unions are pressing for wage increases under reopening clauses in present contracts. The company has offered a five-year pact which it said contains a total minimum wage increase of 23½ cents an hour.

Mexican Charged In Wife's Slaying

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16—UP—Federal authorities Friday held Count Jean Gaston Bourdillon DeQueylar, 46, on a Mexican warrant charging him with the murder of his wealthy 62-year-old wife.

The count, a French-Swiss citizen, was arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Theodore Hocke on charges of flight to avoid prosecution for the slaying of Mrs. Marguerite DeQueylar.

Mrs. DeQueylar was found drowned in her bathtub at Cuernevaca, Mex., last July 24. She had written a will four days earlier leaving her $340,000 estate to the count, whom she married in Las Vegas, Nev., Nov. 30, 1950.

Attorney Samuel DeGroot declared the count was arrested on a "baseless murder complaint" instigated by California Institute of Technology which had been named beneficiary to the estate under an earlier will.

UN Assembly

sembly be extended until next Tuesday at midnight.

Russia was the first country to object the legality of the "cointossing deal." New Zealand's Sir Leslie Knox Munro, council president for this month, said he could not acept it either at a New Zealand delegatre or a chief executive of the council.

A parade of delegates followed these two to voice their objections. Many made no protest against the withdrawal of the Philippines — or Yugoslavia — under terms of the deal. But they refused to commit their vote for any candidate in the future.

The Security Council election and disarmament were the top problems in the final sessions which also were devoted to cleaning up odds and ends.

After prolonged debate on disarmament, repeating much that has already been said in political committee and disarmament commission meetings, the assembly voted overwhelmingly in favor to give priority to President Eisenhower's "open sky" arms inspection plan.

The General Assembly, with some of the new members and South Africa absent, voted 56 to 7 for a four-power western resolution calling for quick action on Mr. Eisenhower's proposal for an exchange of military blue-prints and aerial reconnaissance by the Soviet Union and United States.

The resolution also called for Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin's plan for the stationing of inspection teams at strategic control points, such as airfields and railroad junctions, to assure against either the U.S. or Soviet Union making a surprise attack on the other.

Several Soviet proposed amendments to the resolutions were defeated in a paragraph by paragraph vote by the assembly. U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., objected to the Russian amendments on the grounds that they changed the meaning and intention of the resolution, previously approved by the UN main political committee.

The resolution — sponsored by the U.S., Britain, France and Canada — urged the "states concerned" to take "all such measure of adequately safeguarded disarmaments as are now feasible."

Domestic Sugar Quotas Are Set

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—The Agriculture Department today announced that it will permit 8,350,000 short tons, raw value, of producer sugar to be marketed in 1956.

This compares with 8,200,000 tons originally alloted for 1955. The 1955 quota later was increased to 8,400,000.

The department sets marketing and import quotas under provisions of sugar legislation.

This legislation is designed to stabilize supplies and prices of sugar and to divide the market among this country's continental, off-shore and foreign supplies.

Today's determination of 1956 needs can be raised later should the department find that there is need for more.

LEAVES AFTER REHEARSAL — Singer Dorothy McGuire, a member of the Arthur Godfrey broadcasting troupe, is seated in taxicab as she leaves CBS-TV studios on West 53rd Street after a rehearsal. It was revealed that she and her husband are suing each other for divorce. Both charge cruelty. She is married to Sgt. John Henry Brown of the Air Force. (AP Wirephoto.)

Domestic Sugar Quotas Are Set

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—The Agriculture Department today announced that it will permit 8,550,000 short tons, raw value, of producer sugar to be marketed in 1956.

This compares with 8,200,000 tons originally alloted for 1955. The 1955 quota later was increased to 8,400,000.

The department sets marketing and import quotas under provisions of sugar legislation.

This legislation is designed to stabilize supplies and prices of sugar and to divide the market among this country's continental, off-shore and foreign supplies.

Today's determination of 1956 needs can be raised later should the department find that there is need for more.

UPPER RIGHT—Santa Claus, in the background, welcomes and points to the "Christmas Party" held in the patio of the G. L. Morgans.

BELOW—"Christmas Party At The Morgans". Mrs. Morgan and Mrs. T. L. Harbuck stand at either side of the festive table, ready to serve the red lemonade and sugar cookies.

Miss Johnson Bride-Elect Is Complimented

Of social interest last week in Farmerville was the tea shower, on Saturday afternoon honoring Miss Peggy Johnson, bride - elect of Billy Orton, in the home of Mrs. Wayne Barnhill.

A color scheme of pink and silver was used throughout the house. The main point of interest in the living room, was the silver umbrella with wedding bells and streamers of silver ribbon holding the many shower gifts. This was placed on a table covered in pink. The coffee table held a bridal scene.

Miss Johnson, wearing a frock of mauve chiffon and corsage of pink rose buds, pinned on by Miss Dorothy Futch, received the guests with Mrs. Barnhill, her mother, Mrs. Elton Johnson, Mrs. David Albritton, and Mrs. Robert Yarbrough.

The tea table was covered with a white cut work cloth and centered with silver candles in crystal holders. Miss Virginia McMurrian presided at the punch bowl and was assisted by Miss Jo Ann Caskey. Others assisting were Miss Robbie Johnson, sister of the bride and her cousin, David Yarbrough.

Approximately 85 guests called during the party hours from 2 until 5 o'clock.

Luncheon Fetes Bride-Elect

Miss Dorothy Anne Norsworthy, of Collinston, bride elect of William George, of Bastrop, was honored with a luncheon at the Rendezvous in Monroe on Saturday. The hostess for the occasion was Mrs. J. C. Smith, of Oak Ridge.

The table was beautiful with a center piece of white stock, mums and carnations.

The honoree chose for the occasion a black and white suit with which she wore a black satin hat.

The hostess presented the honoree with a gift of china.

Those attending were: Miss Norsworthy, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Alton Norsworthy, Mrs. Jack Waldrop, and Mrs. A. J. Tarver of Collinston, Mrs. E. P. George, Sr., and Mrs. Hewitt Halloway, of Bastrop, and Mrs. Ivy Smith of Monroe.

Girl Scout News

One of the busiest Brownie troops is 41, with Mrs. C. T. Yancey and Mrs. P. R. Pierce as leaders. Last night they went caroling to several shut-ins in the neighborhood, after which they went to Sally Pierce's home for a party. Games and singing and the kind of fun that nine and ten-year-olds enjoy filled the evening. The girls had made gifts for their mothers, which they presented at this time.

Other recent activities of Troop 41 have included making Thanksgiving tray favors for the Collins home and a Thanksgiving dinner for a needy family. For the latter the girls brought their own contributions, bought a chicken and added a donation of fruit made by their friend, Mr. Evans, of a local food store. The troop also took part in the program fair held recently.

Brownie troop 15 and Intermediate troop 31, both of St. Paschal's school, made it a practice to remember the patients at Cooley Sanitarium at Christmas each year. They take fruit and small gifts, enough for each patient to have a share. Afterward, the troop members gather in the cafeteria at the school for a party for themselves. Mrs. Harry Martin is the interested adult who coordinates the work of the two groups, while Mrs. J.L. Norris, Mrs. J. W. Anding, Mrs. Black, and Mrs. F. L. Barrette are helping with the troop.

Troop 23, made up of eighth grade girls at St. Matthew's School, had a spend-the-night party at the home of their leader, Mrs. L. L. Nash. Preparing their own supper and breakfast, enjoying records, singing, and the opportunity to talk to their hearts' content were entertainment enough for the girls, their leader says.

Did you see Troop 9's doll beds at the program fair? Made from cigar boxes, they, nevertheless, were all different, each showing the individuality of the maker. The girls have decided to give them to less fortunate children, through one of the agencies collecting toys for that purpose. Also, the girls are making little clown favors out of rolls of mints, which they will give to one of the hospitals to use as tray favors. We hope these Scouts and all others will have an especially happy Christmas because they have done something to help others. Mrs. G. P. Jordan, is leader of Troop 9.

We've been trying to give the names of troop members and girls as they register or reregister. Here is another, Troop 28, fourth-grade Brownies at Lexington School has Mrs. Louis Masur and Mrs. George Wright, Jr., as leaders this year, Mrs. Sackman Marx, Mrs. Everett Heller and Mrs. R. D. Farr as troop committee members, and the following girls: Arden Anders, Karen Crow, Gwen Eckholm, Sally Farr, Sandra Heller, Evelyn Jones, Jill Marx, Lynn Masur, Belva Polson, Sally Ann Portman, Jan Touchstone, Thana White, and Till Wright.

Mrs. Duchkar Entertained At Morning Party Tuesday

Among the outstanding social affairs of the week was a morning coffee given Tuesday between 10 and 12 o'clock by Mrs. B. A. Trousdale at her home on Fairview in honor of Mrs. John Duchkar, Jr., of Alliance, O., who is spending the Christmas holidays with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. N. G. Gaston.

Receiving guests at the door with Mrs. Trousdale and Mrs. Duchkar was Mrs. Lawrence Fox.

A silver epergne arrangement of red carnations and candy tuft centered the dining room table where Mrs. C. P. Gray and Mrs. Milling Bernstein alternated at the silver coffee service.

MRS. DWIGHT RANDOLPH RUDISILL

Rudisill-McKinley Wedding Is Solemnized On Saturday

Claiming much interest this week end was the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Ann McKinley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ralph McKinley, of this city, and Dwight Randolph Rudisill, son of Mrs. Paul R. Rudisill, of Hanover, Penn.

The wedding was solemnized at 5 o'clock Saturday evening, December 17, in the First Methodist Church. The Rev. G. W. Pomeroy performed the double ring ceremony.

A large Christmas tree formed a beautiful background for the nuptial vows. Poinsettias were placed on each side of the tree and a myriad of white tapers illuminated the setting.

Mrs. Mack Hearne, organist, presented a concert of nuptial music and accompanied the soloist, Miss Betty Ann Elliott of Homer, who sang "Calm as the Night" and "Oh, Lord Most Holy."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a traditional satin wedding gown with a sculptured bodice. Her long tight sleeves ended in petal points over the wrist. The neckline was finished with imported lace and seed pearls. Her bouffant skirt terminated in a cathedral train. A cornet of seed pearls held her veil of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis atop a white prayer book, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Robert Barry of Austin, Texas, was matron of honor. Her gown was fashioned of emerald green taffeta with a fitted bodice and portrait neckline complemented by bows. The full skirt was lined with red taffeta. She carried a holly wreath and wore a headdress of English holly.

Bridesmaids were Miss Polly Gibson, Miss Carolyn Rudisill and Miss Margaret Ann Tatum.

The candles were lighted by Miss Carol McKinley and Miss Nancy Byrd. They were dressed in white taffeta with fitted bodices and off the shoulder necklines. They wore red taffeta sashed.

Lester Davis of Ruston served the bridegroom as best man. Groomsmen were William Abernathy, Guy Andrews, Paul McLain and Domingos Macha.

Mrs. McKinley chose for her daughter's wedding a gray lace over matching taffeta with matching accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Rudisill, the bridegroom's mother, was becomingly attired in a Mayflower blue lace with matching accessories and a shoulder corsage of pink roses.

A reception was held following the wedding in the parlor of the First Methodist Church.

A white satin and net cloth decorated with smilax and white pompom chrysanthemums overlaid the bride's table. Centering the table were white tapers and an arrangement of white chrysanthemums and white carnations.

Poinsettias and other holiday arrangements were featured in the reception rooms.

Mrs. G. W. Pomeroy served the wedding cake and Mrs. R. E. Ellington and Mrs. G. E. Boggs presided at the punch service.

Assisting in courtesies at the reception were Miss Lucy Ann Johnson, Miss Jo Marie Ellett, Miss Emma Jean Hall and Miss Julie Ann Wooley.

Mrs. Paul Hagle presided at the guest book.

For a wedding trip to the east coast, the bride changed to a black wool ensemble trimmed in white linen. She wore matching accessories and the gardenia corsage from her wedding bouquet.

Upon return, the couple will make their home in Ruston.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included: Mrs. H. T. Wadley, Mrs. J. H. Culpepper, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Carter, Miss Maude Philyaw, Mrs. T. K. Ashley, all of Shreveport, Mrs. Paul R. Rudisill, Mrs. Mary Rudisill and Miss Carolyn Rudisill, all of Hanover, Penn.

Rehearsal Supper

Mrs. H. T. Wadley, aunt of the bride, entertained members of the wedding party at a rehearsal supper Friday night at the Frances Hotel.

Festive holiday decorations were used on the table.

Those attending the party with the hostess and bridal couple were the Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Pomeroy, Mrs. Paul R. Rudisill, Mrs. Mary Rudisill, Miss Carolyn Rudisill, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Hearne, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McKinley, Miss Margaret Ann Tatum, Miss Polly Gibson, Mrs. Robert Barry, Lester Davis, William Abernathy, Guy Andrews, Paul McLain, Domingos Macha, Miss Carol McKinley, Miss Nancy Byrd, Mrs. J. H. Culpepper and Miss Claire Conway.

Christmas Houses Opened For Garden Club Members

Heralding the arrival of the Christmas season was the Christmas House tour presented by the Monroe Garden Club, for its members, last Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock. Mrs. J. B. Kugler was the general chairman for the project.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Jordan on Forsythe Ave. opened the tour, featuring, "Christmas at the Jordans," with Mrs. Jamar Adcock chairman. On the front door was a spray of pine cones and pine roses with tallow berries tied with brown ribbons. In the entrance hall, the mirror was garlanded with greenery and gold balls, complimenting the tall antique green and gold candlestick. The mantel in the living room had an arrangement of gold magnolias with tallow berries cascading from a brown and white lavabo.

In the dining room, the table held a Williamsburg fruit tree and banking the masses of ivory candles, on the buffet, were magnolia leaves and branches of pine with their cones.

The center of attraction was the game room, where a gold and brown theme was featured. The gold clock on the paneled wall over the fireplace was garlanded with pine cones, pine roses, tallow berries, nuts and galax leaves, with the monotones of the woodsy-browns, complimenting the beauty of the materials. Placed in the large windows, at the rear of the room, overlooking the gardens, was the silver spruce Christmas tree, decked with many blue birds for happiness and decorated with gold glittered fans tied on with brown satin ribbons. Reflecting through from the outside was a matching tree. A nativity scene was also featured in the room.

"A Christmas Party" inspired the decorations at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Morgan, where Mrs. Warren F. Taylor was chairman.

A "candy cane" lane led to the enclosed patio, at the side of the pool, where the party was held. Twin wreaths, made of children's toys, hung at the entrance. A shadow box over the mantle, held a creche with hand carved wooden figures. Brass angel candlesticks, with gold flecked candles, burned at either side.

In the room was a round serving table, covered with a green cloth, and centered with an arrangement of fruit and magnolias, holding a punch bowl filled with red lemonade.

Above this hung a garland of pine and magnolia leaves, with clusters of fruits and nuts and children's toys hanging from either end, on red ropes and ribbons. An old-fashioned Christmas tree, ladened with gifts, was placed at the far end of the room. Of special attraction was the large candy house surrounded by a candy-cane fence, set in a grove of pine trees covered with snow.

Ducks, with red ribbons tied around their necks, swam in the pool outside and Santa Claus, in the background, welcomed the guests.

Visitors approached the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Cummings, on Point Drive, through a wrought iron gate decorated with a crescent shaped wreath of magnolia leaves and balls. Mrs. D. V. Loflin, Jr. was chairman of decorations for "Christmas at the Cummings." Golden decorations were featured throughout with a blue green spruce Christmas tree, trimmed with clusters of golden balls, suggesting grapes hanging from the branches, the focal point in the den.

The fourth house to be opened on the Christmas house tour was that of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Biedenharn on the Loop Road. The grill work pattern of the doorway was repeated in garlands of ivy and Christmas lights. A silver, red and white theme was carried out using arrangements of white chrysanthemums, red gladioli and white stock.

A massive bouquet of red gladioli was placed on the table in the entrance hall and on the stair landing lights from a white Christmas tree sheld a soft glow over the house. The center of attraction in the living room was a white tree of spun glass, decorated with unique ornaments. Other arrangements of silver and white were used about the room.

The dining room was set for a "Christmas Tea," centering the table was a silver epergne filled with branches of white stock, gladioli and chrysanthemums. A Santa Claus, dressed all in white, was placed at the top.

Taking turns at the tea service, during the afternoon, were Miss Emy Lou Biedenharn, Mrs. Henry Biedenharn, Jr., Mrs. Robert Layton and Mrs. E. T. Lamkin.

A white cranberry tree, flanked by white candles, flecked with red, was featured on the buffet.

lending a soft glow to the room. Mrs. Ruby R. Stewart presided at the silver coffee service. Dainties were served. The hostesses were: Mrs. Henry Bernstein, Jr., chairman, Mrs. Henry Bernstein, Sr., Mrs. Ruby Stewart, Mrs. J. Harvey Noland, Mrs. Shelby Hill, Mrs. Henry Guerriero, Mrs. Robert W. Hair, Mrs. Jase H. Johnson, Miss Nancy Johnson, Mrs. F. A. Jones, Mrs. Thomas Leigh and Mrs. O. R. Lewis.

Mrs. John H. Carpenter, regent of Tallulah chapter, D. A. R., accompaned Mrs. Bailey to Monroe and was a guest of the chapter, members present were: Miss Frances Flanders, Mrs. H. Flood Madison, Jr., Mrs. Arthur Tidwell, Mrs. W. C. Oliver, Mrs. E. A. Guyton, Mrs. Emma Alexander, Mrs. S. W. McLeans, Mrs. W Gilbert Faulk, Mrs. Shelby Meek, Mrs. O. C. Slade, Sr., Mrs. John J. Potts, Mrs. Charles M. Mitchell, Mrs. Alymer Montgomery and two new members were introduced at this meeting, Mrs. Christine Moore and Mrs. David L. Agnew.

Mrs. Bailey Gives Program At Fort Miro, DAR, Meeting

The December meeting of the Fort Miro Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Kellogg, 1401 Park Avenue. Mrs. Kellogg and Mrs. Henry Bernstein, Jr., chairman of hostesses welcomed the guests as they arrived. Mrs. Robert L. Bailey, Jr., of Tallulah, who is state chairman of approved schools, gave a program on "Our Approved Schools." She told of the two schools that are owned by the D. A. R. They are Tomassee in Tomassee, S. C., and Kate Duncan Smith in Gunter Mountain, Alabama.

She told of the children who attend school there. That when these children write their Christmas letters they are opened with "Dear D. A. R.," because the D. A. R. is the only Santa Claus they know. In the Kate Duncan Smith School, the children gather their trees, decorate them, put on Christmas pageants and have Christmas caroling. At general assembly, the gifts from the D. A. R. are opened. Mrs. Bailey explained that they also practice "dumb sitting." This custom was referred to by William Shakespeare in one of his plays. The child disguises himself with paints and costumes and the neighbors guess who they are. Of course, the penalty for not guessing right is always candies and cookies.

In the Tomassee School, Mrs. Bailey described the different cottages. The girls made Charistmas candies and decorations. They received tea sets, dolls and books. The boys cottages are gay with Christmas spirit. They sing Christmas songs and tell stories. They receive balls, bats, marbles and erector sets. The teenagers go out and gather mistletoe, holly, and greenery from the woods. They make a manger depicting the Christ story. Mrs. Bailey told of the flowers of holy night brought here by Joe Robert Poinsett of Scotland. Colored slides of the two schools were shown and the children both at work and at play. The minutes were read by Mrs. Briscoe Trousdale, Jr., she reported 186 members in Fort Miro Chapter, D. A. R. Mrs. Duncan Cook gave the treasurer's report; national defense by Miss Eleona Brinsmade.

Mrs. O. R. Lewis collected money for approved schools and reported that a nice collection of clothes had been received. The dining room was beautifully decorated. The table was centered with a silver and cut glass epergne holding carnations and baby breath. At either side were lovely four branched candelabra with candles

Miss Nan Short Is Bride Of John Williams

Simplicity and beauty characterized the wedding of Miss Nan Short and John Thomas Williams, who exchanged nuptial vows at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, November 24, in the Winnsboro First Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Short of Winnsboro. The bridegroom, who resides in New Orleans, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Williams of Bryceland.

Standards of white gladioli and chrysanthemums and many glowing cathedral tapers decorated the church where the Rev. C. B. Hall pastor, officiated in the double ring ceremony.

Preceding the wedding, Mrs. Walter Woods presented a program of wedding music which included "Through The Years" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride was escorted by her father who gave her in marriage. She was radiant in her wedding suit of ocean blue silk faille with a small blue hat with a veil of the same color. Her bouquet was a cascade of white chrysanthemums surrounding a white orchid, which she carried on a white Bible.

Miss Dora Enloe, of Shreveport, was the bride's only attendant. She was wearing a pale blue suit with black accessories. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums with blue satin streamers.

W. Roy Towns, of Shreveport, served the bridegroom as best man. Lighting the candles was little Miss Sherryl Short, sister of the bride. She wore a pink taffeta dress with a white angora wool hat with pink velvet trim and a corsage of white mums at her waistline.

For this occasion the bride's mother chose to wear a mink brown taffeta suit with black and pink accessories. Her corsage was made of pink rosebuds.

The bridegroom's mother wore a avocado green suit with black and beige accessories. Her corsage was yellow chrysanthemums.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Tall standards of gladioli were placed at vantage points throughout the reception rooms. Guests were asked to register in the bride's book.

The bride's table was covered with a handsome white cut work cloth. Chrysanthemums in a crystal bowl formed the centerpiece. The bride's cake was three tiered surmounted by a bride and groom, two wedding bells and two white swans.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Williams, Bryceland; Mr. and Mrs. Berton Boddie, Sandra, Taddie and Jimmie Boddie, Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. W. Roy Towns and Susan, Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hall, Jonesboro; Mrs. H. A. Burnham, Arcadia; Mrs. J. E. Sisson, Mrs. Lois Doughtie, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. # Christmas Houses Opened For Garden Club Members

Heralding the arrival of the Christmas season was the Christmas House tour presented by the Monroe Garden Club, for its members, last Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock. Mrs. J. B. Kugler was the general chairman for the project.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Jordan on Forsythe Ave. opened the tour, featuring, "Christmas at the Jordans," with Mrs. Jamar Adcock chairman. On the front door was a spray of pine cones and pine roses with tallow berries tied with brown ribbons. In the entrance hall, the mirror was garlanded with greenery and gold balls, complimenting the tall antique green and gold candlestick. The mantel in the living room had an arrangement of gold magnolias with tallow berries cascading from a brown and white lavabo.

In the dining room, the table held a Williamsburg fruit tree and banking the masses of ivory candles, on the buffet, were magnolia leaves and branches of pine with their cones.

The center of attraction was the game room, where a gold and brown theme was featured. The gold clock on the paneled wall over the fireplace was garlanded with pine cones, pine roses, tallow berries, nuts and galax leaves, with the monotones of the woodsy-browns, complimenting the beauty of the materials. Placed in the large windows, at the rear of the room, overlooking the gardens, was the silver spruce Christmas tree, decked with many blue birds for happiness and decorated with gold glittered fans tied on with brown satin ribbons. Reflecting through from the outside was a matching tree. A nativity scene was also featured in the room.

"A Christmas Party" inspired the decorations at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Morgan, where Mrs. Warren F. Taylor was chairman.

A "candy cane" lane led to the enclosed patio, at the side of the pool, where the party was held. Twin wreaths, made of children's toys, hung at the entrance. A shadow box over the mantle, held a creche with hand carved wooden figures. Brass angel candlesticks, with gold flecked candles, burned at either side.

In the room was a round serving table, covered with a green cloth, and centered with an arrangement of fruit and magnolias, holding a punch bowl filled with red lemonade.

Above this hung a garland of pine and magnolia leaves, with clusters of fruits and nuts and children's toys hanging from either end, on red ropes and ribbons. An old-fashioned Christmas tree, ladened with gifts, was placed at the far end of the room. Of special attraction was the large candy house surrounded by a candy-cane fence, set in a grove of pine trees covered with snow.

Ducks, with red ribbons tied around their necks, swam in the pool outside and Santa Claus, in the background, welcomed the guests.

Visitors approached the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Cummings, on Point Drive, through a wrought iron gate decorated with a crescent shaped wreath of magnolia leaves and balls. Mrs. D. V. Loflin, Jr. was chairman of decorations for "Christmas at the Cummings." Golden decorations were featured throughout with a blue green spruce Christmas tree, trimmed with clusters of golden balls, suggesting grapes hanging from the branches, the focal point in the den.

The fourth house to be opened on the Christmas house tour was that of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Biedenharn on the Loop Road. The grill work pattern of the doorway was repeated in garlands of ivy and Christmas lights. A silver, red and white theme was carried out using arrangements of white chrysanthemums, red gladioli and white stock.

A massive bouquet of red gladioli was placed on the table in the entrance hall and on the stair landing lights from a white Christmas tree sheld a soft glow over the house. The center of attraction in the living room was a white tree of spun glass, decorated with unique ornaments. Other arrangements of silver and white were used about the room.

The dining room was set for a "Christmas Tea," centering the table was a silver epergne filled with branches of white stock, gladioli and chrysanthemums. A Santa Claus, dressed all in white, was placed at the top.

Taking turns at the tea service, during the afternoon, were Miss Emy Lou Biedenharn, Mrs. Henry Biedenharn, Jr., Mrs. Robert Layton and Mrs. E. T. Lamkin.

A white cranberry tree, flanked by white candles, flecked with red, was featured on the buffet.

lending a soft glow to the room. Mrs. Ruby R. Stewart presided at the silver coffee service. Dainties were served. The hostesses were: Mrs. Henry Bernstein, Jr., chairman, Mrs. Henry Bernstein, Sr., Mrs. Ruby Stewart, Mrs. J. Harvey Noland, Mrs. Shelby Hill, Mrs. Henry Guerriero, Mrs. Robert W. Hair, Mrs. Jase H. Johnson, Miss Nancy Johnson, Mrs. F. A. Jones, Mrs. Thomas Leigh and Mrs. O. R. Lewis.

Mrs. John H. Carpenter, regent of Tallulah chapter, D. A. R., accompanied Mrs. Bailey to Monroe and was a guest of the chapter, members present were: Miss Frances Flanders, Mrs. H. Flood Madison, Jr., Mrs. Arthur Tidwell, Mrs. W. C. Oliver, Mrs. E. A. Guyton, Mrs. Emma Alexander, Mrs. S. W. McLeans, Mrs. W Gilbert Faulk, Mrs. Shelby Meek, Mrs. O. C. Roddey, Mrs. Lee Hodges, Mrs. J. W. Standley, Sr., Mrs. W. B. Matthews, Mrs. B. A. Trousdale, Jr., Mrs. Ruby R. Stewart, Mrs Noland Harvey, Mrs. Henry Guerriero, Mrs. Harry Frazer, Mrs. O. M. Grisham, Mrs. Thomas Leigh, Mrs. O. R. Lewis, Mrs. Ralph Armstrong, Mrs. L. C. McGuire, Miss Edith Gunby, Miss Eleona Brinsmade, Mrs. Duncan S. Cook, Mrs. Henry Bernstein, Jr., Mrs. C. E. Slade, Sr., Mrs. John J. Potts, Mrs. Charles M. Mitchell, Mrs. Alymer Montgomery and two new members were introduced at this meeting, Mrs. Christine Moore and Mrs. David L. Agnew.

Mrs. Bailey Gives Program At Fort Miro, DAR, Meeting

The December meeting of the Fort Miro Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Kellogg, 1401 Park Avenue. Mrs. Kellogg and Mrs. Henry Bernstein, Jr., chairman of hostesses welcomed the guests as they arrived. Mrs. Robert L. Bailey, Jr., of Tallulah, who is state chairman of approved schools, gave a program on "Our Approved Schools." She told of the two schools that are owned by the D. A. R. They are Tomassee in Tomassee, S. C., and Kate Duncan Smith in Gunter Mountain, Alabama.

She told of the children who attend school there. That when these children write their Christmas letters they are opened with "Dear D. A. R.," because the D. A. R. is the only Santa Claus they know. In the Kate Duncan Smith School, the children gather their trees, decorate them, put on Christmas pageants and have Christmas caroling. At general assembly, the gifts from the D. A. R. are opened. Mrs. Bailey explained that they also practice "dumb sitting." This custom was referred to by William Shakespeare in one of his plays. The child disguises himself with paints and costumes and the neighbors guess who they are. Of course, the penalty for not guessing right is always candies and cookies.

In the Tomassee School, Mrs. Bailey described the different cottages. The girls made Charistmas candies and decorations. They received tea sets, dolls and books. The boys cottages are gay with Christmas spirit. They sing Christmas songs and tell stories. They receive balls, bats, marbles and erector sets. The teenagers go out and gather mistletoe, holly, and greenery from the woods. They make a manger depicting the Christ story. Mrs. Bailey told of the flowers of holy night brought here by Joe Robert Poinsett of Scotland. Colored slides of the two schools were shown and the children both at work and at play. The minutes were read by Mrs. Briscoe Trousdale, Jr., she reported 186 members in Fort Miro Chapter, D. A. R. Mrs. Duncan Cook gave the treasurer's report; national defense by Miss Eleona Brinsmade.

Mrs. O. R. Lewis collected money for approved schools and reported that a nice collection of clothes had been received. The dining room was beautifully decorated. The table was centered with a silver and cut glass epergne holding carnations and baby breath. At either side were lovely four branched candelabra with candles

Miss Nan Short Is Bride Of John Williams

Simplicity and beauty characterized the wedding of Miss Nan Short and John Thomas Williams, who exchanged nuptial vows at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, November 24, in the Winnsboro First Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Short of Winnsboro. The bridegroom, who resides in New Orleans, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Williams of Bryceland.

Standards of white gladioli and chrysanthemums and many glowing cathedral tapers decorated the church where the Rev. C. B. Hall pastor, officiated in the double ring ceremony.

Preceding the wedding, Mrs. Walter Woods presented a program of wedding music which included "Through The Years" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride was escorted by her father who gave her in marriage. She was radiant in her wedding suit of ocean blue silk faille with a small blue hat with a veil of the same color. Her bouquet was a cascade of white chrysanthemums surrounding a white orchid, which she carried on a white Bible.

Miss Dora Enloe, of Shreveport, was the bride's only attendant. She was wearing a pale blue suit with black accessories. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums with blue satin streamers.

W. Roy Towns, of Shreveport, served the bridegroom as best man. Lighting the candles was little Miss Sherryl Short, sister of the bride. She wore a pink taffeta dress with a white angora wool hat with pink velvet trim and a corsage of white mums at her waistline.

For this occasion the bride's mother chose to wear a mink brown taffeta suit with black and pink accessories. Her corsage was made of pink rosebuds.

The bridegroom's mother wore a avocado green suit with black and beige accessories. Her corsage was yellow chrysanthemums.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Tall standards of gladioli were placed at vantage points throughout the reception rooms. Guests were asked to register in the bride's book.

The bride's table was covered with a handsome white cut work cloth. Chrysanthemums in a crystal bowl formed the centerpiece. The bride's cake was three tiered surmounted by a bride and groom, two wedding bells and two white swans.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Williams, Bryceland; Mr. and Mrs. Berton Boddie, Sandra, Taddie and Jimmie Boddie, Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. W. Roy Towns and Susan, Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hall, Jonesboro; Mrs. H. A. Burnham, Arcadia; Mrs. J. E. Sisson, Mrs. Lois Doughtie, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Doughtie, all of Rayville; Dr. and Mrs. Newell McElwee and Margie, Delhi; and Mrs. W. B. Taliaferro and Mrs. Oscar Krouse, Sicily Island.

Do you find yourself unwrapping and rewrapping leftovers covered with aluminum foil in order to find the one you want? Next time you cover a dish or bit of food, print the contents on the outside foil with a blunt pencil — but do it gently enough not to rip the foil.

Golf Club Auxiliary Elect Officers

TALLULAH, Officers elected by the Golf Club Auxiliary at a recent meeting were Mrs. Richard N. Ware Jr., president; Mrs. John Patrick, vice president; Mrs. Pearce Bailey, treasurer and Mrs. Grady Wyly, secretary. Board members elected were Mrs. J. E. Neill, Mrs. George Kimbrough, Mrs. George S. Yerger Jr., and Mrs. Joe Milton Clark. Other board members who will serve through 1956 are Mrs. W. W. Pippin and Mrs. Walter M. Scott.

Hostesses for the final luncheon meeting of the 1955 season were Mrs. Harvey Mounger and Mrs. Pearce Bailey, who chose the Christmas theme for decorations. Pine branches and white candles were used on the mantels and extended down the long banquet tables interspersed with clusters of pine cones. Milk glass sleighs holding fragrant pine and small Christmas candles decorated the president's table.

The door prize, a box of Christmas wrappings was won by Mrs. Joe Milton Clark. The club president announced the annual Christmas dinner given last night with husbands of the members as special guests.

Stark-Bridges Vows Pledged

Of interest was the marriage on December 2 of Miss Helen Bridges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bridges to Ronald D. Stark, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Stark, which was solemnized by the Reverend Ernest Holloway at his home on the Loop Road.

The vows were said at 7 p.m. before members of both families.

Miss Linda Bridges was her sister's only attendant and Mr. Stark served his son as best man.

If your family eats lots of celery, you may find yourself throwing away some of the tops you can't use to season soups or gravies. Instead of wasting them, try drying them like herbs. Then you can crumble them and store the bits in a tightly covered jar to use as needed.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Webb returned the first of the week from a visit with relatives in Austin and Pettus, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton O. Cobb announce the arrival of their second son, Carlton Wayne, born Saturday, December 10. Mrs. Cobb is the former Miss Catherine Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Jones of Rayville. The paternal grandfather is S. Q. Cobb of Monroe.

Dr. and Mrs. Sol Courtman announce the arrival of their third son, Jeffrey Lawres, who was born on December 14. His grandmother is Mrs. J. L. Riley of Columbia, Miss.

Mrs. Carlton A. Moreland of Waco, Tex., was the house guest this week of her sister and family, Dr. and Mrs. Bill West.

Major and Mrs. Derwood Cann announce the arrival of their daughter, who was born Thursday, December 15. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Bancroft of this city and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Cann of Baton Rouge. Mrs. Cann is in Monroe, the guest of the Bancrofts, to welcome her new granddaughter.

Here's an easy topping for gingerbread or spice cake: Whip ½ cup cream with a tablespoon of molasses.

MRS. EDWARD D. SKINNER and daughter, Leigh and Tish, of Northbrook, Ill., arrived in Monroe several weeks ago to spend the winter months with her mother, Mrs. Harry H. Russell, on North 3rd St. Mr. Skinner joined his family here for Thanksgiving and is expected later this week for the holiday season.

Do you find yourself unwrapping and rewrapping leftovers covered with aluminum foil in order to find the one you want? Next time you cover a dish or bit of food, print the contents on the outside foil with a blunt pencil — but do it gently enough not to rip the foil.

Golf Club Auxiliary Elect Officers

TALLULAH, Officers elected by the Golf Club Auxiliary at a recent meeting were Mrs. Richard N. Ware Jr., president; Mrs. John Patrick, vice president; Mrs. Pearce Bailey, treasurer and Mrs. Grady Wyly, secretary. Board members elected were Mrs. J. E. Neill, Mrs. George Kimbrough, Mrs. George S. Yerger Jr., and Mrs. Joe Milton Clark. Other board members who will serve through 1956 are Mrs. W. W. Pippin and Mrs. Walter M. Scott.

Hostesses for the final luncheon meeting of the 1955 season were Mrs. Harvey Mounger and Mrs. Pearce Bailey, who chose the Christmas theme for decorations. Pine branches and white candles were used on the mantels and extended down the long banquet tables interspersed with clusters of pine cones. Milk glass sleighs holding fragrant pine and small Christmas candles decorated the president's table.

The door prize, a box of Christmas wrappings was won by Mrs. Joe Milton Clark. The club president announced the annual Christmas dinner given last night with husbands of the members as special guests.

Stark-Bridges Vows Pledged

Of interest was the marriage on December 2 of Miss Helen Bridges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bridges to Ronald D. Stark, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Stark, which was solemnized by the Reverend Ernest Holloway at his home on the Loop Road.

The vows were said at 7 p.m. before members of both families.

Miss Linda Bridges was her sister's only attendant and Mr. Stark served his son as best man.

If your family eats lots of celery, you may find yourself throwing away some of the tops you can't use to season soups or gravies. Instead of wasting them, try drying them like herbs. Then you can crumble them and store the bits in a tightly covered jar to use as needed.

News From The Public Library

As the Christmas season approaches, we at the Ouachita Parish Public Library look forward to the visits of our many young friends who are at home from school and college for the holiday season. At this time of year many young people come to the library to prepare themes and term papers which have been assigned over the vacation period. Sometimes these students come home and spend the first few days of their vacation visiting around and then are disappointed when they come to the library and find that we have closed for our few days of vacation. Please! If you have a student coming home from school, cut out this announcement and save it for future reference. This is the vacation schedule. The Monroe and West Monroe branches will close at 12:00 noon on Thursday Dec. 22 and will reopen at 9:30 on Tuesday December 27. We will also be closed on Monday January 2. The Carver branch will follow the same schedule except that it will not be open at all on Thursday Dec. 22. The Bookmobile will have a two weeks layoff. The last run will be made on Tuesday December 20 and there will not be another one until Wednesday January 4. Please keep this schedule handy for reference. It might be well to remind you again of the hours that the branches are open. The Monroe branch is open from 9:30 in the morning until 8:00 at night on Mondays through Thursdays. On Fridays and Saturdays the hours are 9:30 to 5:00. The West Monroe branch is open Mondays through Thursday from 9:30 until 7:00 and on Fridays and Saturdays from 9:30 until 5:00. The Carver branch opens at 11:00 every day and closes at 5:30, except on Saturday when it opens at 9:30 and closes at 1:00.

I have another suggestion for students working on term papers. If you will call the library before you come in, we can have your material ready for you to use when you arrive. Sometimes there are several people waiting for help at the same time and it would help everyone if we could collect some of the material before you arrive.

The Ouachita Parish Public Library is always searching for ways in which it can be of greater use to the people of the community. In the past we have had numerous requests for civil service manuals. We have borrowed them from the state library, but this is not always satisfactory for often the patron is in a great hurry. Several weeks ago, I decided to purchase all of the ones which I thought would be useful in this community. They arrived this past week and are now ready for the public to use. It is amazing what subjects are covered by these manuals. If you are planning to study for a civil service examination of any type, call us and we probably have the book.

Several new and interesting books were added to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library this week. An attractive book of fiction is "Haunted Hacienda" by Madison Cooper. It is another story with a Texas setting, but not nearly so long as his "Sironia Texas." This is an interesting book and will appeal to many readers.

Norman Vincent Peale has a wide following who will welcome his new book "Inspiring Messages for Daily Living." This book contains much good advice and will be widely welcomed in a world where so many people are in trouble.

A book which should be most valuable to program chairmen and club members is called "The Program Encyclopedia." Its a gold mine of information on planning any type of party or activity. It tells how to plan programs, where to get speakers, where to get films and where to get free and inexpensive material for clubs, schools, churches, camps, etc. We purchased a copy of this book for each branch and we hope it will be widely used.

The Ouachita Parish Public Library is an agency devoted to helping the people of the parish with every phase of their daily life, if you are not using its resources make a resolution to do so immediately after the new year.

Engagement Is Announced

KELLY — Mrs. Malinda Herrix, of Kelly, La., announces the approaching marriage of her daughter, Jerrie Ann, to Mr. Elmer Lee Barton of Winnfield. The wedding will be solemnized Dec. 26, 5 p.m. at the Kelly, Baptist Church. Friends are invited.

Sometimes it is cheaper to buy a large cut of meat and serve it three ways than to shop for three separate main dishes. For instance, from a leg of lamb you can have steaks for broiling, a Sunday roast from the center part, and a stew or casserole dish from the shank.

December 23rd Date Set For Yule Pilgrimage

The December meeting of the Wisner Garden Club was held in the home of Mrs. Ina Gilbert on Friday, December 9th.

It was indeed a Christmas "in the pink," beginning with a pink Christmas tree on the front door and continuing through the spacious living rooms with pink baubles and glitter everywhere, and ending with a lovely pink sleigh and reindeer ornamenting the dining table.

During the business session which was presided over by the president, Mrs. E. B. Knotts, it was decided to sponsor a Christmas window lighting contest among the Daisy Garden Club members. This club is composed of children and is sponsored by the Wisner Garden Club. Also on the agenda, were the reports of the civic and ways and means chairmen, which were very gratifying and demonstrated the club's progress and success with its several projects. The club also decided to accept two arrangement assignments and one patio table for the state flower show to be held in Ruston in March.

Plans for the club's annual Christmas Pilgrimage were adopted as follows; the tour will be held on Friday evening, December 23, beginning at seven p.m. The houses listed will be visited in the order named: The Chevis Sherrouse, home, Gilbert; the Ina Gilbert home; the A. J. Ensminger home; the E. A. Kiper home; the Gordon Mitchell, Sr. home; the Kirk Warner home; the W. C. Knotts home and the E. B. Knotts home.

At the conclusion of the business, a social hour was held by the nineteen members present.

Bridge Club Has Masterpoint Day

The Monroe Duplicate Bridge Club met on masterpoint day with Mrs. Glen Golson, hostess.

Three couples tied for first place. They were Mrs. Meyer Greenwald, Mrs. J. D. Naremore, Mrs. J. H. Fuller, Mrs. W. E. Chaney, Mrs. J. T. Harper and and Mrs. H. A. McDonald.

At the previous meeting winners were Mrs. Meyer Greenwald, Mrs. J. D. Naremore, first and Mrs. C. W. Dodgen and Mrs. Gerald Sugar, second.

Mrs. J. H. Fuller was hostess.

MISS JOY LOUISE WOODS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Woods, of Rayville, is betrothed to Harry Bernard Scriber, son of Mrs. William Harry Scriber and the late Mr. Scriber of Winnsboro. The wedding will be solemnized on January 22 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon in the First Baptist Church of Rayville.

December 23rd Date Set For Yule Pilgrimage

The December meeting of the Wisner Garden Club was held in the home of Mrs. Ina Gilbert on Friday, December 9th.

It was indeed a Christmas "in the pink," beginning with a pink Christmas tree on the front door and continuing through the spacious living rooms with pink baubles and glitter everywhere, and ending with a lovely pink sleigh and reindeer ornamenting the dining table.

During the business session which was presided over by the president, Mrs. E. B. Knotts, it was decided to sponsor a Christmas window lighting contest among the Daisy Garden Club members. This club is composed of children and is sponsored by the Wisner Garden Club. Also on the agenda, were the reports of the civic and ways and means chairmen, which were very gratifying and demonstrated the club's progress and success with its several projects. The club also decided to accept two arrangement assignments and one patio table for the state flower show to be held in Ruston in March.

Plans for the club's annual Christmas Pilgrimage were adopted as follows: the tour will be held on Friday evening, December 23, beginning at seven p.m. The houses listed will be visited in the order named: The Chevis Sherrouse, home, Gilbert; the Ina Gilbert home; the A. J. Ensminger home; the E. A. Kiper home; the Gordon Mitchell, Sr. home; the Kirk Warner home; the W. C. Knotts home and the E. B. Knotts home.

At the conclusion of the business, a social hour was held by the nineteen members present.

Bridge Club Has Masterpoint Day

The Monroe Duplicate Bridge Club met on masterpoint day with Mrs. Glen Golson, hostess.

Three couples tied for first place. They were Mrs. Meyer Greenwald, Mrs. J. D. Naremore, Mrs. J. H. Fuller, Mrs. W. E. Chaney, Mrs. J. T. Harper and and Mrs. H. A. McDonald.

At the previous meeting winners were Mrs. Meyer Greenwald, Mrs. J. D. Naremore, first and Mrs. C. W. Dodgen and Mrs. Gerald Sugar, second.

Mrs. J. H. Fuller was hostess.

MISS JOY LOUISE WOODS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Woods, of Rayville, is betrothed to Harry Bernard Scriber, son of Mrs. William Harry Scriber and the late Mr. Scriber of Winnsboro. The wedding will be solemnized on January 22 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon in the First Baptist Church of Rayville.

Make Christmas Beautiful And Safe

Make Christmas Safe

The Chistmas season is the busiest time. Haste, crowds, confusion and fatigue may all be accident hazards at this season. It pays to plan against them. Homemakers are urged to use good management to prevent becoming over fatigued. Plan some foods which can be prepared in advance. With the refrigeration in homes today, it is not necessary to leave all jobs for the last minute.

For safety against fire, buy or make Christmas decorations that are fire - resistant. Place Christmas greens away from candles and electric light bulbs and away from heat or sparks from hearthfires. When arranging a dinner table centerpiece, remember that fires have been started by a combination of greens or paper decorations close to lighted candles.

Most people know that it pays to buy a fresh tree and keep it fresh by keeping it standing in a container of water. But the tree also needs to be anchored firmly so that it can't topple. Place the tree out of the way of traffic lanes and doorway where people won't brush against it. Also, for fire-safety place it away from the hearth and away from any updraft such as occurs in a stairwell.

Now Is The Time To Select Camellias

Selection of camellias while they're blooming helps you to satisfy your enthusiasm and make just the correct choice for color, shape, texture and other needs for your landscape plan. For a slow-growing variety the Diakagura makes a good specimen plant. The plant spreads when growing. It produces a rosy - pink blossom with white splotches. The Debutante variety produces a pale pink, peony-type flower that's even larger than a carnation. Its light green foliage, of coarse, sharply serrated leaves makes it easy to identify. The High Hat is a popular variety of camellia that produces a light pink, large incomplete double flower. The Alba Plena is a semi-erect type plant. It blooms early to mid-season, and produces a flower with the petals beautifully lapped. This is one of the first camellias ever to be planted in the United States. And while you are buying camellias, buy some of the sansaquas for fall blooming. Some of the varieties which are recommended for this area are: Snow on the Mountain, Dawn and Oleifera. Remember plants make wonderful Christmas gifts.

Size Of Turkey To Buy

The number of servings needed determines the size turkey to buy for the Christmas dinner. A ready-to-cook, 8-10 pound, turkey will give 16-18 servings, 10-14 lb., 20-33 servings; 14-18 lb., 28 to 36 servings, 18-30 lbs., 36-40 servings.

Some of you may buy or use your own frozen turkeys. If you defrost the bird in your refrigerator, allow 2 to 3 days. This is the best method for a large bird.

A second method is to place unwrapped bird in pan under cool water. Time 4-6 hours. Do not use warm water. Be sure to cook the bird promptly after defrosting.

How To Choose Toys

Whether you are a parent, a relative or just a friend of the family, shopping for toys is an opportunity to provide the children on your list with lasting benefits as well as immediate delight.

The selection of a child's toys is a very important matter. Toys are the tools of play, and play is a significant part of a child's daily living. Play is much more than merely filling in time. It is the way in which a child uses his developing abilities. It is the means through which he comes to an understanding of the activities going on around him. It is the channel for the expression of his thoughts and feelings about things, people and events which attract his attention. And, of course, it is the source of great fun and enjoyment.

A child's toys contribute largely to his development and should be selected to fit that development at any given stage. Day by day a child grows. Different abilities develop. Skills increase. Interests broaden. Play which at first is largely individual becomes more and more social. Toys should be selected with all of these things in mind. A small number of bulletins are available by calling 3-2251.

Gilbert Woman's Club Celebrates Holiday Season

The Gilbert Woman's Club held its December meeting on Tuesday evening at the Community Center which was gaily decorated for the holiday season. Members placed gifts under the brilliantly lighted Christmas tree to be sent to the state hospital in Pineville.

Mrs. J. N. Bostick held the interest of each one present in her review of Henry Van Dyke's, "The Other Wise Man." Mrs. Lannie Calhoun was in charge of the music.

Mrs. Edleen Marczak, president of the club, presided over the business session and read news items from the monthly bulletin. Mrs. W. H. Bates reported that a box of sewing material had been sent from the club to a German youth group which was suggested by the general federation president.

Hostesses for the meeting were: Mrs. E. A. Turner, Mrs. A. W. Turner, Mrs. J. N. Bostick and Mrs. W. H. Bates.

Attending were: Mrs. H. J. Brown, Miss Fannie Byerly, Mrs. Calhoun, Mrs. W. L. Collie, Miss Mary Etta Furr, Mrs. B. R. Gunn, Mrs. Paul Hammond, Mrs. L. D. Hoover, Mrs. E. A. Huggins, Mrs. J. J. Jenks, Mrs. J. R. Jones, Mrs. J. R. McKee, Mrs. J. H. Murphy, Mrs S. H. Rhodes, Mrs. Marion Shelton, Mrs. W. A. Turnbough, Mrs. Earl Carroll, Mrs. Marczak, Mrs. P. B. Turner, Mrs. Bates and Mrs. Bostick.

Try a decorative edible centerpiece made of forsted grapes. Separate the grapes into comfortable clusters, wash them and drain thoroughly. Dip the clusters quickly in heavy cream and shake them gently. Then dip them in granulated or powdered sugar, and let them rest on wire racks until they're dry.

Hammonds Home Scene Of LAGP's Christmas Party

The Monroe doctors of L.A.G.P. and their wives entertained the out-of-town members of the 5th district with a Christmas party in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Hammonds on Pargoud Drive.

Preceding the party, there was a scientific meeting held in the auditorium of the St. Francis Hospital with Dr. Burchall Liles presenting a paper on Office Urologic Treatment. This was followed by a business meeting at which Dr. Vincent Sampognaro was re-elected president. Tentative plans were made for the 1957 convention which will be held in this city. Dr. Sol Courtman and Dr. William Spencer were welcomed as new members.

During the time the meeting was being held, the doctor's wives enjoyed bridge and canasta in the home of Mrs. Hammonds, after which they were joined by the doctors for a buffet supper. The house was gaily decorated throughout with arrangements, done by Dr. Catherine Foster, depicting an "old fashioned Christmas".

Entertainment consisted of the singing of Christmas carols by the entire group, under the direction of Dr. Henry Hammonds and accompanied by Mrs. Doyle Hamilton. Dr. Fred Marx gave a reading on "The Night After Christmas for the G. P." Everyone placed toys around a beautiful lighted Christmas tree on the patio. These toys were sent to St. Mary's Home for Retarded Children in Clarks.

Those attending were Mrs. Eldredge Carroll of Columbia, Dr. and Mrs. John E. Hearne, Jr. of Columbia, Dr. and Mrs. Henry C. Modisette of Dubach, Dr. and Mrs. William Morris of Tallulah, Dr. and Mrs. Ted Pollard of Bastrop, Dr. and Mrs. William Reeves of Bernice, Dr. and Mrs. Hollis T. Rogers of Winnsboro, Dr. Bernard Soto of Mer Rouge, Dr. and Mrs. Burchall Liles, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Wilds, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. William Spencer, Dr. and Mrs. Sol Courtman, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Foster, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Marx, Dr. and Mrs. Doyle Hamilton, Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Gregory, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Vincent Sampognaro, and Dr. and Mrs. Henry Hammonds.

B. & P. W. Club Has Banquet At Hotel

The Business and Professional Women's Club held its annual Christmas party last night with a banquet at the Frances Hotel. There were thirty-two members and four visitors present.

The tables, overlaid in white, were centered with sprays of greenery, towering above which red candles glowed. The invocation was led by Mary Lou Garvin.

After dinner, the club was privileged to hear Mrs. Cora Harris sing "Little Jesus Boy" and "White Christmas" accompanied on the piano by Mrs. P. A. Poag. Then Mrs. Osterman gave two selections on the accordian after which those present joined in group carol singing with Mrs. Poag at the piano concluding with the Club Song.

Those enjoying this occasion were: Marguerite Meek, Inas Gwin, Edna Vaughan, Mary Gene Lea, Dorothy Blacketer, Faye Heard, Mary O'Kelly, Madeline Hirsch, Florence Powers, Mamie Ober, Helen Trichel, Mary Lou Garvin, Lela Breard, Sarah Kennon, Johnnie S. Elbert, Laura Slator, Ruth Thomas, Ople Creasy, Carice King, Bessie Skinner, Gladys Miles, Agnes Krogmire, Flora Seaman, Maibel Hood, Bettie Oxford, Lela Wyatt, Alma Bushnell, Nina Welch, Nell Curry, Edna Manley, Lucille Mathis, Evelyn Pankey, and the visitors, Mrs. P. A. Poag, Mrs. Cora Harris, Miss Dana Batzong and Mrs. Osterman.

Allen Family Holds Reunion

A reunion of the descendants of the late Henry Edward Allen and Florence Moore Allen was held at the Mt. Nebo Methodist Church near Downsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen came to Downsville from Alexandria City, Ala., during the latter part of the nineteenth century. Of their family of sixteen children, five boys and five girls are now living. Two of the children, Mrs. Non Brown of Choudrant, and Mrs. Rufus Spurlock of West Monroe were not present for the reunion. The children present were Mr. J. Luther Allen, Mr. W. H. Allen, Mr. Alvie Allen, all of Downsville; Mr. E. C. Allen, Dubach; Mr. Carlos Allen, Monroe; Mrs. Lena Allen, Mrs. Paul George, and Mrs. Duey Finkley, all of West Monroe.

Following the reunion dinner,t he family held a business meeting to discuss plans for future meetings and to elect officers. It was decided that the 1956 reunion would be held at Mr. J. Luther Allen's pond on July 4th. Officers elected for future meetings are: Mr. J. Luther Allen, chairman; Mrs. O. F. Terral, secretary; and Mrs. R. L. Terral, treasurer. 3

Hammonds Home Scene Of LAGP's Christmas Party

The Monroe doctors of L.A.G.P. and their wives entertained the out-of-town members of the 5th district with a Christmas party in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Hammonds on Pargoud Drive.

Preceding the party, there was a scientific meeting held in the auditorium of the St. Francis Hospital with Dr. Burchall Liles presenting a paper on Office Urologic Treatment. This was followed by a business meeting at which Dr. Vincent Sampognaro was re-elected president. Tentative plans were made for the 1957 convention which will be held in this city. Dr. Sol Courtman and Dr. William Spencer were welcomed as new members.

During the time the meeting was being held, the doctor's wives enjoyed bridge and canasta in the home of Mrs. Hammonds, after which they were joined by the doctors for a buffet supper. The house was gaily decorated throughout with arrangements, done by Dr. Catherine Foster, depicting an "old fashioned Christmas".

Entertainment consisted of the singing of Christmas carols by the entire group, under the direction of Dr. Henry Hammonds and accompanied by Mrs. Doyle Hamilton. Dr. Fred Marx gave a reading on "The Night After Christmas for the G. P." Everyone placed toys around a beautiful lighted Christmas tree on the patio. These toys were sent to St. Mary's Home for Retarded Children in Clarks.

Those attending were Mrs. Eldredge Carroll of Columbia, Dr. and Mrs. John E. Hearne, Jr. of Columbia, Dr. and Mrs. Henry C. Modisette of Dubach, Dr. and Mrs. William Morris of Tallulah, Dr. and Mrs. Ted Pollard of Bastrop, Dr. and Mrs. William Reeves of Bernice, Dr. and Mrs. Hollis T. Rogers of Winnsboro, Dr. Bernard Soto of Mer Rouge, Dr. and Mrs. Burchall Liles, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Wilds, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. William Spencer, Dr. and Mrs. Sol Courtman, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Foster, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Marx, Dr. and Mrs. Doyle Hamilton, Dr. and Mrs. A. # B. & P. W. Club Has Banquet At Hotel

The Business and Professional Women's Club held its annual Christmas party last night with a banquet at the Frances Hotel. There were thirty-two members and four visitors present.

The tables, overlaid in white, were centered with sprays of greenery, towering above which red candles glowed. The invocation was led by Mary Lou Garvin.

After dinner, the club was privileged to hear Mrs. Cora Harris sing "Little Jesus Boy" and "White Christmas" accompanied on the piano by Mrs. P. A. Poag. Then Mrs. Osterman gave two selections on the accordian after which those present joined in group carol singing with Mrs. Poag at the piano concluding with the Club Song.

Those enjoying this occasion were: Marguerite Meek, Inas Gwin, Edna Vaughan, Mary Gene Lea, Dorothy Blacketer, Faye Heard, Mary O'Kelly, Madeline Hirsch, Florence Powers, Mamie Ober, Helen Trichel, Mary Lou Garvin, Lela Breard, Sarah Kennon, Johnnie S. Elbert, Laura Slator, Ruth Thomas, Ople Creasy, Carice King, Bessie Skinner, Gladys Miles, Agnes Krogmire, Flora Seaman, Maibel Hood, Bettie Oxford, Lela Wyatt, Alma Bushnell, Nina Welch, Nell Curry, Edna Manley, Lucille Mathis, Evelyn Pankey, and the visitors, Mrs. P. A. Poag, Mrs. Cora Harris, Miss Dana Batzong and Mrs. Osterman.

Allen Family Holds Reunion

A reunion of the descendants of the late Henry Edward Allen and Florence Moore Allen was held at the Mt. Nebo Methodist Church near Downsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen came to Downsville from Alexandria City, Ala., during the latter part of the nineteenth century. Of their family of sixteen children, five boys and five girls are now living. Two of the children, Mrs. Non Brown of Choudrant, and Mrs. Rufus Spurlock of West Monroe were not present for the reunion. The children present were Mr. J. Luther Allen, Mr. W. H. Allen, Mr. Alvie Allen, all of Downsville; Mr. E. C. Allen, Dubach; Mr. Carlos Allen, Monroe; Mrs. Lena Allen, Mrs. Paul George, and Mrs. Duey Finkley, all of West Monroe.

Following the reunion dinner,t he family held a business meeting to discuss plans for future meetings and to elect officers. It was decided that the 1956 reunion would be held at Mr. J. ## 2 HDC Members Share Honors At Afternoon Tea

The spacious country home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Calloway of Bosco was the scene of a tea given by members of the Logtown Home Demonstration Club, honoring Mrs. J. B. Filhiol and Mrs. W. J. Lowe, retiring president and vice-president respectively, between the hours of 3 and 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Calloway greeted guests upon their arrival. In the receiving line with the honorees were Mrs. O. A. Hill, Mrs. Jack Green, Mrs. Fred Hancock, Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Durwood Cann, Mrs. J. B. Filhiol, Jr., and Miss Marie Filhiol. The honor guests were becomingly attired in black crepe, models complemented by beautiful orchid corsages, a gift of Mrs. Gertie Landrum.

Mrs. Bill Luton welcomed guests in the solarium where the tea table, covered with a green cloth overlaid with lace was the center of interest. Gold tapers burned in silver candelabra and at either end the silver coffee and tea services were placed. Dainty sandwiches and cookies completed the decor.

Artistic arrangements of yellow mums and greenery were placed at vantage points throughout the reception rooms.

Mrs. Aaron Stout, in charge of decorating, carried out a green and gold motif in a picturesque arrangement of large yellow mums, gold painted magnolia leaves and cattails.

Alternating at the coffee and tea services were Mesdms. Neil McHenry, Aaron Stout, Eugene Granberry, Durwood Cann, Mattie Scharf, J. C. Williams, and Gene Berry.

Miss Jodie Luton, Mrs. Lowe's granddaughter, Mrs. T. A. Calloway, Mrs. Marvin Shipp and Miss Patsy White, assisted in serving.

Miss Marie Adel Hancock and Miss Connie Green presided at the guest books.

Highlight of the tea was the presentation of identical handbags, a gift of club members, to the honorees. Mrs. Eugene Granberry made the presentation.

More than two hundred guests called during the appointed hours.

Mrs. Strozier Elected Worthy Matron Of OES

At the annual election of officers Friday night Mrs. Herbert Hayden Strozier was elected Worthy Matron, and Herbert H. Strozier was elected Worthy Patron of Annie D. Bennett No 181, Order of the Eastern Star.

Other officers elected to serve during the ensuing year are: Mrs. Estelle Gillmore, Associate Matron; Mr. Fred Lafferty, Associate Patron; Mrs. Reba Cowan, Secretary; Mrs. LaRue Phillips, Treasurer; Mrs. Doris Temple, Conductress, and Mrs. Louise Gatlin, Associate Conductress.

The Worthy Matron - elect appointed the following officers to serve their chapter:

The chapter had the priveledge of electing Mrs. Reba Cowan as their Secretary for the 2nd consecutive year. Mrs. Cowan is one of the Charter members of the West Monroe Chapter, and a Past Matron.

The public is invited to attend the installation ceremony, which will be held at 8:00 p.m., Friday, December 30, in the West Monroe Masonic Temple.

Mrs. E. E. Warrick Hostess At DAR Luncheon

TALLULAH — The December meeting of the Daughters of American Revolution was held at the attractive new home of Mrs. E. E. Warrick for the annual Christmas luncheon. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Mason Spencer, Mrs. Alberta Ammons, Mrs. W. W. Ziegler and Mrs. H. P. Warden of Delhi. Bright Christmas candles and evergreens decorated the reception rooms and on a table near the window was placed a Christmas tree where gifts for the students of the D. A. R. schools, Tamassee and Kate Duncan Smith were arranged.

Following a delicious luncheon a short business session was held preceded by the opening ritual of the Lord's Prayer, Salute to the flag and singing of the National Anthem.

Mrs. H. P. Warden gave an interesting talk on National Defense; Mrs. Robert L. Bailey, Jr., told of Christmas Customs in our D.A.R. School based on old English customs and traditions.

Guests included Mrs. John W. Carpenter, Mrs. George S. Yerger, Mrs. George W. Webb, Mrs. Annie Agee, Mrs. Mittie Key Speed, Mrs. Myles Hopkins, Mrs. S. B. Bettis, Mrs. Flora Bowers, Mrs. Barton Sevier and Mrs. Robert L. Bailey, Jr.

Y'ves Club Has Meeting At YWCA

The Y'ves Club of the YWCA met Wednesday at the YWCA building on Jackson street. The rooms were decorated with traditional Christmas arrangements.

Miss Bess Sharp gave a very timely devotional. After a brief business meeting members adjourned to the dining room. Program chairman, Mrs. Thomas Pitt, introduced Mrs. W. J. Veazey who gave an informative and interesting talk on holiday foods and how to be the "hostess with the mostest."

Hostesses for the morning were Mrs. Clark Butler, Mrs. Eunice Grafton, and Mrs. Dene Morrison.

The following members and guests were present: Mrs. R. E. Harbin and Mrs. Landreth Williams, guests, and Mrs. E. J. Blake, Mrs. Marion Perkins, Mrs. T. L. Van Fossen, Mrs. H. B. Johnson, Mrs. Paul H. Johnson, Jr., Mrs. J. H. Walker, Mrs. Clark Butler, Mrs. B. L. Mulhearn, Mrs. Norman J. Mackinnon, Mrs. T. E. Gibbs, Mrs. H. W. Kight, Mrs. Everett G. Heller, Mrs. W. E. McGough, Mrs. Thomas A. Pitt, Miss Bess Sharp, Mrs. J. R. Hood.

The next meeting of the Y'ves will be held January 11, 1956. The guest speaker will be Mrs. Dewitt Henry who will review LeGrand Cannon's book, "Look to the Mountain." Visitors are always welcome.

MR. AND MRS. PORTER B. RAGLAND were at home at 311 Morris Avenue Sunday, December 11, to a host of relatives and friends, celebrating their Golden Wedding Anniversary. Among those present from out of town were: Mrs. Sarah O'Reilly and daughter, Eileen, from San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Riser and family, Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hutto and family, Shreveport; and Mr. and Mrs. Clem Matthews, Chestnut.

Ever wonder how cooks make those big wide carrot curls? The trick is to cut a large carrot in half lengthwise; then cut thin lengthwise strips of carrot, starting from the cut side and using a swivel-blade vegetable parer. The carrot strips are then rolled up, fastened with toothpicks and given an icy bath for a couple of hours so they will crisp and stay in shape. Remove toothpicks before serving. With a sprig or two of parsley, the carrot curls make attractive garnishes for luncheon sandwiches.

If shredded coconut you have stored gets a bit hard, you can soften it by heating it over hot water.

For a flavor and color variation in scrambled eggs, add a little tomato juice instead of milk or cream.

2 HDC Members Share Honors At Afternoon Tea

The spacious country home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Calloway of Bosco was the scene of a tea given by members of the Logtown Home Demonstration Club, honoring Mrs. J. B. Filhiol and Mrs. W. J. Lowe, retiring president and vice-president respectively, between the hours of 3 and 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Calloway greeted guests upon their arrival. In the receiving line with the honorees were Mrs. O. A. Hill, Mrs. Jack Green, Mrs. Fred Hancock, Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Durwood Cann, Mrs. J. B. Filhiol, Jr., and Miss Marie Filhiol. The honor guests were becomingly attired in black crepe, models complemented by beautiful orchid corsages, a gift of Mrs. Gertie Landrum.

Mrs. Bill Luton welcomed guests in the solarium where the tea table, covered with a green cloth overlaid with lace was the center of interest. Gold tapers burned in silver candelabra and at either end the silver coffee and tea services were placed. Dainty sandwiches and cookies completed the decor.

Artistic arrangements of yellow mums and greenery were placed at vantage points throughout the reception rooms.

Mrs. Aaron Stout, in charge of decorating, carried out a green and gold motif in a picturesque arrangement of large yellow mums, gold painted magnolia leaves and cattails.

Alternating at the coffee and tea services were Mesdms. Neil McHenry, Aaron Stout, Eugene Granberry, Durwood Cann, Mattie Scharf, J. C. Williams, and Gene Berry.

Miss Jodie Luton, Mrs. Lowe's granddaughter, Mrs. T. A. Calloway, Mrs. Marvin Shipp and Miss Patsy White, assisted in serving.

Miss Marie Adel Hancock and Miss Connie Green presided at the guest books.

Highlight of the tea was the presentation of identical handbags, a gift of club members, to the honorees. Mrs. Eugene Granberry made the presentation.

More than two hundred guests called during the appointed hours.

Mrs. Strozier Elected Worthy Matron Of OES

At the annual election of officers Friday night Mrs. Herbert Hayden Strozier was elected Worthy Matron, and Herbert H. Strozier was elected Worthy Patron of Annie D. Bennett No 181, Order of the Eastern Star.

Other officers elected to serve during the ensuing year are: Mrs. Estelle Gillmore, Associate Matron; Mr. Fred Lafferty, Associate Patron; Mrs. Reba Cowan, Secretary; Mrs. LaRue Phillips, Treasurer; Mrs. Doris Temple, Conductress, and Mrs. Louise Gatlin, Associate Conductress.

The Worthy Matron - elect appointed the following officers to serve their chapter:

Mrs. Mildred Cooper, Chaplain; Mrs. Gerry Haley, Marshal; Mrs. Russie Watts, Organist; Mrs. Beverly Parrish, Adah; Mrs. Virginia Gallien, Ruth; Mrs. Marjorie Becton, Ester; Mrs. Vivian Bass, Martha; Mrs. Evelyn Blackmon, Electa Mrs. Eulalea Mooney, Warder; and Mrs. Florence Edwards, Sentinel.

The chapter had the priveledge of electing Mrs. Reba Cowan as their Secretary for the 2nd consecutive year. Mrs. Cowan is one of the Charter members of the West Monroe Chapter, and a Past Matron.

The public is invited to attend the installation ceremony, which will be held at 8:00 p.m., Friday, December 30, in the West Monroe Masonic Temple.

Mrs. E. E. Warrick Hostess At DAR Luncheon

TALLULAH — The December meeting of the Daughters of American Revolution was held at the attractive new home of Mrs. E. E. Warrick for the annual Christmas luncheon. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Mason Spencer, Mrs. Alberta Ammons, Mrs. W. W. Ziegler and Mrs. H. P. Warden of Delhi. Bright Christmas candles and evergreens decorated the reception rooms and on a table near the window was placed a Christmas tree where gifts for the students of the D. A. R. schools, Tamassee and Kate Duncan Smith were arranged.

Following a delicious luncheon a short business session was held preceded by the opening ritual of the Lord's Prayer, Salute to the flag and singing of the National Anthem.

Mrs. H. P. Warden gave an interesting talk on National Defense; Mrs. Robert L. Bailey, Jr., told of Christmas Customs in our D.A.R. School based on old English customs and traditions.

Guests included Mrs. John W. Carpenter, Mrs. George S. Yerger, Mrs. George W. Webb, Mrs. Annie Agee, Mrs. Mittie Key Speed, Mrs. Myles Hopkins, Mrs. S. B. Bettis, Mrs. Flora Bowers, Mrs. Barton Sevier and Mrs. Robert L. Bailey, Jr.

Y'ves Club Has Meeting At YWCA

The Y'ves Club of the YWCA met Wednesday at the YWCA building on Jackson street. The rooms were decorated with traditional Christmas arrangements.

Miss Bess Sharp gave a very timely devotional. After a brief business meeting members adjourned to the dining room. Program chairman, Mrs. Thomas Pitt, introduced Mrs. W. J. Veazey who gave an informative and interesting talk on holiday foods and how to be the "hostess with the mostest."

Hostesses for the morning were Mrs. Clark Butler, Mrs. Eunice Grafton, and Mrs. Dene Morrison.

The following members and guests were present: Mrs. R. E. Harbin and Mrs. Landreth Williams, guests, and Mrs. E. J. Blake, Mrs. Marion Perkins, Mrs. T. L. Van Fossen, Mrs. H. B. Johnson, Mrs. Paul H. Johnson, Jr., Mrs. J. H. Walker, Mrs. Clark Butler, Mrs. B. L. Mulhearn, Mrs. Norman J. Mackinnon, Mrs. T. E. Gibbs, Mrs. H. W. Kight, Mrs. Everett G. Heller, Mrs. W. E. McGough, Mrs. Thomas A. Pitt, Miss Bess Sharp, Mrs. J. R. Hood.

The next meeting of the Y'ves will be held January 11, 1956. The guest speaker will be Mrs. Dewitt Henry who will review LeGrand Cannon's book, "Look to the Mountain." Visitors are always welcome.

MR. AND MRS. PORTER B. RAGLAND were at home at 311 Morris Avenue Sunday, December 11, to a host of relatives and friends, celebrating their Golden Wedding Anniversary. Among those present from out of town were: Mrs. Sarah O'Reilly and daughter, Eileen, from San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Riser and family, Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hutto and family, Shreveport; and Mr. and Mrs. Clem Matthews, Chestnut.

Ever wonder how cooks make those big wide carrot curls? The trick is to cut a large carrot in half lengthwise; then cut thin lengthwise strips of carrot starting from the cut side and using a swivel-blade vegetable parer. The carrot strips are then rolled up, fastened with toothpicks and given an icy bath for a couple of hours so they will crisp and stay in shape. Remove toothpicks before serving. With a sprig or two of parsley, the carrot curls make attractive garnishes for luncheon sandwiches.

If shredded coconut you have stored gets a bit hard, you can soften it by heating it over hot water.

For a flavor and color variation in scrambled eggs, add a little tomato juice instead of milk or cream.

THE IDEAL CHRISTMAS GIFT!

Take down that chafing dish—the one you got for a wedding present—from the closet where it's hidden. Use it for keeping food warm wher. giving a party. This way you'll find it wonderfully useful, elegant looking! If it is the kind of chafing dish that uses canned heat it may give better service in keeping food warm than in actually cooking it.

Company coming? Serve a whole head of cooked cauliflower topped with cheese sauce and a sprinkle of paprika. For an extra garnish add chopped toasted almonds or small salted pecans.

Put a layer of sauerkraut in a large skillet. Add some tomato sauce and frankfurters. Heat thoroughly and serve with fluffy mashed potatoes sprinkled with minced parsley.

Passman Unfolds His Plans For Upcoming Session

Legislative plans calling for provision of full parity for cotton, increased appropriations for Lower Mississippi Valley flood - control projects and drastic curtailment of U. S. foreign - aid spending were outlined Saturday by Fifth District Congressman Otto E. Passman. He said also that during the Congressional session which is to begin January 3 he would be opposed to proposals for federal aid to education and mass federal road - building through long - term indebtedness.

A high - ranking member of the 50 - representative appropriations committee of the House, where all Congressional appropriations originate, Passman said he would continue advocacy of "fiscal strictness" and businesslike operations in government.

He said that during the forthcoming Congressional session he would:

Work without reservation for legislation toward "full parity" for cotton and other basic agricultural commodities, with "reasonable" acreage, or production, allotments.

Support implementation of such a plan in a manner to assure an effective and sound fiber, food and conservation program, equitable to both producers and consumers.

Continue to work for further curtailment of U. S. foreign - aid spending, with a specific goal again for the fiscal year of another reduction of at least a half billion dollars in the appropriation for the program — which, "while failing to accomplish its basic purposes and objectives, is critically burdening our taxpayers and seriously depleting the nation's resources."

Support increased appropriations for pursuing the over - all Lower Mississippi Valley flood - control and drainage project, which "has a general benefits - to - cost ratio of nearly five to one."

Specifically work toward appropriation of adequate funds for carrying out according to schedule the vast and vitally important "Old River" closure project on the mighty Mississippi in Louisiana, for funds to undertake Bayou Macon stream - improvement work and to continue the project on Boeuf river, and actively support the proposed New Orleans - to - Gulf tidewater ship channel.

Work for a reduction of the federal gas - tax for farmers in their off - highway consumption of gasoline.

Support proposals for increased research on insecticides for crop pest - control, with the view of possible federal legislation to assure quality in cotton and other crop pest poisons.

While having voted for a dollar-an-hour wage minimum in covered establishments and work, oppose further raising of the minimum and also oppose inclusion of farm field - hands among affected workers.

Support plans or exemption of transient farm workers from mandatory Social Security program coverage, but for broadening of the program generally.

Work in cooperation with proposals for conservation and development of the nation's natural resources, for a stronger national defense, with a sound tax program, toward a balanced national budget, for national unity, realistic foreign relations and a strong national economy — through legislative actions in the fields of national defense and internal security, international affairs, national economy, veterans and servicemen, agriculture, labor, natural resources, social security, health and welfare, federal appropriations, and governmental reorganization.

REV. CADWALLADER

Former Pastor, Will Tell Of His Mission Labors

College Place Baptist church will have in its pulpit Sunday, Rev. C. S. Cadwallader, Jr., former pastor of the church. He was pastor of the church from 1945 through 1952 and he with his wife are now serving as Southern Baptist missionaries in Guatemala. During his ministry the church experienced a great growth. His message will be in connection with the Lottie Moon Christmas offering that is now being taken by Southern Baptists.

Mrs. Cadwallader will speak at the Opening Assembly of the Intermediate Department, more than 100 Intermediates, ages 13-16, are expected to be present. The Sunday school has a goal of 800 for Sunday morning to begin the day of welcome to the Cadwalladers. Sunday school is at 9:45 a.m. The worship hour, when Brother Cadwallader will speak is at 11:00 o'clock. Training Union is at 6:15 p.m. and the evening worship hour at 7:30 p.m. will feature two important events. First the church choir under the direction of Mrs. L. N. (Buddy) Blair will present the Cantata, "Chimes of the Holy Night" by Fred B. Holton. Soloists for this cantata will be Mrs. Don Hoyem, Miss Jane Blanchard, Mrs. Max Dillingham, Miss Irma Grace Stevens, Mrs. C. H. Thacker, Max Dillingham, Bob Bushnell and Jack Dean.

Following the Cantata the church will observe its White Christmas when the ingathering for all Lottie Moon Christmas offerings for foreign missions will be taken. Each organization of the church will have a representative to bring forward and lay under the tree the gift to Christ at Christmas. The goal set for this offering is $4,000. It will have added significance, since the former pastor is now one of the 1008 missionaries supported by Southern Baptists. The pastor, Rev. T. Earl Ogg, invites the public to these services.

Dr. E. K. Means To Give Christmas Sermon Sunday

The Southside Methodist Church will observe the end of the first year that this group has been worshipping in the new chapel and in order to make the observance really fitting the occasion, the minister Rev. Lea Joyner, has secured the ever-popular Dr. E. K. Means who will deliver the Christmas sermon Sunday at 10:50 a. m.

The public is so fond of Dr. Means that when he is announced as guest preacher, the pews of churches are filled to overflowing. The public is extended a sincere invitation to hear his talk Sunday morning which will comprise a typical Christmas message. Also Christmas in song will be the offering by the choirs Chancel and Altar which will unite in unusually choice programs.

Christmas Cantata Is To Be Given Tonight

Melodies of Christmas, a Christmas cantata arranged by Ellen Jane Lorenz from some of the themes of Franz Schubert, will be rendered by the Parkview Baptist choir tonight (Sunday) at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. W. W. Wilkerson will accompany the choir at the organ and Mrs. E. W. Cruse at the Steinway Grand.

Mrs. Edna Hill will sing "Great Is God Above" (Ave Maria) supported by the choir. A beautiful trio, "Peace On The Earth" (Du bist die Ruh), will be sung by Mrs. Van Odom, Mrs. Lloyd Henderson, and Jennings Wilkins. Mr. Wilkins also sings the tenor solo "Come Ye To Bethlehem" (Impromptu in B flat). A bass solo, "Our Gifts We Bring" (To Music), will be rendered by Jack Madden.

Some of the themes of Schubert that will be done by the choir are as follows: "Unfinished Symphony" (part); "Wander's nightsong"; "Wiegenlied"; "The Omnipotence"; "Impromptu In A Flat"; "Litany"; "The Wanderer," and "Miriam's Song of Triumph."

The public is cordially invited to hear this twenty voice choir sing this beautiful Cantata.

Covenant Church Presents Pageant Sunday Afternoon

"The Prince of Peace," the story of the birth of Christ, is to be given at a candlelight service and revealed in word, music and pageantry this afternoon at 5:30 at the Covenant Presbyterian Church. The program is under the direction of Mrs. D. T. Milam, with Mrs. Ben Marshall assisting her.

A large Bible, nine by twelve feet, has been made. The various characters will step out of this and take their place in this event as the pages are turned.

Music will be sung by the Ouachita Parish High School choir under the direction of Mrs. B. Mack Hearne. This promises to be a most inspiring presentation, and the public is invited.

COVENANT WOMEN TO MEET

The Women of Covenant Presbyterian Church will meet Tuesday, December 20, at 2:30 p. m. at the church. Installation of officers for the next year will be held.

Quick way to cut square biscuits is to use the cube divide from your refrigerator tray.

MISS ELLEN WILSON

Ellen Wilson To Be Approved For Missionary Work

The high school youth of the Ridge Avenue Baptist church of West Monroe will have charge of the services of the church at the evening service and render a special program.

Shirley Cotton, president of the B. H. U., a Baptist High school organization, will lead the service. Other youth having part in the service are Ellen Wilson, Rose Hibbard, Edith Holstead, Rebecca Wallace and the Intermediate choir.

A special feature will come at the close of the service when Ellen Wilson will be approved as a missionary and pledged support in her preparation.

Adults sponsoring and aiding these youth in the service Sunday evening are Mrs. W. F. Everritt, Mr. Dan Watson, Mrs. Elaine Bruce, Miss Marion Hinckley and Rev. A. T. Mitchell, pastor of the church.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: Do you believe that all religious people will go to heaven? A. L. J.

ANSWER: It is not being "religious" which saves one, for one may be very religious but center one's affections and faith on something or someone who has no power to save them. It also makes no difference how sincere one may be because we can be sincerely wrong. The Bible is very explicit on how men are saved. Here are four verses which make this plain. John the Baptist said: "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life; and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him." Jesus said: "I am the way, the truth, and the life, no man cometh to the Father but by Me." Peter said: "Neither is there salvation in any other; for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." Paul said: "For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the Man Christ Jesus." From this we see that it is not religion which saves us but faith in Jesus Christ as the Son of God and the Savior of our souls from the guilt and penalty of sin. Remember, this is not my personal opinion but it is the clear teaching of the Bible, God's Word.

Christmas To Be Observed In Swartz

The Swartz Baptist Church will present its Christmas program, Wednesday, December 21 at 7:30 p.m. The title of the program will be "The Story of Jesus" and will consist of readings, songs and scriptures. The life of Christ will be portrayed beginning with the prophecy of His birth and ending on the theme of His return.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Jehovah Group To Conduct Its Area Convention

The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York will sponsor a three-day assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in Monroe, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, December 23, 24, and 25. The convention which will be held in the Virginia Hotel is for Bible instructions and concentrated gospel-preaching in this area announced H. C. Trull today, who is a spokesman for the group and local minister.

All three days of the assembly will consist of morning, afternoon and evening sessions of Bible talks, discussions and demonstrations, which are open to the public without charge.

A similar circuit meeting, representing twenty congregations was held six months ago in Pine Bluff, Ark.

W. D. Couch of New York will be the feature speaker of the event. He will appear on the program all three days and will deliver the main public address at 3 p.m. Sunday, December 25. His subject will be "Overcoming the Fears of This Generation."

Mr. Trull said he expected 700 delegates to attend the convention from Arkansas, Texas and other parts of Louisiana.

Methodists Of State To Observe Hospital Sunday

Methodist churches throughout Louisiana will observe Methodist Home and Hospital Sunday, December 18.

The Home and Hospital, located at 815 Washington Avenue, New Orleans, is a church supported social agency which provides medical care and professional services for unwed mothers and their babies.

The Rev. L. D. Haughton, superintendent, said the home has ministered to more than 3,000 girls and babies in the past 40 years.

The institution is a modern maternity hospital and home, and a licensed child-caring and adoption agency.

The entire support of the home, including maintenance and building, comes from Methodists in Louisiana and Mississippi. The hospital is owned by the three Methodist conferences in the two states.

A Sunday during the Christmas season is set aside each year for the home observance and offering, Dr. Haughton said.

Dr. N. H. Melbert, pastor of the First Methodist Church, New Orleans, and who is also chairman of the board of trustees for the home, said in his statement concerning the offering that the home has made wonderful progress during the past year, and a sizeable offering this Christmas will clear the home of its last remaining indebtedness.

Speech-Choir To Be Feature For Memorial Church

The speech - choir under the direction of Mrs. Harry Liner and the adult choir under the direction of Mrs. Donald E. Logan will be in charge of the Christmas musical worship at Memorial Presbyterian Church, North 4th at Mill street, West Monroe, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Soloists for the musical worship program will be Mrs. Courtlandt McCoy, Mrs. Ellis Bairnsfather, and Harry Liner.

Those responsible for the program have made a place for congregational participation in worship by providing for the reading of God's word, prayer and congregational singing as well as presenting gifts in worship to our Lord. Such songs as "Away in a Manger," "What Child Is This", and "Silent Night" will be sung by the choir or the speech - choir. The choir's processional is "O Come Emmanuel" and the recessional is "Joy to the World."

Today's YOUR GUIDING STAR Messages:

0. Phil. 4:17. Not that I seek the gift; but I seek the fruit which increases to your credit.
1. Prov. 8:6, 7. I will speak noble things, and from my lips will come what is right; for my mouth will utter truth.
2. Col. 3:25. The wrongdoer will be paid back for the wrong he has done, and there is no partiality.
3. Col. 4:5. Conduct yourself wisely, making the most of the time.
4. Phil. 3:16. Only let us hold true to what we have attained.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
No. 2nd at Auburn

"Is The Universe, Including Man, Evolved By Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, December 18, 1955.
The Golden Text is: "The Lord hath prepared his throne in the heavens; and his kingdom ruleth over all." (Ps. 103: 19).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear." (Hebr. 11:3).
The Lesson - Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "All things are created spiritually. Mind, not matter, is the creator. Love, the divine Principle, is the Father and Mother of the universe, including man." (p. 256)

REV. CADWALLADER

Former Pastor, Will Tell Of His Mission Labors

College Place Baptist church will have in its pulpit Sunday, Rev. C. S. Cadwallader, Jr., former pastor of the church. He was pastor of the church from 1945 through 1952 and he with his wife are now serving as Southern Baptist missionaries in Guatemala. During his ministry the church experienced a great growth. His message will be in connection with the Lottie Moon Christmas offering that is now being taken by Southern Baptists.

Mrs. Cadwallader will speak at the Opening Assembly of the Intermediate Department, more than 100 Intermediates, ages 13-16, are expected to be present. The Sunday school has a goal of 800 for Sunday morning to begin the day of welcome to the Cadwalladers. Sunday school is at 9:45 a.m. The worship hour, when Brother Cadwallader will speak is at 11:00 o'clock. Training Union is at 6:15 p.m. and the evening worship hour at 7:30 p.m. will feature two important events. First the church choir under the direction of Mrs. L. N. (Buddy) Blair will present the Cantata, "Chimes of the Holy Night" by Fred B. Holton. Soloists for this cantata will be Mrs. Don Hoyem, Miss Jane Blanchard, Mrs. Max Dillingham, Miss Irma Grace Stevens, Mrs. C. H. Thacker, Max Dillingham, Bob Bushnell and Jack Dean.

Following the Cantata the church will observe its White Christmas when the ingathering for all Lottie Moon Christmas offerings for foreign missions will be taken. Each organization of the church will have a representative to bring forward and lay under the tree the gift to Christ at Christmas. The goal set for this offering if $4,000. It will have added significance, since the former pastor is now one of the 1008 missionaries supported by Southern Baptists. The pastor, Rev. T. Earl Ogg, invites the public to these services.

Dr. E. K. Means To Give Christmas Sermon Sunday

The Southside Methodist Church will observe the end of the first year that this group has been worshipping in the new chapel and in order to make the observance really fitting the occasion, the minister Rev. Lea Joyner, has secured the ever-popular Dr. E. K. Means who will deliver the Christmas sermon Sunday at 10:50 a. m.

The public is so fond of Dr. Means that when he is announced as guest preacher, the pews of churches are filled to overflowing. The public is extended a sincere invitation to hear his talk Sunday morning which will comprise a typical Christmas message. Also Christmas in song will be the offering by the choirs Chancel and Altar which will unite in unusually choice programs.

Christmas Cantata Is To Be Given Tonight

Melodies of Christmas, a Christmas cantata arranged by Ellen Jane Lorenz from some of the themes of Franz Schubert, will be rendered by the Parkview Baptist choir tonight (Sunday) at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. W. W. Wilkerson will accompany the choir at the organ and Mrs. E. W. Cruse at the Steinway Grand.

Mrs. Edna Hill will sing "Great Is God Above" (Ave Maria) supported by the choir. A beautiful trio, "Peace On The Earth" (Du bist die Ruh), will be sung by Mrs. Van Odom, Mrs. Lloyd Henderson, and Jennings Wilkins. Mr. Wilkins also sings the tenor solo "Come Ye To Bethlehem" (Impromptu in B flat). A bass solo, "Our Gifts We Bring" (To Music), will be rendered by Jack Madden.

Some of the themes of Schubert that will be done by the choir are as follows( "Unfinished Symphony" (part); "Wander's nightsong", "Wiegenlied"; "The Omnipotence"; "Impromptu In A Flat"; "Litany", "The Wanderer," and "Miriam's Song of Triumph."

The public is cordially invited to hear this twenty voice choir sing this beautiful Cantata.

Covenant Church Presents Pageant Sunday Afternoon

"The Prince of Peace," the story of the birth of Christ, is to be given at a candlelight service and revealed in word, music and pageantry this afternoon at 5:30 at the Covenant Presbyterian Church. The program is under the direction of Mrs. D. T. Milam, with Mrs. Ben Marshall assisting her.

A large Bible, nine by twelve feet, has been made. The various characters will step out of this and take their place in this event as the pages are turned.

Music will be sung by the Ouachita Parish High School choir under the direction of Mrs. B. Mack Hearne. This promises to be a most inspiring presentation, and the public is invited.

COVENANT WOMEN TO MEET

The Women of Covenant Presbyterian Church will meet Tuesday, December 20, at 2:30 p. m. at the church. Installation of officers for the next year will be held.

Quick way to cut square biscuits is to use the cube divide from your refrigerator tray.

MISS ELLEN WILSON

Ellen Wilson To Be Approved For Missionary Work

The high school youth of the Ridge Avenue Baptist church of West Monroe will have charge of the services of the church at the evening service and render a special program.

Shirley Cotton, president of the B Hi U, a Baptist High school organization, will lead the service. Other youth having part in the service are Ellen Wilson, Rose Hibbard, Edith Holstead, Rebecca Wallace and the Intermediate choir.

A special feature will come at the close of the service when Ellen Wilson will be approved as a missionary and pledged support in her preparation.

Adults sponsoring and aiding these youth in the service Sunday evening are Mrs. W. F. Everritt, Mr. Dan Watson, Mrs. Elaine Bruce, Miss Marion Hinckley and Rev. A. T. Mitchell, pastor of the church.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: Do you believe that all religious people will go to heaven? A. L. J.

ANSWER: It is not being "religious" which saves one, for one may be very religious but center one's affections and faith on something or someone who has no power to save them. It also makes no difference how sincere one may be because we can be sincerely wrong. The Bible is very explicit on how men are saved. Here are four verses which make this plain. John the Baptist said: "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life; and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him." Jesus said: "I am the way, the truth, and the life, no man cometh to the Father but by Me." Peter said: "Neither is there salvation in any other; for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." Paul said: "For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the Man Christ Jesus." From this we see that it is not religion which saves us but faith in Jesus Christ as the Son of God and the Savior of our souls from the guilt and penalty of sin. Remember, this is not my personal opinion but it is the clear teaching of the Bible, God's Word.

Christmas To Be Observed In Swartz

The Swartz Baptist Church will present its Christmas program, Wednesday, December 21 at 7:30 p.m. The title of the program will be "The Story of Jesus" and will consist of readings, songs and scriptures. The life of Christ will be portrayed beginning with the prophecy of His birth and ending on the theme of His return.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Jehovah Group To Conduct Its Area Convention

The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York will sponsor a three-day assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in Monroe, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, December 23, 24, and 25. The convention which will be held in the Virginia Hotel is for Bible instructions and concentrated gospel-preaching in this area announced H. C. Trull today, who is a spokesman for the group and local minister.

All three days of the assembly will consist of morning, afternoon and evening sessions of Bible talks, discussions and demonstrations, which are open to the public without charge.

A similar circuit meeting, representing twenty congregations was held six months ago in Pine Bluff, Ark.

W. D. Couch of New York will be the feature speaker of the event. He will appear on the program all three days and will deliver the main public address at 3 p.m. Sunday, December 25. His subject will be "Overcoming the Fears of This Generation."

Mr. Trull said he expected 700 delegates to attend the convention from Arkansas, Texas and other parts of Louisiana.

Methodists Of State To Observe Hospital Sunday

Methodist churches throughout Louisiana will observe Methodist Home and Hospital Sunday, December 18.

The Home and Hospital, located at 815 Washington Avenue, New Orleans, is a church supported social agency which provides medical care and professional services for unwed mothers and their babies.

The Rev. L. D. Haughton, superintendent, said the home has menistered to more than 3,000 girls and babies in the past 40 years.

The institution is a modern maternity hospital and home, and a licensed child-caring and adoption agency.

The entire support of the home, including maintenance and building, comes from Methodists in Louisiana and Mississippi. The hospital is owned by the three Methodist conferences in the two states.

A Sunday during the Christmas season is set aside each year for the home observance and offering, Dr. Haughton said.

Dr. N. H. Melbert, pastor of the First Methodist Church, New Orleans, and who is also chairman of the board of trustees for the home, said in his statement concerning the offering that the home has made wonderful progress during the past year, and a sizeable offering this Christmas will clear the home of its last remaining indebtedness.

Speech-Choir To Be Feature For Memorial Church

The speech - choir under the direction of Mrs. Harry Liner and the adult choir under the direction of Mrs. Donald E. Logan will be in charge of the Christmas musical worship at Memorial Presbyterian Church, North 4th at Mill street, West Monroe, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Soloists for the musical worship program will be Mrs. Courtlandt McCoy, Mrs. Ellis Bairnsfather, and Harry Liner.

Those responsible for the program have made a place for congregational participation in worship by providing for the reading of God's word, prayer and congregational singing as well as presenting gifts in worship to our Lord. Such songs as "Away in a Manger," "What Child Is This", and "Silent Night" will be sung by the choir or the speech - choir. The choir's processional is "O Come Emmanuel" and the recessional is "Joy to the World."

Today's YOUR GUIDING STAR Messages:

0. Phil. 4:17. Not that I seek the gift; but I seek the fruit which increases to your credit.
1. Prov. 8:6, 7. I will speak noble things, and from my lips will come what is right; for my mouth will utter truth.
2. Col. 3:25. The wrongdoer will be paid back for the wrong he has done, and there is no partiality.
3. Col. 4:5. Conduct yourself wisely, making the most of the time.
4. Phil. 3:16. Only let us hold true to what we have attained.

No. 2nd at Auburn

"Is The Universe, Including Man, Evolved By Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, December 18, 1955.
The Golden Text is: "The Lord hath prepared his throne in the heavens; and his kingdom ruleth over all." (Ps. 103: 19).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear." (Hebr. 11:3).
The Lesson - Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "All things are created spiritually. Mind, not matter, is the creator. Love, the divine Principle, is the Father and Mother of the universe, including man." (p. 256)
Listen to a 15 minute radio broadcast Sunday at 7:45 a.m. over Radio Station KNOE. Sunday School at 9:30 a.m. Sunday Service at 11:00 a.m. Wednesday Service at 8:00 p.m. Reading Room at 135 North Second Street open daily from 10:00 to 5:00 except Sundays and national holidays. # Decorations For The Yule Season

While I was in Baton Rouge, old man weather painted a winter picture on our north Louisiana landscape. The trees stand stark and naked. Do you love their winter bareness? Just stand off and look at a pecan. It's such a mighty tree it gives you a feeling of strength. You might take a better look at that pecan, too. This tree is self-pruning. When too many limbs become crowded, you'll hear a cracking sound and down comes a branch. Some of those broken limbs need sawing off smooth and sealing with tree paint. This tree seal can be found at your feed and seed stores. Open wounds are an invitation to diseases and insects.

Crepe myrtles are especially beautiful in their bareness. Their gray trunks blend with the bleakness. Of course we all need a certain number of evergreens to keep this bleakness from being overdone.

Christmas Decorations

While in Baton Rouge I paid particular attention to the Christmas decorations, hoping to bring you back some ideas. You do everything so beautifully, there's little you don't know. There were two windows that particularly caught my eye — maybe because I love pastels. One — a window with mauve pink curtains with a tree sprayed the same color and blue balls used for decoration. Another house used pale green curtains at the window and the tree was sprayed the same color with pink beads used as decoration.

Maybe you like the traditional green and red decorations. Here's an idea for you. For a festive note, decorate a mirror. Fasten a pinpoint flower holder on one corner of a mirror with a piece of modeling clay. Then insert your greens and cones in the pin - point holder. Afterwards, silver or gold stars can be pasted on the mirror on the two sides of the arrangement.

Hardware cloth is invaluable when making trees and wreaths. This can be purchased by the foot from farm supply stores, hardwares and seed and feed stores. There's so much you can do with this wire. You can cut wreaths and fill them in with holly, cedar or other evergreen. You can cut a miniature tree for a door decoration. Cut it in the shape of an evergreen tree. Inset sprigs of evergreen, about four inches in length, weaving the stems in and out. The tree can be decorated with silver or colored cones, Christmas tree ball ornaments or lights. This can be hung on your front door by tying a string or wire into the hardware cloth in back of the tree.

Monroe Garden Club Tour

Again members of the Monroe Garden Club Christmas committee completely overwhelmed us with the four homes decorated for the yuletide. Simplicity was the keynote, beginning with the Ivy Jordon home on Forsythe. Outstanding was the green tree tipped with snow. The only decorations were small gold fans made by folding construction paper. These were tied with brown ribbon and flecked with glitter. On each branch was perched a blue bird made of felt and stuffed with cotton. Camille Woods and Nancy Weaks originated this idea and carried it out.

From the Jordons we passed through the back entrance of the family room, across the yard to the Morgan's summer house. There stood old Santa, life size, standing against a tree. Leisurel, swimming in the pool were ducks, (decoys) each with a red bow around his neck. In the summer house the yule logs were burning. Decorations were principally made from pine cones. One plaque was outstanding. Serena Lewis had fashioned this of small pine cones and pine rosettes cut from large cones.

The Cummings home on Point Drive is so very beautiful. There's a view of Bayou DeSiard from each room. A larg brass pedestal on the dining table held a gold arrangement of holly fern, English ivy, palm and grapes. This showed the excellent taste and ingenuity of Gladys Dickerson.

The decorations in the Henry Biedenharn home on Loop Road carried out the white theme. Bessie's always-in-good taste ideas were carried out in the entire down stairs. Magnolia leaves enameled white made the back ground for many of the arrangements.

The entire committee and the hostesses are to be congratulated on the beautiful scheme carried out in each home.

Food Notes

Can you name a major food that is almost as cheap now as before the war? Just check today's pork prices against those of 1940 and you'll be surprised how much alike they are. This is the biggest story of the year, so far as food news is concerned. Now is the time to freeze some pork for later use, as this meat keeps its flavor for at least three months.

Peanut butter and peanuts are plentiful this winter. They are excellent sources of B vitamins, niacin, high-quality protein and fat for energy.

Announcements

Your "Open house" programs for next week are as follows: Monday, Bess Baines from Concordia parish will brighten up your home for Christmas; Tuesday, Mrs. Hissong from Louisiana State University extension will show you how to keep safe during the holidays; Wednesday, Mary Margaret will bring the three blue ribbon flower arrangements and Mr. Wright from Louisiana Tech will give his fourth lesson in flower arrangement; Thursday, Mrs. Harry Seffers from Baskin, Louisiana, will show you how to make a different kind of doll; Friday is Marketing Day with Mildred and Mammy.

See you next Sunday.

by Philip Hulitar

PROMINENT DESIGNER—Never, but never does Phillip Hulitar design "background" dresses. You couldn't possibly stay in the background in Pattern M221! Simple though it is, every line is exquisitely molded to do the most for your figure. That's the Hulitar genuis—the great flair for allure and excitement of this fabulously successful American designer. With a care-free hand, he draws a dashing high-flying collar on a slender buttoned to the waist. He subtly elongates the line by setting the pocket low on your hip, and curving it 'round to the back. The total effect? If you've always wanted a "Venus" look—this beautifully balanced silhouette does the trick! Choose a gleaming silk crepe, crisp faile or taffeta— and make this Hulitar Original your very own!

Pattern M221 is available in Misses' Sizes 10 ,12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 16 requires 3⅛ yards 39-inch fabric.

Send FIFTY CENTS (in coins) for Pattern M221 to Morning World, Pattern Department, P. O. Box 59, Old Chelsea Station, New York 11, N. Y. Please print plainly YOUR NAME, ADRESS with ZONE, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE.

MEETING CHANGED

VIDALIA, Dec. 17 (Special) — The December meeting of the Concordia parish police jury has been re-scheduled for Wednesday.

It was originally set for December 28, but was changed because of the Christmas holidays.

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

Best Exposure For Winter Blossoms

To enjoy the winter blossoms of such shrubs as camellias, winter sweet (Meratia), sweet breath of spring (Lonicera fragrantissima) and corylopsis, we must give these plants as perfect an exposure as we can. For winter bloomers like these, the best exposure is away from the cold northwest winds that bring in our cold spells in this part of the world. An L-shaped house is perfect for this purpose, but not all of us can provide this happy situation and must place a choice camellia against an east or south-facing wall. If it is not near the windy corner, the buds and blossoms will get the maximum of wind protection.

There is another factor to be taken into account, too, in the search for the perfect winter exposure. After a shrub has been frozen during the night, the sudden full sun with which we are blessed during so many days in winter in the South may thaw out flower buds too quickly at the bases of their stems and cause them to drop off. If some light shade can be provided like the part shade of a pine tree, buds and flowers will thaw out gradually, and many will be saved. Camellias are actually woodland shrubs in China where they are native. They like the setting of high shade trees over them, and tall pines are just the thing. If no such partial shade is possible on your place, than a lath and tobacco cloth form can be made that may be erected during the camellia season and set up over your favorite bush. This cover will repay your efforts amply with many a blossom in January and February and March.

There is nothing better than pine straw or excelsior for the protection of any small plants in the perennial border or in the garden. Pine straw is light and will create a little green house over tender plants during the few cold weeks ahead. Although your Christmas rose (Helleborus) will flower without covering, the flowers will keep better away from those bright sun rays that strike them on frosty mornings. If pine straw encourages mice or rats, it can be removed when warmer weather comes. However, it will hold down the winter weeds like chickweed and it will last on the garden as a summer mulch for a year or two before it decays. The humus into which this natural product finally turns is soft and good for the soil.

Those gift bulbs that people give you for Christmas should be set fairly deep in the ground and then mulched with from six inches to a foot of leaves or pine straw. The mulch can be left on until the daffodils or tulips are found to be on their way up and have grown an inch or two above the surface of the soil. Then all of the mulch can be removed but an inch or two.

Census Slated For Crossett

CROSSETT, Ark., Dec. 17 (Special) — Ben D. Smith, special census supervisor for the bureau of the census, arrived in Crossett this week and has recruited and trained a special staff of 12 enumerators to take the federal census in Crossett.

Purpose of the census is to obtain the latest count of residents which will make Crossett eligible for a greater share of state turnback funds allocated on the basis of population.

City officials and local Chamber of Commerce representatives have estimated the present population of Crossett at 6,000. Last official census taken on April 1, 1950, gave the city 4,619.

Afterwards, silver or gold stars can be pasted on the mirror on the two sides of the arrangement.

Hardware cloth is invaluable when making trees and wreaths. This can be purchased by the foot from farm supply stores, hardwares and seed and feed stores. There's so much you can do with this wire. You can cut wreaths and fill them in with holly, cedar or other evergreen. You can cut a miniature tree for a door decoration. Cut it in the shape of an evergreen tree. Inset sprigs of evergreen, about four inches in length, weaving the stems in and out. The tree can be decorated with silver or colored cones, Christmas tree ball ornaments or lights. This can be hung on your front door by tying a string or wire into the hardware cloth in back of the tree.

Monroe Garden Club Tour

Again members of the Monroe Garden Club Christmas committee completely overwhelmed us with the four homes decorated for the yuletide. Simplicity was the keynote, beginning with the Ivy Jordon home on Forsythe. Outstanding was the green tree tipped with snow. The only decorations were small gold fans made by folding construction paper. These were tied with brown ribbon and flecked with glitter. On each branch was perched a blue bird made of felt and stuffed with cotton. Camille Woods and Nancy Weaks originated this idea and carried it out.

From the Jordons we passed through the back entrance of the family room, across the yard to the Morgan's summer house. There stood old Santa, life size, standing against a tree. Leisurel, swimming in the pool were ducks, (decoys) each with a red bow around his neck. In the summer house the yule logs were burning. Decorations were principally made from pine cones. One plaque was outstanding. Serena Lewis had fashioned this of small pine cones and pine rosettes cut from large cones.

The Cummings home on Point Drive is so very beautiful. There's a view of Bayou DeSiard from each room. A larg brass pedestal on the dining table held a gold arrangement of holly fern, English ivy, palm and grapes. This showed the excellent taste and ingenuity of Gladys Dickerson.

The decorations in the Henry Biedenharn home on Loop Road carried out the white theme. Bessie's always-in-good taste ideas were carried out in the entire down stairs. Magnolia leaves enameled white made the back ground for many of the arrangements.

The entire committee and the hostesses are to be congratulated on the beautiful scheme carried out in each home.

Food Notes

Can you name a major food that is almost as cheap now as before the war? Just check today's pork prices against those of 1940 and you'll be surprised how much alike they are. This is the biggest story of the year, so far as food news is concerned. Now is the time to freeze some pork for later use, as this meat keeps its flavor for at least three months.

Peanut butter and peanuts are plentiful this winter. They are x-cellent sources of B vitamins, niacin, high-quality protein and fat for energy.

Announcements

Your "Open house" programs for next week are as follows: Monday, Bess Baines from Concordia parish will brighten up your home for Christmas; Tuesday, Mrs. Hissong from Louisiana State University extension will show you how to keep safe during the holidays; Wednesday, Mary Margaret will bring the three blue ribbon flower arrangements and Mr. Wright from Louisiana Tech will give his fourth lesson in flower arrangement; Thursday, Mrs. Harry Seffers from Baskin, Louisiana, will show you how to make a different kind of doll: Friday is Marketing Day with Mildred and Mammy.

See you next Sunday.

PATTERN M221

by Philip Hulitar

PROMINENT DESIGNER—Never, but never does Phillip Hulitar design "background" dresses. You couldn't possibly stay in the background in Pattern M221! Simple though it is, every line is exquisitely molded to do the most for your figure. That's the Hulitar genuis—the great flair for allure and excitement of this fabulously successful American designer. With a care-free hand, he draws a dashing high-flying collar on a slender buttoned to the waist. He subtly elongates the line by setting the pocket low on your hip, and curving it 'round to the back. The total effect? If you've always wanted a "Venus" look—this beautifully balanced silhouette does the trick! Choose a gleaming silk crepe, crisp faile or taffeta— and make this Hulitar Original your very own!

Pattern M221 is available in Misses' Sizes 10 ,12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 16 requires 3⅛ yards 39-inch fabric.

MEETING CHANGED

VIDALIA, Dec. 17 (Special) — The December meeting of the Concordia parish police jury has been re-scheduled for Wednesday.

It was originally set for December 28, but was changed because of the Christmas holidays.

Best Exposure For Winter Blossoms

To enjoy the winter blossoms of such shrubs as camellias, winter sweet (Meratia), sweet breath of spring (Lonicera fragrantissima) and corylopsis, we must give these plants as perfect an exposure as we can. For winter bloomers like these, the best exposure is away from the cold northwest winds that bring in our cold spells in this part of the world. An L-shaped house is perfect for this purpose, but not all of us can provide this happy situation and must place a choice camellia against an east or south-facing wall. If it is not near the windy corner, the buds and blossoms will get the maximum of wind protection.

There is another factor to be taken into account, too, in the search for the perfect winter exposure. After a shrub has been frozen during the night, the sudden full sun with which we are blessed during so many days in winter in the South may thaw out flower buds too quickly at the bases of their stems and cause them to drop off. If some light shade can be provided like the part shade of a pine tree, buds and flowers will thaw out gradually, and many will be saved. Camellias are actually woodland shrubs in China where they are native. They like the setting of high shade trees over them, and tall pines are just the thing. If no such partial shade is possible on your place, than a lath and tobacco cloth form can be made that may be erected during the camellia season and set up over your favorite bush. This cover will repay your efforts amply with many a blossom in January and February and March.

There is nothing better than pine straw or excelsior for the protection of any small plants in the perennial border or in the garden. Pine straw is light and will create a little green house over tender plants during the few cold weeks ahead. Although your Christmas rose (Helleborus) will flower without covering, the flowers will keep better away from those bright sun rays that strike them on frosty mornings. If pine straw encourages mice or rats, it can be removed when warmer weather comes. However, it will hold down the winter weeds like chickweed and it will last on the garden as a summer mulch for a year or two before it decays. The humus into which this natural product finally turns is soft and good for the soil.

Those gift bulbs that people give you for Christmas should be set fairly deep in the ground and then mulched with from six inches to a foot of leaves or pine straw. The mulch can be left on until the daffodils or tulips are found to be on their way up and have grown an inch or two above the surface of the soil. Then all of the mulch can be removed but an inch or two.

OPERATION

KAWACHI, Japan, Dec. 16 (AP)—The famed 1,145-year-old wooden temple statue of Buddha here suffered a bit of unscheduled surgery. Thieves removed two of its six hands.

Social Security Agent Will Tour Northeast Area

A representative of the Monroe office of Social Security will visit towns in northeast Louisiana in January, February and March to accept claims from persons in this section, J. Dodd Brooks, district manager, announced Friday.

Those who wish to file claims are asked to contact the representative on the days he is scheduled to be in the nearest town.

Also, the announcement stated, any worker can apply for an account number card, check on his record of wage credits as well as obtain information about Old Age and Survivors Insurance.

The representative's itinerary includes these 12 towns:

Bastrop at 10 a.m. on January 9, 16, 23, and 30, February 6, 13, 20 and 27, and on March 5, 12, 19, and 26, at the Department of Public Welfare.

Census Slated For Crossett

CROSSETT, Ark., Dec. 17 (Special) — Ben D. Smith, special census supervisor for the bureau of the census, arrived in Crossett this week and has recruited and trained a special staff of 12 enumerators to take the federal census in Crossett.

Purpose of the census is to obtain the latest count of residents which will make Crossett eligible for a greater share of state turnback funds allocated on the basis of population.

City officials and local Chamber of Commerce representatives have estimated the present population of Crossett at 6,000. Last official census taken on April 1, 1950, gave the city 4,619.

Movie Producers

HOLLYWOOD, December 17 — I don't claim to be any great shakes at writing, but I do take a fling at it now and then. And in choosing movie producers as my subject, I'd like to single out one individual, —Aaron Rosenberg, because I often have worked with him. A motion picture producer, as I see them, and their duties, has such virtues as a fine sense of story values, working knowledge of all departments of filming, keen judgement of public tastes in entertainment and ability to choose the right actor for each role.

But there is another item—the newest, probably—a sturdy set of luggage. Producers nowadays are also travelers. Backgrounds, you know—authentic backgrounds, and the producer goes places in search of these.

Out at Universal-International, a studio whose annual financial report makes it a stockholder's darling, a wide-shouldered individual still bearing a few marks of distinguished service on the football fields of 20 years ago, is traveling proof that a producer's path to fame has now assumed worldwide proportions.

Aaron Rosenberg, the gentleman in question, recently packed his sturdy set of luggage for a flying trip to Turkey to arrange for location filming of "Ataturk," one of the biggest productions on the 1956 calendar. Telling the life of the man who has been called "the father of modern Turkey," the film will be shot against backgrounds in Istanbul, Ankara and Galipoli. Producer Rosenberg spent three weeks there to make the necessary arrangements.

"This will be the first of several visits to Turkey for me," he told me. "I'll probably be back there for the actual filming and after that, for the world premiere."

Rosenberg's travels were confined to such pigskin capitals as South Bend, Ind., Chicago's Soldier Field and Pasadena's Rose Bowl. As running guard on the great University of Southern California teams of that era, Aaron won All-American honors in both 1931 and 1932. Even before this football fame earned him a job in the movie business, Rosenberg had selected films as a future. That was in 1928 when, as a high school junior, he doubled for Jackie Oakie as a football player in "Sweeties."

In 1934 he began a career in motion pictures as second assistant director to Allan Dwan at Fox Films, was elevated to the rank of first assistant in 1942, became an associate producer on Marjorie Main's "Feudin', Fussin' and A-Fightin'" in 1948, and finally achieved the status of full-fledged producer—and began his filmaking Odyssey—with a trek to San Francisco for "Johnny Stool Piegon," which starred Howard Duff, Shelly Winters and Dan Duryea.

Since then he has logged an estimated 100,000 miles in the interests of his producing chores. He has clomped across the icy waters of the American continent's largest glacier in Alberta, Canada, to set up filming of "The Far Country," starring James Stewart; invaded the hottest place in the United States, Furnace Creek Inn in Death Valley, for "Cattle Drive," as Joel McCrea starrer; and rode the chair lift up Mt. Hood, Oregon, to arrange for location work on another Jimmy Stewart film, "Bend of the River."

He has borrowed vanqueors from Mexico to participate in riding scenes for a western filmed near the border in Southern Arizona; borrowed a jet air acrobatic team from the U. S. Air Force; even got his cameras into two prisons for movie scenes. He sailed the Pacific off San Francisco with the tuna fleet, rode the shrimp boats in the Gulf of Mexico, climbed the mountains around Lake Louise at Banff, Alberta, Canada.

Briefly, here's a chronological report of the roving Mr. Rosenberg, which begins with a trio of trips to prison—to San Francisco's Alcatraz for "Johnny Stool Pigeon," California's Tehachapi Prison for Women for "The Story of Molly X," and Pennsylvania's State Prison at Philadelphia for "Outside the Wall."

Next came Tucson, Arizona, for "Winchester 73," Williams Air Force Base, Phoenix, and Randolph Field, San Antonio, for "Air Cadet," San Francisco fishing fleet ("The Raging Tide"), Fort Eustis, Virginia ("Red Ball Express"), Portland, Ore. ("Bend of the River"), Fairbanks, Alaska ("The World In His Arms"), Morgan City, La. ("Thunder Bay"), Denver and Lowry Air Force Base ("The Glenn Miller Story"), Boston ("Six Bridges To Cross"), Apple Valley, Calif. ("Foxfire"), Yakima Army Firing Center, Wash. ("To Hell and Back"), Jersey City, N. J. ("World In My Corner"), finally back again to Tucson for "Backlash."

Of the 27 films Rosenberg has produced for Universal-International, 22 of them were filmed on location.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

It Isn't Too Late To Organize Your Christmas Shopping

I feel like a race horse at the beginning of the last stretch. I will be off tomorrow when the alarm clock rings and try to win by the 25th. What about you?

Perhaps you are one of those I always plan to be, but never am, one who has finished her Christmas shopping early. From the crowds in stores I judge I have plenty of company in my sad state.

Although the inclination is to dash madly about, or just start running, actually that is the worst possible thing to do in such an emergency. The thing to do now is to sit down quietly and think.

Get a pencil and paper and give some thought to what the ones you still have to buy for would enjoy. After that jot down the names of the stores in which you are apt to find these articles. Then call the stores to see if they have them.

Chart Your Course

Next, you can make a list of what you are going to look at in each store and chart your course so that you will not backtrack. I am an old master at this art, and believe me, it will save you much wear and tear. You also will finish with more acceptable gifts for your friends and relatives. Otherwise you will come up with the weirdest assortment!

There is such lovely variety in cosmetics and perfumes which every woman would enjoy. And there are little luxury items in this category which many women feel that they cannot afford as a daily habit.

I think, too, that many people make Christmas shopping difficult by forgetting books and flowers as gifts. If your victim loves to read and you know his taste in books you have a cinch. However, this is dangerous business if you do not know what kind of books he enjoys.

There is nothing more heartwarming than having a lovely bouquet or plant arrive at your door on Christmas Eve.

Of course, if a man or woman is gadget-minded, what you can do TO or FOR him or her is astonishing!

THE LITTLE DANCING CLASS

Tap Dancing--A Yankee Doodle Boy—6

Tap dancing is fun to do and fun to watch.

The dancer has metal attachments on his shoes which make a tapping sound as he dances. Tap dances are lively and vigorous, with the arms swinging and every muscle brought into action.

Here's a lively little boy ready to dance. Paste the picture on cardboard and color with crayons.

The clouds on the base are white, the sky deep blue and the stars yellow.

Cut out the parts carefully. Attach the arms behind the shoulders with brass fasteners or bent pins through the indicated holes. Now the Yankee Doodle Boy can take off his hat and put it on again and he can swing his cane up and down.

Fold the two ends forward on the dotted lines. Then he will stand up. Why not play with him now as you have tap-dance music on the radio or phonograph?

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Answer To Question No. 1

1. True. Several New York neurologists tested a group of persons — some of the group had brain tumors, some did not. Those persons were asked to hold out their arms, stick out their tongues, and close their eyes. Those without brain tumors soon stopped and asked what was the purpose. Those with tumors continued as long as they could. Another test was to change from writing "Zs" to writing rectangular figures. Those with healthy brains changed quickly and easily on command; the others changed slowly and with difficulty, according to "Science Service."

Answer To Question No. 2

2. No, somebody has taught them to be afraid, or else the fear is due to an accident. Most psychologists believe all fears but two —fear of loud noise and of falling when unsupported — are about 90 per cent learned. When children hear parents talk about fearing dogs, dangers of sharks, alligators, snakes, etc., they are building up a whole network of fears in the child's mind. Our booklet, "The Conquest of Fear," is a sure guide to helping you overcome your fears. Nonprofit, 15 cents (coin only) and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Answer To Question No. 3

3. There are two schools of thought on this — male and female. Both history and modern experiment show the male to be the noisiest sleeper. His organs for producing sounds are much larger and more sonorous, especially his soft palate, which is vibrated by his powerful inhalations and exhalations — adding to the peace and profit of his slumbers, but causing general commotion in the community.

Why don't you let go?

Are you tense — edgy — losing sleep? How To Relax booklet will give you a new lease on life. Send 25 cents (coin only) and self-addressed, stamped envelope (name city and state) to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, c-o this newspaper.

Concordia School Election Jan. 3

VIDALIA, Dec. 17 (Special) — Although all qualified property owners who are residents of Concordia parish are eligible to vote in the January 3 school tax election, only 14 per cent of the taxes voted will actually be paid by Concordia parish residents.

This figure was computed by Hugh A. Bateman, parish superintendent of education, from records in the office of the parish tax assessor.

The Concordia parish school board is asking the taxpayers to extend for 10 years the three mill-tax for school maintenance in operation, which will expire at the end of the year, and in addition to vote for 10 years an additional five - mill tax for maintenance operation, capital outlay, repair replacement of equipment, health and sanitation.

A total of 69.4 per cent of the taxes paid in Concordia parish are paid by non - residents, according to figures released by Bateman, and this figure would be applicable to the proposed school taxes.

Residents are assessed for 30.6 per cent of the taxes, but of this amount 16.6 per cent will be paid by the state through the homestead exemption act.

Bateman, in urging voters to support the taxes, states that for every $100 in tax money that comes in, local people would only have to put up $14.

Additional funds are made necessary by increase in enrollments and decrease in state funds available to Concordia parish.

Movie Producers

HOLLYWOOD, December 17 — I don't claim to be any great shakes at writing, but I do take a fling at it now and then. And in choosing movie producers as my subject, I'd like to single out one individual, —Aaron Rosenberg, because I often have worked with him. A motion picture producer, as I see them, and their duties, has such virtues as a fine sense of story values, working knowledge of all departments of filming, keen judgement of public tastes in entertainment and ability to choose the right actor for each role.

But there is another item—the newest, probably—a sturdy set of luggage. Producers nowadays are also travelers. Backgrounds, you know—authentic backgrounds, and the producer goes places in search of these.

Out at Universal-International, a studio whose annual financial report makes it a stockholder's darling, a wide-shouldered individual still bearing a few marks of distinguished service on the football fields of 20 years ago, is traveling proof that a producer's path to fame has now assumed worldwide proportions.

Aaron Rosenberg, the gentleman in question, recently packed his sturdy set of luggage for a flying trip to Turkey to arrange for location filming of "Ataturk," one of the biggest productions on the 1956 calendar. Telling the life of the man who has been called "the father of modern Turkey," the film will be shot against backgrounds in Istanbul, Ankara and Galipoli. Producer Rosenberg spent three weeks there to make the necessary arrangements.

"This will be the first of several visits to Turkey for me," he told me. "I'll probably be back there for the actual filming and after that, for the world premiere."

Rosenberg's travels were confined to such pigskin capitals as South Bend, Ind., Chicago's Soldier Field and Pasadena's Rose Bowl. As running guard on the great University of Southern California teams of that era, Aaron won All-American honors in both 1931 and 1932. Even before this football fame earned him a job in the movie business, Rosenberg had selected films as a future. That was in 1928 when, as a high school junior, he doubled for Jackie Oakie as a football player in "Sweeties."

In 1934 he began a career in motion pictures as second assistant director to Allan Dwan at Fox Films, was elevated to the rank of first assistant in 1942, became an associate producer on Marjorie Main's "Feudin', Fussin' and A-Fightin'" in 1948, and finally achieved the status of full-fledged producer—and began his filmaking Odyssey—with a trek to San Francisco for "Johnny Stool Piegon," which starred Howard Duff, Shelly Winters and Dan Duryea.

Since then he has logged an estimated 100,000 miles in the interests of his producing chores. He has clomped across the icy waters of the American continent's largest glacier in Alberta, Canada, to set up filming of "The Far Country," starring James Stewart; invaded the hottest place in the United States, Furnace Creek Inn in Death Valley, for "Cattle Drive," as Joel McCrea starrer; and rode the chair lift up Mt. Hood, Oregon, to arrange for location work on another Jimmy Stewart film, "Bend of the River."

He has borrowed vanqueors from Mexico to participate in riding scenes for a western filmed near the border in Southern Arizona; borrowed a jet air acrobatic team from the U. S. Air Force; even got his cameras into two prisons for movie scenes. He sailed the Pacific off San Francisco with the tuna fleet, rode the shrimp boats in the Gulf of Mexico, climbed the mountains around Lake Louise at Banff, Alberta, Canada.

Briefly, here's a chronological report of the roving Mr. Rosenberg, which begins with a trio of trips to prison—to San Francisco's Alcatraz for "Johnny Stool Pigeon," California's Tehachapi Prison for Women for "The Story of Molly X," and Pennsylvania's State Prison at Philadelphia for "Outside the Wall."

Next came Tucson, Arizona, for "Winchester 73," Williams Air Force Base, Phoenix, and Randolph Field, San Antonio, for "Air Cadet," San Francisco fishing fleet ("The Raging Tide"), Fort Eustis, Virginia ("Red Ball Express"), Portland, Ore. ("Bend of the River"), Fairbanks, Alaska ("The World In His Arms") Morgan City, La. ("Thunder Bay"), Denver and Lowry Air Force Base ("The Glenn Miller Story"), Boston ("Six Bridges To Cross"), Apple Valley, Calif. ("Foxfire"), Yakima Army Firing Center, Wash. ("To Hell and Back"), Jersey City, N. J. ("World In My Corner"), finally back again to Tucson for "Backlash."

Of the 27 films Rosenberg has produced for Universal-International, 22 of them were filmed on location.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

It Isn't Too Late To Organize Your Christmas Shopping

I feel like a race horse at the beginning of the last stretch. I will be off tomorrow when the alarm clock rings and try to win by the 25th. What about you?

Perhaps you are one of those I always plan to be, but never am, one who has finished her Christmas shopping early. From the crowds in stores I judge I have plenty of company in my sad state.

Although the inclination is to dash madly about, or just start running, actually that is the worst possible thing to do in such an emergency. The thing to do now is to sit down quietly and think.

Get a pencil and paper and give some thought to what the ones you still have to buy for would enjoy. After that jot down the names of the stores in which you are apt to find these articles. Then call the stores to see if they have them.

Chart Your Course

Next, you can make a list of what you are going to look at in each store and chart your course so that you will not backtrack. I am an old master at this art, and believe me, it will save you much wear and tear. You also will finish with more acceptable gifts for your friends and relatives. Otherwise you will come up with the weirdest assortment!

There is such lovely variety in cosmetics and perfumes which every woman would enjoy. And there are little luxury items in this category which many women feel that they cannot afford as a daily habit.

I think, too, that many people make Christmas shopping difficult by forgetting books and flowers as gifts. If your victim loves to read and you know his taste in books you have a cinch. However, this is dangerous business if you do not know what kind of books he enjoys.

There is nothing more heartwarming than having a lovely bouquet or plant arrive at your door on Christmas Eve.

Of course, if a man or woman is gadget-minded, what you can do TO or FOR him or her is astonishing!

THE LITTLE DANCING CLASS

Tap Dancing--A Yankee Doodle Boy—8

Tap dancing is fun to do and fun to watch.

The dancer has metal attachments on his shoes which make a tapping sound as he dances. Tap dances are lively and vigorous, with the arms swinging and every muscle brought into action.

Here's a lively little boy ready to dance. Paste the picture on cardboard and color with crayons.

This little boy wears red and white striped trousers, a red vest, bright blue jacket sprinkled with white stars. The hat is white and the cane has a gold head.

The clouds on the base are white, the sky deep blue and the stars yellow.

Cut out the parts carefully. Attach the arms behind the shoulders with brass fasteners or bent pins through the indicated holes. Now the Yankee Doodle Boy can take off his hat and put it on again and he can swing his cane up and down.

Fold the two ends forward on the dotted lines. Then he will stand up. Why not play with him now as you have tap-dance music on the radio or phonograph?

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Answer To Question No. 1

1. True. Several New York neurologists tested a group of persons — some of the group had brain tumors, some did not. Those persons were asked to hold out their arms, stick out their tongues, and close their eyes. Those without brain tumors soon stopped and asked what was the purpose. Those with tumors continued as long as they could. Another test was to change from writing "Zs" to writing rectangular figures. Those with healthy brains changed quickly and easily on command; the others changed slowly and with difficulty, according to "Science Service."

Answer To Question No. 2

2. No, somebody has taught them to be afraid, or else the fear is due to an accident. Most psychologists believe all fears but two —fear of loud noise and of falling when unsupported — are about 90 per cent learned. When children hear parents talk about fearing dogs, dangers of sharks, alligators, snakes, etc., they are building up a whole network of fears in the child's mind. Our booklet, "The Conquest of Fear," is a sure guide to helping you overcome your fears. Nonprofit. 15 cents (coin only) and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Answer To Question No. 3

3. There are two schools of thought on this — male and female. Both history and modern experiment show the male to be the noisiest sleeper. His organs for producing sounds are much larger and more sonorous, especially his soft palate, which is vibrated by his powerful inhalations and exhalations — adding to the peace and profit of his slumbers, but causing general commotion in the community.

Why don't you let go?

Are you tense — edgy — losing sleep? How To Relax booklet will give you a new lease on life. Send 25 cents (coin only) and self-addressed, stamped envelope (name city and state) to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, c-o this newspaper.

Concordia School Election Jan. 3

VIDALIA, Dec. 17 (Special) — Although all qualified property owners who are residents of Concordia parish are eligible to vote in the January 3 school tax election, only 14 per cent of the taxes voted will actually be paid by Concordia parish residents.

This figure was computed by Hugh A. Bateman, parish superintendent of education, from records in the office of the parish tax assessor.

The Concordia parish school board is asking the taxpayers to extend for 10 years the three mill-tax for school maintenance in operation, which will expire at the end of the year, and in addition to vote for 10 years an additional five - mill tax for maintenance operation, capital outlay, repair replacement of equipment, health and sanitation.

A total of 69.4 per cent of the taxes paid in Concordia parish are paid by non - residents, according to figures released by Bateman, and this figure would be applicable to the proposed school taxes.

Residents are assessed for 30.6 per cent of the taxes, but of this amount 16.6 per cent will be paid by the state through the homestead exemption act.

Bateman, in urging voters to support the taxes, states that for every $100 in tax money that comes in, local people would only have to put up $14.

Additional funds are made necessary by increase in enrollments and decrease in state funds available to Concordia parish.

Aldo Ray Will Star In Post-War Story Of Japan

The completely different, unusual and unusually powerful true story of a hard - bitten professional soldier who had learned to hate the Japanese after fighting them in the Pacific, and his transformation into a man of compassion by his love for a girl in a pink kimono, has been brought to the screen of the Jim Theatre in Columbia Pictures' startling new romantic adventure, "Three Stripes in the Sun." Starring Aldo Ray, Phil Carey and Dick York and introducing beautiful Japanese actress Mitsuko Kimura, "Three Stripes in the Sun" is a film that glows with deep insight into the human heart.

Based on a magazine article that startled two worlds, "Three Stripes in the Sun" is the true story, ribtickling and heart - tingling by turns, of Master Sergeant Hugh O'Reilly who wanted to keep on fighting the war that was over for years, when he was ordered to Japan and the American Army of Occupation.

As portrayed by Also Ray, Sgt. O'Reilly meets the lovely Miss Kimura, who works as an Army translator, and gradually finds himself fighting a stubborn rear-guard action against falling in love with her. His rout is completed, hiwever, when the tough sergeant proves a sucker for Japanese orphans leading a half-starved existence in cold and leaky hovels. The sergeant ceases to be a stiff-necked soldier and becomes a human being. He talks the members of his regiment, the famed "Wolfhounds," into contributing to the orphanage, slyly diverts food to the youngsters and, with the approval and cooperation of his colonel, undertakes building a new orphanage.

But it isn't easy for the sergeant to eradicate all his deep-seated hatred for the Japanese. Remnants lurk in the dark like a devil to plague him; they flare up when he sees Miss Kimura with a Japanese escort at the charity ball game he himself has organized for the orphanage. Spurred by an insane jealousy, he blurts out a vicious slur upon the Japanese which leads to the lovers' estrangement. It is only later, with new insight into himself afforded by a buddy, played by Dick York, and the colonel, played by star Phil Carey, that the sergeant discovers he can be a whole and compassionate human being; the transformation brings to gether the American G.I. and the Japanese girl.

The bidding:

West, 1 heart; North, 2 clubs; East, pass; South, 2 no trump.

West, pass; North, 3 no trump; East, pass; South, pass.

West, pass.

Opening lead: Ten of diamonds.

When an adversary opens the bidding, it is reasonable to presume that outstanding cards are held by him. That does not, however, mean that the location of these cards should be taken for granted if there is a safer method for declarer to attain his ends.

West's opening bid is accepted modern procedure. North chose to make a mere overcall instead of doubling, because he felt that if South were unable to take voluntary action there would be no game available for his side. South, though he held a sound club raise, thought it preferable to bid two no trump because game in clubs appeared too remote. North, holding the queen of hearts as an additional stopper in that suit, cheerfully proceeded to game.

The ten of diamonds was opened and declarer took it for granted that West held the king. He played low from dummy and East won. The deuce of hearts was returned and the suit established by the defense before the ace of clubs was dislodged. Declarer was unable to bring home nine tricks in time.

While it is true that the king of diamonds was probably in the hand of the opening bidder, it was by no means a certainty. The proper play to the first trick is the ace of diamonds. If West has the king, he'll have it a minute or two later and when he is in, will be unable to safely lead hearts.

After the ace of diamonds is taken, the clubs are cleared at once and West will continue diamonds. East will win the king and return a heart. Derlarer will take this, and now he can be reasonably sure that West holds the king of spades as part of his opening bid, inasmuch as he lacked the king of diamonds. If he is not now content in running his nine tricks, he may go for overtricks by trying the spade finesse. When the king drops on the second round, the rest of the tricks are his.

But at trick one it was vital for declarer not to risk the loss of a valuable time unit.

Screen Play by RICHARD MURPHY • Based on the New Yorker magazine article "The Gentle Warlords" by E. L. Katz, Jr.
Produced by FRED KOHLMAR • Directed by RICHARD MURPHY

'Good Morning Miss Dove' At Paramount Christmas

"Good Morning, Miss Dove," Frances Gray Patton's popular novel about a stern schoolmarm in a small New England town, who influenced the lives of a generation of the townspeople, has been translated into a heart - warming motion picture by Twentieth Century-Fox. Jennifer Jones stars in the title role with Robert Stack as her co-star in this CinemaScope DeLuxe color production which will have its local premiere on Christmas day at the Paramount Theatre.

Producer Samuel G. Engel, Henry Koster, director, and Eleanore Griffin, scenarist, the same trio that recently collaborated on "A Man Called Peter," combined their talents on "Good Morning, Miss Dove" and managed to capture a similar appeal in this new screen masterpiece by blending deep emotion, rich color and action into a dramatic structure with strong human interest.

There are smiles and tears aplenty in this screen adaptation of the "Miss Dove" stories that have appeared in magazines at intervals during the last 12 years. The life of Miss Dove, who kept her own passions and compassionate nature hidden under the rather severe exterior she believed necessary for the proper instruction of her pupils, motivates the deeply - moving screen story with a tender sympathy. In one way and another she affects the lives of nearly every living person in the small town. When a great crisis cracks the austere face she presents to the world, it permits her former pupils to demonstrate their gratitude and respect.

In her characterization of this remarkable schoolteacher, Jennifer Jones displayed the versatility that has kept her in the top rank of Hollywood stars. In the course of the picture's many flashback scenes she plays Miss Dove at the ages of 20, 35, 45, and 55. Her portrayal of the "terrible Miss Dove" already has been hailed as worthy of consideration for an Academy Award for the year's best actress.

Good Morning, Miss Dove" also introduces pretty, redheaded Kipp Hamilton in her first Twentieth Century - Fox picture following her signing of a long - term contract with the studio. She plays the role of the young wife of Robert Stack, a rising young doctor in the small town over which Miss Dove presided from her geography classroom with compassionate understanding and a firm hand.

German Sailors Want 'Culture'

BREMEN, Germany, Dec. 16—UP—The Bremen Ladies Committee has protested against plans to establish an "amusement center" for sailors in this port city.

The committee charged the business men wanted the "amusement ghetto,," which would include brothels, and that the sailors didn't want it.

"Sailors are much more interested in cultural activities and congenial society," the ladies committee said.

As portrayed by Also Ray, Sgt. O'Reilly meets the lovely Miss Kimura, who works as an Army translator, and gradually finds himself fighting a stubborn rear-guard action against falling in love with her. His rout is completed, however, when the tough sergeant proves a sucker for Japanese orphans leading a half-starved existence in cold and leaky hovels. The sergeant ceases to be a stiff-necked soldier and becomes a human being. He talks the members of his regiment, the famed "Wolfhounds," into contributing to the orphanage, slyly diverts food to the youngsters and, with the approval and cooperation of his colonel, undertakes building a new orphanage.

But it isn't easy for the sergeant to eradicate all his deep-seated hatred for the Japanese. Remnants lurk in the dark like a devil to plague him; they flare up when he sees Miss Kimura with a Japanese escort at the charity ball game he himself has organized for the orphanage. Spurred by an insane jealousy, he blurts out a vicious slur upon the Japanese which leads to the lovers' estrangement. It is only later, with new insight into himself afforded by a buddy, played by Dick York, and the colonel, played by star Phil Carey, that the sergeant discovers he can be a whole and compassionate human being; the transformation brings together the American G.I. and the Japanese girl.

The bidding:

West, 1 heart; North, 2 clubs; East, pass; South, 2 no trump.

West, pass; North, 3 no trump; East, pass; South, pass.

West, pass.

Opening lead: Ten of diamonds.

When an adversary opens the bidding, it is reasonable to presume that outstanding cards are held by him. That does not, however, mean that the location of these cards should be taken for granted if there is a safer method for declarer to attain his ends.

West's opening bid is accepted modern procedure. North chose to make a mere overcall instead of doubling, because he felt that if South were unable to take voluntary action there would be no game available for his side. South, though he held a sound club raise, thought it preferable to bid two no trump because game in clubs appeared too remote. North, holding the queen of hearts as an additional stopper in that suit, cheerfully proceeded to game.

The ten of diamonds was opened and declarer took it for granted that West held the king. He played low from dummy and East won. The deuce of hearts was returned and the suit established by the defense before the ace of clubs was dislodged. Declarer was unable to bring home nine tricks in time.

While it is true that the king of diamonds was probably in the hand of the opening bidder, it was by no means a certainty. The proper play to the first trick is the ace of diamonds. If West has the king, he'll have it a minute or two later and when he is in, will be unable to safely lead hearts.

After the ace of diamonds is taken, the clubs are cleared at once and West will continue diamonds. East will win the king and return a heart. Derlarer will take this, and now he can be reasonably sure that West holds the king of spades as part of his opening bid, inasmuch as he lacked the king of diamonds. If he is not now content in running his nine tricks, he may go for overtricks by trying the spade finesse. When the king drops on the second round, the rest of the tricks are his.

But at trick one it was vital for declarer not to risk the loss of a valuable time unit.

BALLOTS AVAILABLE

BATON ROUGE — UP — Secretary of State Wade Martin Jr. says that sample ballots are available to voters for reference before the Jan. 17 Democratic primary. Martin said parish clerks have copies of the ballot, duplicates of the ones to be used in voting machines, and they are available for inspection.

'Good Morning Miss Dove' At Paramount Christmas

"Good Morning, Miss Dove," Frances Gray Patton's popular novel about a stern schoolmarm in a small New England town, who influenced the lives of a generation of the townspeople, has been translated into a heart - warming motion picture by Twentieth Century-Fox. Jennifer Jones stars in the title role with Robert Stack as her co-star in this CinemaScope De-Luxe color production which will have its local premiere on Christmas day at the Paramount Theatre.

Producer Samuel G. Engel, Henry Koster, director, and Eleanore Griffin, scenarist, the same trio that recently collaborated on "A Man Called Peter," combined their talents on "Good Morning, Miss Dove" and managed to capture a similar appeal in this new screen masterpiece by blending deep emotion, rich color and action into a dramatic structure with strong human interest.

There are smiles and tears aplenty in this screen adaptation of the "Miss Dove" stories that have appeared in magazines at intervals during the last 12 years. The life of Miss Dove, who kept her own passions and compassionate nature hidden under the rather severe exterior she believed necessary for the proper instruction of her pupils, motivates the deeply - moving screen story with a tender sympathy. In one way and another she affects the lives of nearly every living person in the small town. When a great crisis cracks the austere face she presents to the world, it permits her former pupils to demonstrate their gratitude and respect.

In her characterization of this remarkable schoolteacher, Jennifer Jones displayed the versatility that has kept her in the top rank of Hollywood stars. In the course of the picture's many flashback scenes she plays Miss Dove at the ages of 20, 35, 45, and 55. Her portrayal of the "terrible Miss Dove" already has been hailed as worthy of consideration for an Academy Award for the year's best actress.

Good Morning, Miss Dove" also introduces pretty, redheaded Kipp Hamilton in her first Twentieth Century - Fox picture following her signing of a long - term contract with the studio. She plays the role of the young wife of Robert Stack, a rising young doctor in the small town over which Miss Dove presided from her geography classroom with compassionate understanding and a firm hand.

German Sailors Want 'Culture'

BREMEN, Germany, Dec. 16—UP—The Bremen Ladies Committee has protested against plans to establish an "amusement center" for sailors in this port city.

The committee charged the business men wanted the "amusement ghetto,," which would include brothels, and that the sailors didn't want it.

"Sailors are much more interested in cultural activities and congenial society," the ladies committee said.

FACE NARCOTICS SENTENCES

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., —UP—Two New Orleans men and a woman companion today faced prison sentences ranging from two to five years for illegal possession of narcotics. Feliz Espinoza, 25, was sentenced to five years in state prison; Harold Lagrande Jr., 37, four years; and Mary Lou Mitchell. 19, two years. A probation hearing has been set for Jan. 30 for Lagrande and Miss Mitchell. Espinoza, a second offender, is not eligible.

Davis Installed As Masonic Head

WINNSBORO, Dec. 17 (Special) —Herbert L. Davis, Jr., was installed as worshipful master of Winnsboro Lodge 246 F. and A. M. for the ensuing year. Installing officer was J. B. Sharpe of Rayville, grand lecturer of Louisiana.

Other officers installed at the public installation ceremonies were: Elmer Wilson, senior warden; James Lang, junior warden; Herman Netherland, treasurer; John Lee Kincaid, secretary; Lloyd Cupp, senior deacon; J. C. Slade, junior deacon; H. L. Davis, Sr., chaplain; Donnie E. Ellerman, tyler; Bonnie Hatch, master of ceremonies; William Stitt, marshall; Herbert Nevins, senior steward, and John Woods, junior steward.

Following the ceremonies a barbecued venison dinner was served to the master Masons and their guests.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL

Distrait Woman Finds Nursing Care Of Ailing Dad Too Much For Her

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My problem is my father, an invalid. I have three brothers; no sisters. Nearly three years ago, dad had a cerebal hemornhage while living with one of my married brothers. He already had a heart ailment, a disabled kidney, stomach trouble and other ills. The doctor didn't give him six months.

Later, my sister-in-law became worn out with his care, and they were going to put him in the county home. His only income is a small social security pension. I couldn't bear to think of his being turned out, with only six months to live—and we brought him to stay with us. That was over two years ago and the strain is getting me down.

He is almost blind and requires much physical care and waiting on. But he can hobble from one room to another, and I think the worst is having him witness practically everything I say and do—and question me about it. Also I find that young children and ailing old people just don't mix. Dad resents our children's demands on me; just as they resent his. They rub each other the wrong way—and I am in the middle, trying to conciliate . . .

Now my youngest brother is in the Army; the middle one's wife is mortally ill; and the eldest is alcoholic, so he and his family already have too many problems. There is a fine sanitorium near where dad grew up; and I think the wise thing, for all concerned, is to place him there, and share the cost of his upkeep. But I haven't the courage to suggest this to dad or my brothers.

When I tentatively mentioned the plan to my husband the other day, he seemed just short of horrified that I could "do such a thing to a good old man!" I was disappointed in his reaction. I had thought that at the first indication that the strain was too much for me, he would take matters into his own hands and make other arrangements. If I do muster courage to go through with the plan I am thinking about, how does one tell a poor helpless parent that one is tired of them, and can't stand them any longer? V.S.

Her Limitations Aren't Her Fault

DEAR V.S.: Your attitude towards all concerned is notably kind and understanding. You are a warmly compassionate person, obviously; and the problem on your side of the fence is that your sympathies outstrip your powers of endurance and adaptability, as you try to cope with your father's needs.

Now you are breaking down on the job, beginning to crumble physically and nervously; and you are feeling guilty about your involuntary protest-reactions—which heaven knows are not your "fault." As well blame your father for being half blind, with a heart ailment, disabled kidney, etc., as blame you for being unable to tolerate the present load much longer.

You loyally explain (in your long letter here condensed) that your husband is so immersed in building up a business, and spends so many hours away from home, that he doesn't know what the domestic routine with your dad is like. I can believe that. His superficial sentimental rejoinder to your appeal for help makes that painfully clear. His comment sounds good—when he asks in horror how you could "hurt" a "good old man"—but he isn't really closely interested in how you are faring. And when I say "you" I include the children and your father also.

Get Guidance From Experts

Because you need sound psychological support in planning the mutually fair and decent solution of the conflict of interests, I advise you to go into the story with the Family Service (so-called) in the city through which you write. This agency covers the city and county; and if your residence is outside the boundaries, nevertheless you'll meet with cooperative suggestions there.

It is my impression that experts in family relationships, taught by much experience, favor impersonal but first-rate "nursing home" care for the ailing elderly—as being more congenial, over all, than fifth wheel involvement in a hard-pressed household of small children. M.H.

I'M WHAT IS LAUGHINGLY CALLED YOUR FINANCIAL ADVISOR, NOT ONE OF YOUR LOVESICK ADMIRERS

—AND I'M TELLING YOU SAVANNAH GAY IS BROKE

MILTON CANIFF

WHO'S BROKE? I CAN GET THE TOP SALARY FROM ANY STUDIO IN HOLLYWOOD!

SURE YOU CAN, SAVANNAH, BUT SINCE THE LAST TIME YOU WORKED YOU'VE BEEN LIVING IT UP ALL OVER THE WORLD

YOU'VE SPENT THE INCOME FROM YOUR LAST PICTURE—NOW UNCLE SUGAR WANTS HIS TAX MONEY!

...AND THERE ISN'T A COMPANY READY OR WILLING TO GIVE YOU A JOB!

IF THE INTERNAL REVENUE BOYS SLAP A TAX LIEN ON YOU YOUR PRICE PER PICTURE WILL GO DOWN BECAUSE THE STUDIOS WILL KNOW YOU NEED THE DOUGH!

ONE OF THE REASONS I HATE YOU IS THAT YOU'RE ALWAYS RIGHT! —GO ON!

IF WE CAN FIND SOME FRESH MONEY AND FORM A PRODUCTION COMPANY FOR A SINGLE PICTURE IT SHOULD MAKE YOU WELL!

...ANY SUGGESTIONS THAT WILL KEEP THE BRUISES TO A MINIMUM?

THERE IS AN OLD BOY IN TOWN WHO STRUCK URANIUM ON HIS LAND OUT WEST...

I MARKED HIM BECAUSE HE TRANSPORTED SOME NATIONALIST CHINESE BACK HERE JUST TO SHOW THEM THE SIGHTS!

HMM-M-M! WELL, WHAT MUST I DO FOR MY ART?

THIS IS MY PLAN! THE FOXY GRANDPA TYPE IS NUTS ABOUT HORSES...

SO IT COMES TO PASS —— PURELY BY COINCIDENCE—THAT WHEN STEVE IS DOWNTOWN EXPLAINING ASIATIC BEHAVIOR TO THE POLICE BRASS...

...HAPPY AND HIS HOOLIGANS ARE GOING FOR THEIR RIDE IN THE PARK!...SAVANNAH GAY IS WAITING AT A POINT AHEAD ON THE BRIDLE PATH...

...AND HER FINANCIAL ADVISOR IS NEARBY, WAITING TO BACKFIRE HIS ENGINE AND 'FRIGHTEN' HER HORSE...

IT HAPPENS EVERY WINTER, DANG IT! PEOPLE I HARDLY KNOW COME TO FLORIDA AND DROP IN ON ME. SOMETIMES THEY STAY FOR WEEKS.

HA, HA! THEY DON'T BOTHER OLD ROSCO SWEENEY. I GOT ME A SYSTEM.

A SYSTEM ?

YES, SIREE! A MILLION-DOLLAR SYSTEM. SUCH PEOPLE ALWAYS ASK AT A FILLING STATION WHERE YOU LIVE. SO I'VE MADE A DEAL WITH THE FILLING STATION BOYS TO WARN ME THEY'RE COMING. THEN I CLEAR OUT.

PRETTY SMART, EH, LEFTY ?

YEAH, HE CLEARS OUT.

HIDY, FRIEND. CAN YOU TELL US HOW TO GET TO ROSCO SWEENEY'S PLACE ?

HMMM. TOURISTS, EH ?

COUPLE OF TOURISTS, SWEENEY. THEY'RE ON THEIR WAY.

QUICK, LUCILLE! WINTER VISITORS!

WHY DO THEY ALWAYS COME JUST AT SUPPER TIME ?

THEY'RE STILL THERE. WHAT DO YOU SUPPOSE THEY'RE DOING ?

WAITING FOR US TO COME HOME AND FEED 'EM, BUT--- HA, HA— WE'LL SHOW 'EM.

MORNING.

THE COAST IS CLEAR, ROSCO. THEY'VE GONE.

NIGHT AT DIANA'S HOUSE~

IN YOU GO, DEVIL~SHH-BE QUIET~ IT'S LATE~WE MUSTN'T WAKE UP THE HOUSE~~

THE DOOR~~OPEN AS ALWAYS WHEN I'M NOT HERE. WON'T DIANA BE SURPRISED IN THE MORNING WHEN SHE FINDS IT CLOSED~AND KNOWS I'M HERE?

GRANDPA'S IDEA OF CHOOSING A HUSBAND FOR DIANA IS SILLY.

NOW, DAVE~IT'S WORKING! DIANA SEEMED INTERESTED IN MISTER M. BARTON. MAYBE SHE'LL FORGET THAT MASKED~OH~THE DOOR~ IT'S CLOSED!

HE'S~HERE! OF ALL TIMES!

SHH~DON'T AWAKEN HIM. HE PROBABLY HASN'T SLEPT FOR DAYS~OH~HE'S MOVING~

DIANA~ GONE?

YES~SHE WENT HUNTING, WITH HER GRANDFATHER AND A NICE YOUNG MAN WHOM WE HOPE SHE'LL MARRY!

WHERE DID THEY GO?

NEVER MIND! DIANA'S WAITED LONG ENOUGH! SHE'LL INHERIT HER GRAND-FATHER'S FORTUNE IF SHE MARRIES THIS MAN~AND BESIDES~

WILSON McCOY 12-18

THEY WENT TO COPPER-TOWN~IN THE ROCKIES.

THANKS, UNCLE DAVE, GOODBYE.

OH, DAVE! WHY DID YOU TELL HIM?

I AM YOUR NEW NEIGHBOR, AND I WONDER IF SOME OF YOU FOLKS WOULD MIND COMING OVER AND SITTING WITH ME FOR A WHILE?

MY WORD! ER-AH-- WHY, I MYSELF WILL BE DELIGHTED, MY DEAR.

I WOULDN'T TROUBLE YOU, BUT MY HUSBAND ISN'T HOME AND I CAN'T REACH HIM AT THE OFFICE.

I ASSURE YOU IT IS NO TROUBLE AT ALL.

THERE'S LOTS OF BURGLARIES JUST BEFORE THE HOLIDAYS AND I DON'T LIKE TO BE ALONE.

YES, ONE CAN'T HAVE TOO MUCH PROTECTION THESE DAYS... I WILL PHONE KAYO TO COME OVER, TOO.

KAYO, BRING YOUR POLICE WHISTLE OVER HERE AND IF YOU SEE ANY SUSPICIOUS CHARACTERS PROWLING ABOUT OUTSIDE, BLOW IT! THEN I WILL SWING INTO ACTION.

LOOK OUT FOR MY SILVER SERVICE.

OH MY! NOW WASN'T THAT CLUMSY OF ME!

TIM TYLER'S LUCK

BY LYMAN YOUNG and TOM MASON

YOU'RE LUCKY HOAGY PACKER PULLED YOU HALF-DROWNED FROM THE RIVER, SPUD—

BUT WHAT HAPPENED TO THE FELLER WHO HIT ME WITH THE OAR, TIM—

I LAST SAW HIM DISAPPEARING AROUND THE RIVER BEND IN HIS FLAT-BOTTOMED BOAT—

FLAPJACKS ARE READY, LADS—

I ALMOST FORGOT TO GIVE YOU THIS SEALED ENVELOPE, MR. PACKER— IT'S ADDRESSED TO YOU—

HM- AND WHO'D BE WRITIN' TO ME?

I FOUND IT IN THESE SECOND-HAND CLOTHES I BOUGHT AT THE VILLAGE TRADING POST UPSTREAM—

AND LATER A FAT MAN TRIED TO STEAL IT FROM SPUD... HE'S IN JAIL NOW—

FRIEND HOAGY: I'VE HAD A STRANGE DREAM, HOAGY— EXAMINE THE CREEK BED FOR GOLD AT THE NATURAL STONE BRIDGE FIVE MILES FROM YOUR SHACK— YOUR OLD PAL, CHARLEY HIX. P.S. BURT HEETER, THE WILD ANIMAL HUNTER, WILL DELIVER THIS LETTER TO YOU—

BUT WHAT HAPPENED TO BURT HEETER? IT MUST HAVE BEEN HIS OLD CLOTHES SPUD BOUGHT—

YES, AND THERE ARE OTHERS WHO KNOW ABOUT THE LETTER— THAT FAT MAN FOR ONE... AND MAYBE THE BOATMAN, TOO—
